BCS is a mission. It is a journey, initiated by MIT School of Government. Over the last decade we have been endeavouring to motivate youth to uplift the existing image of Indian politics, by bringing in cleaner, better informed and healthier practices into the system. It is indeed gratifying to see that our efforts have borne fruit and several of our alumni are working both at the grassroots and higher levels of politics in India and remain committed to the cause of creating a better India!

IMPORTANT NOTE

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is an apolitical platform on which student leaders from all ideologies - political, religious, sectarian or otherwise - assemble to voice their opinions. The effort is to sensitize the youth about the ideals of democracy by exposing them to varied views and opinions. The objective is also to sensitize them towards political processes with a view to bringing them into the political mainstream. The Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad also aims to provide a feedback to the government in order to help it formulate policies for the youth and other sectors, by ascertaining the pulse of the people through the medium of youth.

Thus, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is the perfect reflection of democracy in full function, irrespective of political, religious, sectarian or any other ideologies.

MIT School of Government, (MIT-SOG) Pune, was founded in 2005. It is the first of its kind to be set up in not only India but also Asia that imparts leadership training to educated youth of India desirous of making a career in Politics and Government. In last 15 years of successful operations we having trained hundreds of youth are proud to see many of our alumni holding important positions in public life. When we at MIT-SOG grow from strength to strength, we know that our political system too benefits, by getting an excellent pool of talent.

We expanded the canvas of MIT School of Government in 2011, by creating a separate platform and brought out classroom training to the thousands of common youth through the innovative platform, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. BCS represents a non-partisan and independent platform. Through its annual national conclave, the platform is transforming the outlook of thousands of youth and reaffirming their respect for politics, political leaders, democracy and its institutions.

VISION

To create most ethical, spirited and competent public leadership in the country, which will shape our policies, make our democracy vibrant and bridge the chasm between the way we are being governed today and the way we want to be governed.

MISSION

To initiate the very spirit of student politics in the youth of today and inculcate public spirited and socially sensitive values right during their formative years. We aim to raise the extent of sensitivity, awareness, involvement, responsiveness, access and say of youth in political and democratic processes so that a healthy democratic system is evolved. Such a system will then produce competent public leaders and policy makers, from the grassroots and from all walks of life.

I am elated today to see Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad celebrate its 12th year. The Great Noble Son of India Swami Vivekananda had said "Union of Science and Spirituality alone will bring peace to the mankind," and today my belief in these words has only grown stronger. All the student leaders who had assembled at the 12th year of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad from across the nation are partaking your Rashtra Dharma, as you are the initiators of new age India. You gathered to gain knowledge from the leaders and that shows your commitment to your country. You must have taken inspiration from these leaders and philosophers and subsequently you must spread this by motivating and encouraging your peers whom you will interact with later. Only then will your journey to Pune and attending the 12th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad will prove to be successful.

When our country mother India celebrates diamond jubilee, 75th Independence Day of India, I am only reminded of my own duty, and duty of BCS, and men who have great concern of making this country very unique country in this world. Perform your duty; duty towards mother, father and the family and the society, the nation and the whole world- Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. You are the hope and faith of thousands of Indians and if you who will bring in clean politics to India.

From this moment onwards we have to create new image for the India that we hope to see in the future. Through our continued and dedicated efforts we have to ensure that our country India emerges as a knowledge code of the world- Vishva Guru. I appeal to you to keep this word.

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student Parliament) – A Seed Thought

“The time is more relevant than ever for the educated youth to come forward to shoulder the responsibility of leadership in public life. Unfortunately, majority of them still shy away from politics. We have to change the picture.”

Rahul V. Karad

Founder Convener, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student Parliament)

The 12th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has given such an immense boost to my confidence in the youth of India. To see student leaders travel from various parts of the country, to engrossingly participate at this conclave for four days at MIT-WPU Campus, only expands my belief that the youth of India are leaving no stone unturned to elevate their faith, knowledge and confidence, and equipping themselves to take the reins of leadership when the occasion arrives.

I think that in the history of India, grooming the youth for future leadership roles and for assuming public life has never happened in such a unique, conscious and structured manner. When we started this concept of School of Government, the first School in the country to train future political leaders, people ridiculed us. Today I have contentment and the satisfaction that in the last 15 years in this country, MIT School of Government and Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad have played very important role in creating a national asset in the form of youth and you can all witness the journey having become a youth movement.

The MIT School of Government (MIT-SOG) was started with the strong belief that the educated youth with professional training could make an impact at the societal level by joining politics. We started the School at a time when politics was not looked up as a career choice. Now after 17 years of tireless efforts, our belief stands vindicated and MIT-SOG still remains as one of its kind in India and Asia, imparting Two Year, Full Time, Masters Program in Political Leadership & Government (MPG), a professional program for developing democratic leadership and a career in Politics and Government. The School further expanded its vision and canvas in 2011 and brought out classroom training to the thousands of common youth through Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS).

Over the decade, BCS has become a contributor in the distribution of opportunities. In 2017, the Lok Sabha conducted the National Conference of Women Legislators, which subsequently led to the creation of an even bigger platform in 2017 by us- the National Women's Parliament. This mission was initiated by MIT School of Government in association with the Andhra Pradesh Legislative Assembly & Government of Andhra Pradesh in Amaravati, Andhra Pradesh. Later the National Teachers' Congress drew in more attention and three national-level conclaves of NTC have been conducted successfully, connecting 3000+ teachers and 10000+ students from all over India. The Kerala Legislative Assembly as part of its celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of the Kerala Legislative Assembly organized the Festival on Democracy, with the National Students Parliament which was held in collaboration with MIT-SOG & BCS and became the highlight of this festival of democracy.

Over the last 11 years, many stalwarts from the fields of politics, academics, spirituality among many others have shared their thoughts on the platform of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, inspiring thousands of young leaders across the nation. They in their turn have taken this movement forward in their respective states. Today, the platform has established its credibility not only in India but across the globe with support and encouragement flowing from all over the world. Many important democratic organizations of global governance have termed BCS as an exceptional model for the entire world, but I would still say we have many miles to go.

JAI HIND! JAI BHARAT!

MESSAGE

PRESIDENT

We are proudly witnessing the great strides made by the Indian youth in several spheres of activities. But the youth has been shying away from socio-political responsibilities today. The challenge is to get the youth involved in building the future India, which is their India, which will script their own future.

In this context, I consider the success of the Indian Student Parliament (Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad) as an important milestone in today's socio-political environment of India. Indeed, the MIT School of Government has done remarkably well by drawing an overwhelming response from the student community by holding the first ever Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad in Pune. The event drew a wide appreciation from the Indian youth. Further, this brought the youth, the decision makers, eminent members of the civil society, corporate leaders and senior political leaders on one common platform.

I would like to applaud the bold, dynamic and visionary leadership of Rahul Karad. From concept to execution, he leads from the front. I must also appreciate the commitment of Government of Maharashtra, as shown by its genuine support of the idea as well as the event.

I am confident that if we mobilize the student leaders all over the country, instill confidence in them, create a social awakening, then India will be on the move to occupy a top seat at the table in the Comity of Nations as the 21st century unfolds.

I extend my heartiest greetings for the successful conduct of the 12th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.

EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN

During our freedom struggle the idea of 'Nai Talim' was contemplated by Mahatma Gandhi and his close associates. The purpose was to integrate academic learning with external environment. At a higher level, the scheme stimulated students' awareness about the surrounding issues and empathy about it and initiated their preparation for social commitment.

The concept could not gain enough ground, but its relevance remains everlasting. And especially in today's times, when educational system has become so career-oriented, compartmentalizing the society and rendering individuals as isolated units in themselves. Instead of bringing people together it has created walls and distances among them.

Consequently, there is apathy among the students about the serious issues in the society and lack of concern for the marginalized population. This self-centric education can't create leaders and activists.

This state of affairs needs major churning. Fortunately, the initiative by MIT School of Government to organize the Indian Student Parliament deserves appreciation. It will help percolating the social bonds and commitment and inspire students for action. Its motto 'Inspiring Youth For Strengthening Democracy' is greatly symbolic in the sense that time has come for the action of youth. I extend all my wishes for its success.

She is the iconic figure of Myanmar's historic fight for democracy against the military junta that ruled the country for many years. She had addressed the Indian Students Parliament on video during its third edition.

IN QUEST OF DEMOCRACY...

“Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence”

“Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence”

For over two decades, Ms Suu Kyi underwent numerous hardships. In honour of her dedicated and devoted quest for peace and democracy, she was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1991. She has also been conferred with the Sakharov Prize for Freedom of Thought in 1990 and Jawarharlal Nehru Award for International Understanding in 1992, among other international recognitions.

Ms Suu Kyi addressed the gathering of 3rd Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad on 10th January 2013. Given below is an extract of her message.

“Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence. Some violence seems to have taken place in some parliaments but one would say these are aberrations rather than staunch conflicts. These can arise from singularity as well as from differences.

Please use this opportunity for discussion and debate to find out how you can make enduring values lost and how you find more values that will give hope to all of us who are living in the world that aims out to reach out to us from day to day.”

Malala Yousufzai is the icon of the young world, particularly for the girls promoting the cause of women's education even while living in a very hostile environment and after having almost lost her life for the cause. Her speech was showcased during the inaugural session of the 4th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad congratulates Malala Yousafzai for winning the nobel Peace prize 2014 and extends best wishes for All her future endeavours.

“Thank you so much for inviting me, I am really sorry that I am not there, but it's a great opportunity to talk to Youth, the new generation. It is very important that the youth takes part in politics because the youth is the one who is going to be the future of tomorrow and for the country's prosperity and development, so it is necessary to be in politics.

I want to be in politics because I think it is the better way to work for education, work for the women's rights and for the development of my country. I truly and truly support all of you that join politics and work in politics because you are working for your country, for the people living in your country and your role is also important.”

Thank you so much.

METHODOLOGY ADOPTED FOR BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

1. Conduct of Session:

Academic Sessions are based on various themes which reflect the important issues facing India/World currently. The sessions are initiated by the Vice Chancellors. Four student leaders express their views on the given topic before any other speaker so that they are not influenced, pressurized or burdened by the views of the other speakers. The Speakers of state assemblies speak next for 10 minutes. Adarsh Yuva Vidhayak Samman (Ideal Young MLA Honor) are given to two young MLAs. This is followed by speeches by Eminent Speakers who speak for 20 minutes each, followed by Q & A session. The Resolutions are put to voting towards the end of the session. This is the general methodology followed for all 8 sessions, while allowing for last minute alterations as per the demands of the situation.

2. Vice Chancellors:

The Vice Chancellors are amongst the most esteemed constituents of Bharatiya Chhatra/Yuva Sansad. They have the honour of putting forth their views at the beginning/concluding of each session.

3. Student Speakers:

A fair selection methodology is adopted while selecting the students who speak as representatives of the students during each session. A selection panel is formed comprising of faculty and other experts, who review the VCDs/DVDs received from those registered students who wish to speak on the given topic. The criteria adopted for selection is relevance of topic, content of speech, body language, confidence level etc. Based on this, the shortlisted students have to perform before the selection panel before the start of the Conclave. 4 to 6 students who excel in the above mentioned criteria are finally selected to speak during each session.

4. Aadarsh Yuva Vidhayak Samman (Ideal Young MLA):

The practice of awarding the Adarsh Yuva Vidhayak was started during the 3rd Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. In each session, one or two young MLAs are felicitated for following sound democratic and parliamentary practices in their constituency.

5. Assembly Speakers:

The Speakers of all Legislative Assemblies of India are intimated about the conduct of the Conclave well in advance. Invitations are sent to selected Speakers to be the Chairpersons of the sessions. Usually, the Speakers of assemblies not represented in the earlier editions of BCS are invited to occupy the Chair.

6. Higher Education Minister:

Higher Education Ministers of different states of India give Inaugural Address at each academic session.

7. Main Speakers/Eminent Speakers:

Very eminent personalities from various fields like Politics, Media, Entertainment, Judiciary, Corporate, Bureaucracy etc are invited as Main Speakers or Keynote Speakers for each session. At times, more than one Main Speaker is invited depending upon the subject of discussion and the availability of the eminent personality.

8. Felicitation:

Felicitations of guests is a deep-rooted Indian tradition. At BCS, we have imbibed this tradition as a mark of respect to every contribution of every individual. The eminent speakers and other dignitaries along with student speakers are felicitated with a shawl and a memento.

9. Q & A Session:

Participating Students send in their questions on a printed format to the volunteers allotted for each seating block. The volunteer collects these questions and sends them to the selection committee present near the dais. The committee examines the relevance of the questions and selects an optimum number of questions depending upon the time available, but usually not less than 4. As the Q&A session starts, each selected student's name is announced who then goes to a podium kept beside each block and asks the question to the eminent speaker of the session.

10. Lifetime Achievement Award:

M. VENKAIAH NAIDU

When I see all of you in front of me, the future of India is safe in your hands - I am quite confident about the same. I request all of you to do hard work, believe in what you understand, try to practice it and then you will definitely become a good leader. One day, the world, the country and the community around you will definitely recognize you. This is what life has taught me. The ballot is more powerful than the bullet. If you defeat somebody by bullet, he will die, but the ideology will remain. If you defeat somebody by ballot, then there will be a rethinking of that ideology.

MESSAGE

I am pleased to know that the 10th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad organised by the MIT School of Government at Vigyan Bhavan in Delhi from the 20th to 23rd of February 2020 was a great success.

It is indeed gratifying to note that the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad launched in the year 2011 has emerged as a strong platform where youths from across the country can discuss and deliberate upon the problems faced by Indian democracy and also find plausible solutions.

It is estimated that during the year 2020, India will become the world's youngest country with 64 per cent of its population in the working age group. In order to benefit from this demographic dividend, the government is striving to transition from Youth Development to Youth - led development. I understand that this year 1800 student leaders from across the nation attended the conclave.

I congratulate the MIT School of Government, and more particularly Founder Shri. Rahul Karad for the successful conducting of the 10th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad and wish the organizers all success in their future endeavours.

MESSAGE - PATRONFORMER CHIEF MINISTER, GOVT. OF MAHARASHTRA

Mantralaya
Mumbai 400 032

20th January 2019

MESSAGE

It is indeed commendable that Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, Pune, has emerged as a national platform for the youth of India since it was inception in 2011. As the Chief Patron of this purposeful platform, it is heartening to witness the plant of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, Pune, turning into a banyan tree in its 9th year. I wanted to address the young minds today personally but some other occupancy has prevented me from taking this opportunity.

It is not very common that thousands of youth from different corners of India traveling across to actively participate at a meaningful platform like Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. This is a good sign for our democracy and this is what was envisioned by our leaders and the Government to integrate maximum number of youth in the process of nation building.

For India to emerge as a politically astute and democratically secure country, it is imperative that its policy makers are well informed and clued up about the past, present and future requirements. It is indeed a great satisfaction that Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad provides opportunity to the university students to speak their thoughts and voice their opinion about the political happenings in the country and the required changes. Also, as they interact with those who are already a part of the political system they stand to gain the perspective, which will benefit them and the country in the long term.

I am sure that with its focused efforts Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad will continue to channelize the energy of the youth in the right direction and will encourage them to take active part in politics and enter public life.

I am confident that Shri. Rahul V. Karad, the Founder of this platform, will continue to exhibit similar determination and conviction in his nation building activities.

I extend my warm wishes to the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad and all the young students participating in the 3 day of engaging discourse.

António Guterres

Secretary-General,
United Nations Organization

We appreciate your kind invitation. Nevertheless, allow me to take this opportunity to convey best wishes for the success of the event.

Ban Ki-moon

Then Secretary-General,
United Nations Organization

“ You are part of the largest generation of young people our world has ever known. We must work together to help young people make the most of their energies, ideas and leadership potential. ”

I am pleased to send my greetings to all the young people gathered for the Indian Student Parliament. You gather at a time of profound turmoil, transition and transformation. Insecurity, inequality and intolerance are spreading around the world. Governments are wasting vast and precious funds on deadly weapons while reducing investments in people. Too many people in power seem wilfully blind to the threat of climate change.

India is at a pivot point in its own history. In many ways, it faces the classic dilemma of a middle-income nation. On the one hand, we see India as the rising global power. On the other hand, India faces many of the challenges of a developing nation. For both these Indias, great opportunity awaits.

This is an era of great uncertainty, but also one of profound opportunity. No single leader, country or institution can do everything. But each of us, in our own way, can do something. Together, as partners, we can meet today's tests and seize the opportunities of an era of dramatic change.

Please accept my best wishes for a rewarding gathering.

Jan Eliasson

Former Deputy Secretary General, United Nations Organization

“The Parliament’s theme, “Inspiring Youth, Strengthening Democracy,” and objectives are very much aligned with the Secretary-General’s five year action agenda for youth.”

I commend the Indian Student Parliament for providing this important platform that will help prepare youth for the future leadership of India and for having brought together so many perspectives to address important challenges that youth are facing. The Parliament’s theme, “Inspiring Youth, Strengthening Democracy,” and objectives are very much aligned with the Secretary-General’s five year action agenda for youth. My congratulations on the successful outcome of the event

Irina Bokova

Then Director - General, UNESCO, Paris

“Let me commend this initiative of the MIT-SOG Pune, India. Everywhere I travel I am inspired by the energy and the commitment to change that comes from young people.”

Let me commend this initiative of the MIT School of Government, Pune, India. Everywhere I travel I am inspired by the energy and the commitment to change that comes from young people. Young people are one billion strong in the world. They carry a billion hopes for a better world. The year 2011 will be remembered as the year the young people decided to take the torch of human dignity and speak up for human rights. It resulted in an unprecedented movement for democracy, justice and peace. Young people must be considered as actors for change and not simply as beneficiaries. They are already changing the world; they are enriching the culture and media. It is the role of UNESCO to give them the skills and tools to do so in ways that strengthen the ties between cultures that protect human rights and fundamental freedoms. Quality education is the starting point. If we combine the hopes of youth with quality education, there is nothing we cannot achieve. This is where UNESCO will continue to fight, to provide each and every girl and boy with everything they need to share their ideas and act on them. Indian Students Parliament is another unique opportunity for you to debate ideas in a democratic spirit, to envision ways to make the world a better place. Be imaginative, generous and ambitious. As your great Mahatma Gandhi put it be the change you want to see in the world. You are not only the leaders of tomorrow, you are the leading actors of today.

I wish you every success in your discussions.

Martin Chungong

Secretary General, Inter Parliamentary Union (IPU)
(Union of Parliaments of 163 Nations Geneva, Switzerland)

“Without young people in politics, democracy is incomplete and policies cannot be properly articulated, well designed and fully implemented.”

Dear participants to the ISP, Namaste! I would like to congratulate you on your considerable enthusiasm in participating in this magnificent event that gathers young people from all corners of India, the world's largest democracy. I would like to commend in particular, Mr. Rahul Karad, Founder and Convenor, for his relentless efforts to inspire young people from India to get involved in the public affairs of their country by fostering open debate and dialogue.

Although we may be physically thousands of miles apart, we are united in our common pursuit to ensure youth participation in politics and decision making, which is part and parcel of the IPU's objectives and areas of work.

Dear Students, for those of you who do not know the Inter-Parliamentary Union, the IPU is the world organization national parliaments. Over 170 parliaments are the members of the organization representing more than 6.5 billion people. The IPU promotes democratic parliaments. A democratic parliament is one that is representative, transparent, accessible and accountable, including young people. (Video Message was also conveyed during 10th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad)

Patricia Scotland

Secretary General,
Commonwealth of Nations

“Such participation and readiness to learn more about how you can offer your talents for the common good and in service of your fellow citizens shows a laudable spirit of public service.”

Having been a parliamentarian and now a Secretary General of Commonwealth, it is a real pleasure to address you at the conclusion of the Indian Students Parliament. I most heartily commend you all for taking part. Such participation and readiness to learn more about how you can offer your talents for the common good and in service of your fellow citizens shows a laudable spirit of public service. I urge you to remember that as well as being citizens of a great nation, India, you are citizens of a great global family of nations, the Commonwealth!

It is striking at such gatherings to see the productive interaction between participants working together, thinking together and learning from one another, whether they represent large and populous nations, small and vulnerable island states, vast economies or fragile, less developed countries. I am sure, you have found that whatever your specialist subject or discipline, and regardless of your personal areas of interest, this time at the students parliament has enriched your understanding of the value of discussion and debate and deepened your appreciation of the perspectives others contribute.

My Best Wishes for the Success of the conclave and commend the work you and all involved in convening the 10th annual conclave Indian Student Parliament are doing to deepen understanding of and adherence to the Commonwealth priorities of Democracy and Development.

Anders B. Johnsson

Former Secretary General, Inter Parliamentary Union (IPU) Union of Parliaments of 163 Nations Geneva, Switzerland

“ You are not the world’s first student parliament, you are probably not the world’s oldest one either, but I dare say that you might well be the world’s largest one because you belong to the country which has the world’s largest democracy.”

I am very humbled as I sit here and I see you through my screen. I am very honored and pleased to have this opportunity to talk to India’s upcoming leaders who are gathered here in MIT campus in Pune for the 3rd Indian Student Parliament. You are not the world’s first student parliament, you are probably not the world’s oldest one either, but I dare say that you might well be the world’s largest one because you belong to the country which has the world’s largest democracy.

I was curious to see in your program you are discussing and encouraging young people like yourself to be a part of the political processes. I do think that it is extremely important that you do take part and that you take your own responsibility in politics. I have said that in our organization we deal with the issues of the society, this is very important issue for society and we welcome it.

I have a great feel of admiration for what you all are trying to do.

Kamalesh Sharma

Former Secretary General, Commonwealth of Nations

“ We welcome your efforts to train and encourage your active participants in the democratic processes.”

It is a pleasure to greet you as you assemble for the Indian Student Parliament. We say that the heart of democracy beats in our parliaments. The admirable aims of this exercise of inspiring youth and strengthening democracy correspond with the value we try to promote in the Commonwealth.

I would encourage you to join with those of your fellow students throughout our worldwide family by participating in the Commonwealth Student Body. We welcome your efforts to train and encourage your active participants in the democratic processes.

You are sure to find participation in the 3rd Indian Student Parliament a rewarding experience and I wish you all joy and success in your deliberations and your debates.

Jarvis Matiya

Secretary General,
Commonwealth Parliamentary Association

Alan Haselhurst, MP

Former Chairperson, Executive Committee
Commonwealth Parliamentary Association

“ India’s young population is its most valuable asset, the young people as a future of the Commonwealth. ”

It is also great to see organizations like the MIT University working to strengthen democracy through a forum like this one. As you know the CPA is a voice of parliamentary democracy across the Commonwealth and has been for over a century since its establishment in 1911, promoting a parliamentary development and up skilling members of parliament. It brings together 70000 or over parliamentarians from 180 legislatures across the Commonwealth. As the largest democracy in the world, India which is one of the fastest growing economies in world, today it is home to a seventh of the world’s youth. Half of which population is under 25 and a quota is below the below the age of 14. India’s young population is its most valuable asset, the young people as a future of the Commonwealth. As such India has a long recognized the importance of young people to the future of Commonwealth society.

“ I am a deep believer in the importance and value of youth engagements in politics and governance and I support your endeavors to this end. ”

I am a deep believer in the importance and value of youth engagements in politics and governance and I support your endeavors to this end. Democracy | Leadership

Rahul V. Karad

Executive President, MIT World Peace University, Pune & Chief Initiator, MIT SOG, Founder, NLC, NTC, NWP, Sarpanch Sansad

On behalf of the Managing Trustees and our revered Founder of MAEER's MIT group of institutions, MIT World Peace University, the visionary behind the World's Largest Dome, Dr. Vishwanath Karad, and Dr. Raghunath Mashelkarji, the current Chairman of the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, and the entire governing body, I extend a warm welcome to the esteemed Minister Shri S. B. Singh Baghel Sahab, Minister of State for Law and Justice, Government of India, as well as all the distinguished guests gathered here for the 12th Indian Students Parliament. MIT School of Government pioneers in shaping political leaders, including through the Indian Student Parliament and Women's Parliament. We aim to amalgamate all our initiatives for societal transformation. Libraries like the one in the Indian Parliament are enriching, but we need similar centers in local governments, too. Over the next three days, I encourage you to connect and work together, for you are the change-makers. We propose renaming Independence Day as National Day and have renamed Rajpath as Kartavya Path, further supported by Rajesh Tope ji and Devendra Fadnavis ji, and applauded by India for reaching out to students nationwide.

“We aspire to change India's name to Bharat and break free from colonial mindsets.”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

ADDRESS BY

Dr. R.M. Chitnis

Vice Chancellor, MIT World Peace University

In 2005, Shri Rahul Vishwanath Karad founded the MIT School of Government in Bharat, pioneering the development of future political leaders with the vision that educated youth should engage in public life. In 2011, he expanded this vision to the national stage, planting the seed for the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, the largest platform for grooming political leaders in Bharat. This journey, from the first Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad in 2011 to the 12th today, is a remarkable odyssey deeply rooted in our traditional Bhartiya Sanskriti culture. Over these 12 years, this venture has played an incredible role in strengthening Bharat's democracy, elevating it to the pinnacle of global leadership. It's a historical saga that we believe will resonate for years to come, an extraordinary feat deserving our heartfelt applause.

“The Bhartiya Shastra Sansad is a celebration of democracy on the world stage, representing an enduring commitment to steering Bharat's social course through the democratic process.”

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOR

Dr. Kailasavadivoo Sivan

Former Chairman, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO)

In India, we often consider service as national benefit, as exemplified in space technology. Utilizing technology for societal applications is essential, especially in rural areas. Space technology in India has a rich history, being one of the first countries to employ rockets against the British Army. However, we now find ourselves buying technology from other nations, which is costly. To support Atma Nirbhar Bharat, self-sufficiency in technology is crucial. ISRO's primary goal is not merely rockets and missions but providing services for the common man. Space technology has a profound impact on everyday life, from connectivity to economic development. India's future economic growth depends on expanding space-related activities. Our honorable Prime Minister's vision is to harness space technology for economic growth, making India a global leader. I encourage you to take decisions and participate in this transformative journey.

“ To support Atma Nirbhar Bharat, self-sufficiency in technology is crucial. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

Ms. Nandita Jamwal

MPG (1st Year) MIT School of Government

The political system is the lifeline of a nation, and our youth is the pillar of New India, making it crucial for them to engage in parliament. The Student Parliament provides a platform for aspiring change-makers to voice their views on important issues. We must address topics like freedom of speech, political dynasties, democracy vs. corpocracy, changing Indian cinema, media ethics, and the uniform civil code. These political challenges affect us all, and it's our duty to use this platform to advocate for clean politics and good governance. Together, we can drive change and make India greater, as the nation's progress lies in the hands of its youth.

“ Student Parliament is a platform where youth like us who not only hope for change but also want to cause it, come together. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

Mr. Dheerendra Singh

MBA (2nd Year), Lovely Professional University, Punjab

In front of me, there is a presence of thousands of young people. I confidently say to all of you that youth is not just an age; it is a positive mindset. Youth is like an unrestrained, tumultuous downpour—powerful, intense, like the fierce, vibrant music of Bhairavi, the grace of a bright impact, the beauty of dusk, the coolness of the moon, and the fiery nature of a volcano. If guided in a negative direction, it can reshape the roads of Delhi like the wrath of Kali. Sometimes, with the blood of our own, it turns the roads of our country red. However, today, as I stand on the stage of the 12th Indian Student Parliament, I feel immensely proud that this tradition, continuing for twelve years, not only provides a positive direction to the youth of this country but also strengthens and awakens us socially, politically, judicially, and democratically. I know that the Indian Student Parliament is the only platform in the entire Hindustan, which will discuss freedom of expression, discuss freedom fighters, raise awareness about democracy, criticize the Indian media, bring the strengths and weaknesses of Indian cinema into the open, expose the flaws within every political party, and, while keeping the unity and integrity of the country in mind, attempt to find solutions by discussing the Constitution openly.

“The Indian Student Parliament is not only enlightening us but also working to give a new status to the youth of this country.”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOR

Dr. Anil Prakash Joshi

Padma Bhushan, Environmentalist, Green Activist,
Founder, Himalayan Environmental Studies &
Conservation Organization (HESCO)

You, the youth, represent our future and surpass even the governing parliament in significance. Kindly accept our heartfelt respect. I, as a representative of the Himalayan people, consider us the ecological capital, providing vital elements like air and soil for your survival. I wish to redirect your focus from the moon back to Earth. Recognize the global depletion of air, soil, forests, and water, emphasizing the need for balance between economic and ecological concerns. With ecology, we should also think about the economy. Economy and ecology should be inclusive. I think education and industry can be such things that can bring about this significant change. If ecology and environment are together, then we will move towards security, and the direction we are heading towards ecological insecurity will become security. The basic principle of saving nature is in our country. Connect with nature and progress simultaneously. The Lord is connected with nature and progress. The disasters happening in the world are also sounding an alarm. Listen to it, it is saying something.

“Connect with nature to save it.”

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOR

Shri. Anant Singhania

CEO of M/s. J.K. Enterprises &
Director in J.K. Organisation

I have a few mantras for the youth. The first step is to work hard, the second is to also work hard and third is also to work hard. It always pays and most important is to believe in yourself. You can do it. The way to inspire others is to know what motivates them. What helps is asking, listening and building trust. Leaders don't choose their followers; followers choose them. A great leader will take his people a long and work towards the development of society and the nation's leadership place for the growth and progressive development. India is not only the largest democracy but also houses one of the youngest populations in the world. Two thirds of the population is below the age of 35. The youth is the future of tomorrow and continues to find solutions to every problem that is possible. You must focus on efforts to make the world that we want to see. As you know over the last couple years the world has changed over. We have transferred and adapted to the changes of the post covid world. What is the difference between growth, progress and success? If you increase your turnover from 50 crore to 100 crore its call growth; it's not success. Increasing your materialistic positions is called growth but if you add ethics, discipline and honesty it's called progress. So growth plus ethics is called progress.

“ Success is when you take growth plus ethics plus humanity morality that is called a successful journey. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOR

Smt. Kaushiki Chakraborty

Noted Classical Vocalist

I am a student of Philosophy. I have been told in childhood that the Chhatra (student) is the one who holds Chhatra (shelter). Which means who holds the shed on the top of Guru's head. So the concept of leadership is about the student, the legacy, the tradition and the responsibility lies on your shoulder. I heard a quote by Dekart, "I think therefore I am", but for me its slightly different, "I sing therefore am". So who am I? I am a true Indian but going forward I am a "Bharatiya". So being the Bharatiya, what did I learn from music? Which makes me a true Bharatiya? It makes me respectful towards our tradition. The leadership is best conveyed the concept of the Guru. Guru word indicates the teacher. The first part means the darkness of the and the second part means light. So the Guru is the one who takes you from the darkness ignorance to the light of knowledge, so he is the leader. As a student of the Music I have learnt how to be secular, the importance of the environment. Nature is the God for us, God does not need to be with four heads or hands or legs. All the 5 super powers in the nature are like God to all of us. It is the concept of absolute. The concept of absolute and the understanding of spirituality happened in my life through Music. We will understand how powerful the music is. Music taught me discipline, tradition, perseverance, importance of the Guru, importance of Leadership.

“ We need to make music the part and parcel of everybody's everyday life not to make them musicians but to make them holistically developed human being. ”

Prof. S. P. Singh Baghel

Hon'ble Minister of State for Law and Justice, Govt. of India

America claims that we are oldest democracy, while we assert ourselves as the largest democracy. I don't agree with America. I'm not sure if concepts like Satyug and Dwaparyug exist there; they are very much a part of our culture. We are the oldest democracy because during the Treta Yuga when Lord Rama ruled, a complete democracy existed. People raised their voices against the king and he accepted it, even subjecting his wife to an agnipariksha. When America didn't even exist, we provided leadership to the world. In a similar discourse, Swami Vivekananda once addressed a religious congregation, stating that our leadership, also called Ram Rajya, is the best governance the world has seen. Our country is more excellent than any other, where people and animals drank water from the same source without any suffering. For strengthening democracy, we have the Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, Vidhan Sabha, and local panchayats. Can you find such a country anywhere else in the world? Our democracy is robust, and Prime Minister Modi has further strengthened it. An indigenous woman has been honored as the President for the first time, marking a significant change. The country is evolving and progressing.

“ Our democracy is robust ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSADADDRESS BY*Dr. Vishwanath Karad

Founder & Chief Patron, MAEER's MIT, Pune,
President, MIT World Peace University,
Creator, Philosopher Saint Shri Dnyaneshwara World Peace
Prayer Hall & World Peace Library - World Peace Dome

MIT World Peace University based on understanding and appropriate role of science and spirituality. But I want to tell you friends, if you try to understand spirituality in Dom which is not the first time. You take the names who address the entire world today. It is a beauty of you all to present this vision, present this mechanism and understand this understanding. You are the ones who should try to understand first. Religion is not a path; the path is Hindustan, the essence of Indian unity. Hindustan is not about any one religion; it holds the secret of all religions. Religion is nothing but to perform your duty. This prophecy has come true in the same way. It is the responsibility of my Mother India to show the path of solution and peace. It's not just Mother India; it's self-esteem, selfhood, and self-duty. Self-duty is self-esteem, and it is healthy in all three places, brother. Ask yourself, what is the legacy of this, and remember, this country belongs to these daughters. The time has come to show it to the world that because of the world, which is called the ultimate, like God, the meaning of prosperity is not an individual; it is the power of God, brother, power, energy. Scientists can understand this, so there is an effort to go in that direction. I express my gratitude to our V.C. Chitnis, especially Rahul, for understanding the correct purpose of politics— the welfare of society, the welfare of the community.

“ Talking about peace is talking about global welfare. ”

Dr. K Gireesan

Director, MIT-SOG, MIT World Peace University

The largest classroom of democracy today and tomorrow comprises committed, dynamic, and professional leaders, which grew into a tree in 2005. Many editions of the tree have transformed it into a forest, nothing less than a powerful revolution but a very powerful evolution. It transforms youth into clean, dynamic, professional leaders and leaders with a vision for tomorrow, changing the political landscape of tomorrow. Recent additions, including those on a mission for the country's population and the contribution of the Government, undoubtedly indicate that those who come out of this academy, as well as the additions, will make a difference tomorrow—a small drop in the ocean, but this duty audio involves all faculty, staff, and students. Thanks and a special mention to the chief guest of the day, SP Singh Baghel, for his effect on discipline and expertise and their motivation.

Article 19 of our Indian constitution has given the right of freedom of speech and expression. As when civilisation began even in the history, we came to know that long back this country has always been keen towards giving freedom of speech. Even if we look at the Mahabharata even freedom of speech was there this can be seen through the interactions between Krishna and Arjuna. When we look at the Vidhana Sabha and Lok Sabha we also focus on parliamentary and non-parliamentary languages. Just now one of the speakers very rightly said that now we must consciously draw the line by our own. Only Article 19 has given us freedom of speech but along with that it has also given us the restrictions on few areas we have to seriously think about this. When we say that human is a social animal, and we have few limitations which needs to be followed and whenever we try to cross the boundaries so somewhere we try to cross the boundary of freedom of speech. Even Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar has said that the problem is not about what is written in the constitution, but the problem is in the mind set of the people.

“ We need to limit ourselves to right speech and right actions which help make someone very close or very far from you.”

I would like to thank Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad MIT WP University for confirming the award for me, I also dedicate this award to all the people of my constituency, that is Kakatpur in Puri district of Odisha, also all the people of Odisha. I would just say who is on the 'article 21' of the constitution of India. In my opinion there is no particular LINE which we can draw just because of protecting our freedom of speech or freedom of expression and Liberty. It is subjective, it is constitutional because that differs from person to person but in legal embed I just can say, if we go by the theory Jeremy Bentham's utilitarianism and then any thing we can say, express or do that should not hamper the harmony of society and that shouldn't break the social fabric that I must say that everything should done in a restrictor manner but that line is constructed as objective thank you so much.

“ Everything should done in a restrictor manner ”

I know very well that Narendra Modi is a busy man, not just in the country but in the world. He has undertaken all these responsibilities on a large scale due to his energy, and you can observe that he always maintains a calm demeanor despite facing numerous challenges every day in the country. The busiest man in the world, Narendra Modi, manages to spend hours on Yoga, meditation, and Pranayama for his physical well-being. Now, let me ask you, distinguished gentlemen, how can we make ourselves as busy and disciplined as him? That is the point I want to discuss. Health is our fundamental right. I would like to bring to your attention the fundamental duties and rights. In a Cosmos, everything is in perfect order, but our lifestyle affects our health, and we are not leading healthy lives. We can make an effort to lead a healthy and peaceful life. While Science and Technology provide us with comfort and facilities, individual experiences and constant texting have an adverse impact on mental health. The increase in challenges is due to both physical and mental health. Spiritual health is essential, and organizations like this one work towards mental health, disease prevention, spiritual wellness, social wellness, and healthcare wellness.

“ If you are healthy, you contribute to a healthy society, family, nation, and institution. If you are not healthy, you become a liability. ”

When we talk about the world's greatest political leaders, their political lives and success are intricately woven around the freedom of thought and ideas. Examples such as Mahatma Gandhi, Nelson Mandela, and Abraham Lincoln illustrate this point. It is essential to understand the significance of the first amendment to freedom of speech. I am not saying that there should be no limits to freedom of speech. What I am emphasizing is the importance of thoughtful consideration before restricting such immense power or rights – how much, where, and to what extent. Otherwise, we might find ourselves blinded by the dust while trying to remove it from our eyes. There should be limits, but before imposing them, it is crucial to understand how to keep those boundaries secure. It is necessary to figure out how to strengthen and handle those limits so that the benefits outweigh the drawbacks. The freedom to speak needs protection from powerful forces that are willing to do anything to maintain their dominance. Our constitution grants everyone the right to speak, but in reality, these rights are not readily available to everyone in a straightforward manner. We grant power to the powerful and rights to the weak. It is essential to change this by empowering the weak to speak. If someone speaks wrongly, causing harm to individuals or the nation, there should be limits on their speech. Freedom of speech places a significant responsibility on us. Our duty becomes ensuring that it is used responsibly. We should not tolerate anything that causes harm to the nation due to someone's words. We should never tolerate it.

“ We grant power to the powerful and rights to the weak. ”

Please listen carefully to what I have to say. Spirituality practiced in childhood is like digging a well to extinguish a fire in your home. Until you find water, everything will be destroyed by the flames. Therefore, devotion is not a matter of childhood; it is a matter of infancy. The land you live in - Maharashtra... the land of Saint Namdev, Saint Tukaram - everyone has embraced spirituality since childhood. Spirituality is like medicine; bringing it into your life will save you from various forms of suffering. Therefore, it is crucial to incorporate it into your life. I have been sharing stories from a very young age and always experience joy and contentment in life. Hence, it is wonderful that Rahul Ji and his father are paying special attention to attracting young people towards spirituality. Whether they are in politics, engineering, or any field, it is essential for the youth to give a place to spirituality in their lives.

In our hands, we have smartphones with various social media platforms. There is a hundred percent existence of these platforms. On them, we express our thoughts. As long as this expression is limited to family, friends, and relatives, it is smooth. However, when a person starts expressing opinions about a leader, actor, community, or the country, a need for caution arises. People today misuse the freedom of expression on the social media, forgetting it the next moment. However, such statements can create a sea of criticism affecting someone's personal and professional life. Recently, the Indian government requested a popular social media platform to remove objectionable statements, but the platform violated the freedom of expression. Is this the new India governed by the Constitution, age, law, and boundaries? Or is the boundary paramount, or is it universally accepted? Through this national platform, I urge our young leaders to work on sensitive issues and understand their responsibilities along with their rights.

“ People today misuse the freedom of expression on the social media, forgetting it the next moment. ”

Mr. Pratap Raj Tiwari

Freedom of expression, whenever it crosses its boundaries, shakes the pillars of sociality, humanity, individuality, and nationality to the core. Freedom is akin to a supreme warrior, wielding the power to eradicate societal evils. However, its force is so intense that it sometimes wreaks havoc within society itself. Questions are raised about the valor of our Indian army. Whenever slogans like "India will be in pieces" or "Free Kashmir" echo in our nation, freedom of expression becomes thorny. When a celebrity doesn't feel secure on Indian soil or when, unfortunately, I hear in my ears support for a terrorist, we feel ashamed; your killers are alive. Not only that, in various places like media debates, the freedom of expression is being abused even after crossing the line. The Constitution, due to its limits; authority, due to its self-interest; and society, due to its ignorance, cannot draw the Lakshman Rekha against it. Because what delusion, confusion, casteism, and religious differences exist in society to such an extent.

“ Freedom is akin to a supreme warrior, wielding the power to eradicate societal evils. ”

Friends, we need to understand the difference between constructive criticism and insult. They need to understand and exercise freedom of speech with responsibility. Yes, today we have freedom of expression, but where is its limit? Because even freedom filled with limits is a form of subjugation. When we talk about the limit, our India represents grace, civilization, and morality. Based on this morality, all Indians need to pass the test before publishing their thoughts. Today, the deceitful ideology of society is spreading disinformation by portraying the fluttering flag as a weapon of religion and engaging in propaganda against it. With such a flow, not only do we need to save our India but also to save the entire world, we must create our own Lakshman Rekha. We are all the youth of this country. What the universe can think, we can do. With this confidence and self-reliance, we need to become our own goalpost, our own Lakshman Rekha. We need to draw a line and protect the unity and sovereignty of India. Expressing thoughts may have become easier, but maintaining the Lakshman Rekha requires self-discipline.

“ We need to understand the difference between constructive criticism and insult. ”

Mr. Sudhanshu Dahake

Today, it seems that the misuse of an individual's freedom of expression is on the rise. It reminds me of Nagarjuna's words – "Truth is inside Gandhi." All three monkeys of Bapu say, "Don't see evil, don't hear evil, don't speak evil." Don't speak evil, but today our Indian society is witnessing evil. It sees evil, hears evil, and speaks ill in the name of freedom. It criticizes those who have participated in movements like the Quit India Movement. Freedom seems wrong when, on one hand, we talk about the pride of Maharashtra and follow the thoughts of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, who commanded the army in the hands of Sikandar and Toofkhana Ibrahim Khan. On the other hand, in the name of freedom of thought, the rights of an individual's freedom are discussed in the same way.

“ The freedom of expression allows individuals to raise their voice against the government concerning their rights. ”

We saw journalists last year like Nikita and Natasha Norval who were put behind bars and incarcerated. Under the Unlawful Activities Prevention Act. I, as a law student, often think. Why constructive criticism somewhere is not accepted optimistically? It's a privilege to actually mention the Chief Justice of India. Former chief justice NV Ramana to talk about the colonial era law of sedition to be abolished and Abolished and as re-bored leader Sri Rahul Wickeraad always talks about breaking the colonization. This is the law that we require somewhere. Media trials often take to the podium to talk about things that are still sub judice in the court. The court abides by the principle of Innocent until proven guilty but not otherwise, principles of natural justice and definitely the staunch support as well as the trust that people of India, Western, the Indian judiciary is where we have to put Laxman Rekha and hence if Bharat has to be a Vishwa guru. We have to handle this extremely precariously and nowhere are limits for a better tomorrow.

“ Every one of us knows about Article 19, which talks about freedom of speech and expression. But often why is this necessity of Laxman Rekha? ”

Q To what extent should the government accept criticism before acting using the sedition law?

Ans. As they have said, I have the freedom to walk with my walking stick, but the limitation is that I should not harm the person next to me or beside me with the stick. You can exercise this freedom as long as you don't hurt anybody's feelings or national interest. However, speech should not go to the extent of causing harm to others' feelings, religious sentiments, or provoke anti-national sentiments against a community or country. Beyond that, it is considered unlawful, and individuals can be prosecuted. Freedom is not an uncontrolled license; it is valid as long as it doesn't harm others.

Q Even if we have freedom of speech or even if we have crossed or not crossing Laxman Rekha people will be judging us. How will you convince the people to come to the solution?

Ans. That is why we have laws and judiciary. Any man with his common sense will know what is right and what is wrong. We also have some fundamental duties: our constitution is fundamental rights alright is also fundamental duties to prevent these irresponsible speeches.

Q Our constitution has guaranteed freedom of speech and expression since its establishment as per the world press index as published on Tuesday that India has slid down from the position of 142 to 150 out of the 180 countries in the world. So, what are the necessary reasons behind that?

Ans. Who was sitting on the judgment, who decides this? I don't think that you should give too much importance to these types of rankings as it depends upon many wrong prejudices as it also depends upon world media also highlighting anything going wrong anywhere but these types of things are everywhere. We have excellent rule of law, and we all believe in law. We have got an independent judiciary and they intervene in proper time and we have to accept our judgment where the Supreme Court is the final authority.

Today marks a truly historic moment for all of us gathered here. Whether we are students of history or those striving to make history, we understand the profound impact of those who leave indelible footprints—the legends among us. It is with great honor that we welcome Prof. Vishwanath Karad, a visionary whose ideas shape our future.

We are here today because of the visionary initiative of Shri Rahul Karad, who conceived the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad as a platform for aspiring leaders dedicated to the betterment of our nation. As we stand at the crossroads of India's future, surrounded by dignitaries and leaders, we are reminded of Louis XIV's legacy—each of us, in our way, contributing to the narrative of progress and change.

I extend a warm welcome to all dignitaries present, whose stories and experiences will serve as invaluable lessons for our young talents. Let us seize this opportunity to learn, grow, and inspire each other as we navigate the path toward a brighter future for India.

ADDRESS BY FOUNDER CONVENER

Shri. Rahul V. Karad

Managing Trustee & Executive President,
MAEER's MIT and Executive President, MIT-WPU &
Chief Initiator, MIT School of Government

Promoting good governance and nurturing leadership among India's youth is not just a noble goal but a critical necessity for our nation's progress. Young individuals with quality, merit, and competency must step forward with a vision for a better India.

In 2005, with the invaluable guidance of visionaries like TN Seshanji and Dr. Mashelkarji, and the blessings of my father, Dr. Vishwanath Karad, we established Asia's first School of Political Leadership, the MIT School of Government. This initiative aimed to groom the future leaders of our country, instilling in them the values of integrity, accountability, and service.

Today, we are honored to have esteemed dignitaries grace this occasion. Former Lok Sabha speaker Shri. Shivraj Patil, Shrimati Meera Kumari, the first woman Lok Sabha speaker, Shri Chadda, a dynamic young leader, and Shri Kidwai Sahab, a prolific author, are all testaments to the diverse talents and contributions to Indian politics.

The past 16 years have been a journey of growth and learning, culminating in the establishment of the Assembly Speaker Award. As we gather here after the challenges of the Covid crisis, it is crucial to integrate civics into our syllabus, recognizing the importance of social engineering and diverse social backgrounds in our nation. Let us collectively strive to transform and progress at an accelerated pace.

Thank you for your dedication and commitment to shaping India's future.

“Nurturing leadership for India's future: Quality, merit, and competency driving progress and good governance.”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. Raghav Chadha

Hon'ble Member of Parliament, Rajya Sabha (Punjab, AAP),
National Spokesperson & National Executive Member,
Aam Aadmi Party (AAP)

I stand before you to shed light on a pressing issue that plagues our Indian political system - dynasty politics. This entrenched system, contrary to the ideals of visionaries like Bal Tilak and Babasaheb, has persisted for centuries, finding its roots in the epic Mahabharata where Dhritrashtra's blind love for his son led to a catastrophic war that claimed generations.

In our modern democratic era, the prevalence of PPP models - Pitra, Pautra, and Parivar - within political parties is alarming. While familial bonds are natural, when they hijack the political landscape, national priorities often take a backseat to familial interests.

This dynasty-driven politics creates a skewed playing field, hindering the aspirations of our youth who lack privileged surnames. It's a barrier to entry, relegating capable individuals to the sidelines while promoting dynastic heirs.

In the Lok Sabha, nearly 30% of members are part of political dynasties, with over two-thirds of MPs below 40 years old being dynastic inheritors. This trend not only undermines meritocracy but also erodes public trust in our democratic institutions.

It's time to dismantle this curse of dynasty politics and pave the way for a more equitable, merit-based, and inclusive political landscape where talent and dedication, not lineage, determine leadership.

“Dynasty politics hinders merit, erodes trust, and calls for an equitable, talent-driven leadership approach.”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. Rasheed Kidwai

Eminent Journalist, Political Commentator,
Visiting Fellow, Observer Research Foundation (ORF),

The topic we delve into today is not just intriguing but also profoundly impactful on the very essence of our democracy. As stakeholders in this democratic process, we must confront a critical question: why does dynastic politics persist in India?

One common argument is the desire to continue a legacy, to pass down political power within a family. However, let us examine the underlying issues. Our political system grapples with deep-seated corruption, where representatives flout fund poll ceiling limits with impunity.

At the core of our democracy lies the need for credible leaders, individuals whom we can trust implicitly to safeguard our resources and uphold our values. The introduction of electoral bonds has further complicated matters, creating opacity in political funding.

To combat this malaise, state funding of elections must become a top priority. This move can significantly reduce the influence of dynasty politics by leveling the playing field and promoting accountability.

It's crucial to recognize that no political party is immune to this disease. It transcends party lines, affecting the very fabric of our democratic institutions.

Let us work together towards a future where our democracy is strengthened by transparency, integrity, and equal opportunity for all.

“State funding of elections is key to combatting dynasty politics and ensuring transparency in democracy.”

Ideal Legislative Assembly Speaker Award

Dr. C. P. Joshi

Hon'ble Speaker,
Rajasthan Legislative Assembly

I would like to share my journey with you, one that started with a ticket to the Lok Sabha from Bhilwara and led me to become an MP, a Cabinet Minister, and the Chief Secretary of the All-India Congress Committee. These opportunities, while earned through merit, also reflect the role of political legacy in our system.

It's essential to acknowledge the contributions of leaders like Rajiv Gandhi, whose decision led to Dr. Manmohan Singh becoming the Prime Minister, contributing significantly to India's economy. Without this decision, India might have missed a great opportunity.

However, let us not dwell solely on dynasty politics. Instead, let's focus on strengthening our democratic system. We must address issues such as the quasi-judiciary powers of the Speaker and the vagueness of the 10th Schedule, which create contradictions and challenges. By enhancing our system's integrity and transparency, we pave the way for a more accountable and effective governance, where merit and capability are valued alongside political legacies. Minimum 200 days house must work then our democracy function in the right way. Then we can justify the elected government of our country.

“ In a Parliamentary democracy, policies are important, and individuals are not important ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

CHIEF GUEST

Dr. Meira Kumar

IFS (Retd.), Former Diplomat,
Former Chancellor, Central University, Bihar,
Former Cabinet Minister, Govt. of India,
Former Speaker, Lok Sabha

I am deeply grateful to Shri. Vishwanath Karad, Shri. Rahul Karad, esteemed dignitaries, and all my friends for their unwavering support and encouragement. During my tenure as Speaker of the Lok Sabha, I witnessed a lack of strength and decorum. However, I now see a semblance of peace in my house, and I urge each one of you, especially the youth, to maintain this atmosphere of harmony when you step into the Lok Sabha as MPs. Let us pledge to eliminate caste, religious, and linguistic politics, and ensure that every woman receives the respect she deserves in our society.

My journey into politics was a deliberate choice after exploring other options. India, to me, stands out as a unique nation where opportunities abound. I recently extended an invitation to President Barack Obama to address the Lok Sabha. As the leader of modern America, Obama symbolizes hope for a new era, despite the persisting challenges of racism and electoral dynamics in his country.

I conveyed to Obama that our Parliament is not just a legislative body but also a catalyst for social change. It is our responsibility to create a level playing field where everyone has the opportunity to rise and prosper. India's General Election, in particular, showcases the world's largest level playing field, ensuring inclusivity and fairness for all.

“ Harmony, respect, and equal opportunities pave the path for progress and unity in India. ”

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

(by Chairman, Ideal Legislative Assembly Speaker Awards Selection Committee)

Shri. Shivraj Patil

Former Speaker, Lok Sabha, Former Union Minister, Home Affairs, Government of India & Former Governor, Punjab & Administrator, Union Territory of Chandigarh

I am deeply humbled by the unwavering support and encouragement from Shri. Vishwanath Karad, Shri. Rahul Karad, esteemed dignitaries, and all my friends. As we gather here today, I reflect on the invaluable insights shared by dignitaries in this conference, particularly regarding the evolution of democracy in our Lok Sabha and Assemblies.

The role of a Speaker is not merely about speaking; it extends to ensuring decorum and fostering meaningful discussions in the house. This wisdom, imparted by the MIT School of Government, goes beyond classroom teachings, emphasizing real-time practical applications. Quality education is the cornerstone of progress. Knowledge acquisition should not be limited to securing jobs but should be harnessed for character-building.

I am immensely grateful to the MIT School of Government for instilling these values and principles. Their teachings underscore the importance of utilizing knowledge for holistic development and societal progress.

In Maharashtra, I commend the exemplary work of Rahul Sir, whose efforts are setting new standards of excellence. His dedication and vision are not just transforming Maharashtra but serving as an inspiration nationwide.

Let us continue to champion quality education, democratic values, and character-building, ensuring a brighter future for generations to come.

“Education empowers democracy, shaping character for a brighter tomorrow. Together, we champion progress and values.”

Today, we delve into a crucial topic that often remains veiled in shadows: "Dynasty - The Untold Truth of Every Political Party." This discussion is not just about revealing facts but about understanding the dynamics of power, influence, and responsibility in our political landscape.

Dynastic politics, while prevalent, raise pertinent questions about meritocracy, democracy, and the aspirations of the youth. It challenges us to reflect on the ideals of equality, opportunity, and fair representation in governance.

As we engage in this discourse, let us not only uncover the truths but also envision a future where leadership is based on competence, vision, and service to the people. The youth gathered here today are the architects of this future, and together, we can strive for a more inclusive and accountable political system.

“Uncovering dynastic politics: Empowering merit, democracy, and fair representation for a progressive political landscape.”

Komal Badade

Dynasty in politics is a long-standing global issue, where leadership often hinges on blood ties rather than merit. This tradition has led to the downfall of many empires, transcending literacy barriers. In India, dynastic politics, from the Gandhis to the Thakareys, persists. Sri Lanka's turmoil stands as a stark example of the devastation caused by this practice. Even the BJP is not immune to its influence. In politics, the visible often belies the unseen, shaping our reality. Let us break free from dynastic constraints for a more equitable and effective governance.

“Break free from dynastic constraints for equitable and effective governance, transcending bloodline over merit.”

Takam Regam

Dynastical succession is the most crucial problem for all political parties. It is shameful to practice a dynastical political system because India is a Sovereign, Socialist, Secular, Democratic, Republic. Many political parties don't have a transparent system in politics because of this dynasty politics can be seen in almost all political parties. In India followers, voters, and others are threatened by political party dynasties because there is a dynamic that only dynasties them. The normal stalwart works for a party, and sweats for a party but they don't receive anything in return.

“Dynastic succession hampers transparency and democracy, denying stalwarts their rightful recognition in politics.”

Pratyus Pattanaik

In the vast tapestry of Indian politics, dynastic succession has woven itself deeply into the fabric of our democracy. It is a phenomenon that transcends party lines, affecting both the ruling elites and the opposition stalwarts alike.

The concept of dynasty in politics, while not new, poses a formidable challenge to the ideals of transparency, meritocracy, and true democratic representation.

Together, let us unravel the untold truth of every political party, challenging the status quo and shaping a future where leadership is earned through dedication, competence, and the will of the people.

“Dynasty in politics challenges transparency, meritocracy, and true democratic representation, shaping leadership through dedication.”

The rise of political dynasties can often stifle opportunities for deserving individuals, discouraging merit-based advancement, and fostering a culture of entitlement.

Furthermore, the prevalence of dynastic politics can erode the trust of the common citizen in our democratic institutions. But let us not despair, for every challenge presents an opportunity for change. It is up to us, the youth of India, to demand a political landscape that is built on principles of fairness, accountability, and equal opportunity. We must strive to break free from the shackles of dynastic constraints and pave the way for a more inclusive and participatory democracy.

“Political dynasties stifle merit, erode trust, yet inspire change for fair, accountable democracy.”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

12th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

EMINENT SPEAKER

Smt. Bharati Ghosh

IPS (Retd.), National Spokesperson & Member,
National Executive Committee, Bharatiya Janata Party

I am deeply grateful, honored, and privileged to stand before you today in this hall of grace. We gather here to ring the bell of democracy, inspired by the clarion call for democratic governance and the end of dynastic politics in India, as championed by Dr. Karad and Rahul Karad.

Reflecting on recent history, we remember how in 1994, the current Prime Minister of the UK, Liz Truss, criticized dynastic politics vehemently. However, upon assuming office, her stance shifted, praising the British monarchy as a foundational pillar of modern Britain. This dichotomy highlights the complexities and challenges posed by dynastic rule.

Dynastic politics persists, casting a shadow over our democratic principles. Our Prime Minister rightly stated that it is one of the biggest threats to democracy. The essence of a political party should transcend familial ties, yet we witness the takeover of parties by dynasties.

When dynastic rule prevails, the security and interests of the family often supersede national priorities. It is imperative to understand that the road to true development and progress begins with ending dynastic politics. As Prime Minister Modi emphasized, it is time to liberate India from the grip of nepotism.

Our commitment today is clear: to strive tirelessly toward the eradication of dynastic politics and to pave the way for a more inclusive, transparent, and democratic governance system.

“Ending dynastic politics paves the path for a transparent, inclusive, and democratic governance system.”

CHAIRMAN OF THE SESSION

Shri. Gian Chand Gupta

Hon'ble Speaker, Haryana Legislative Assembly

India's youth, comprising almost 35% of our population, embodies the vitality and potential of our nation. I am grateful for the opportunity to address this esteemed platform, recognizing its crucial role in fostering democratic participation and raising awareness among our citizens.

Our democracy stands on strong foundations, resilient against the pressures of corporatization. The regularity of our elections every five years demonstrates the smooth transfer of power, a hallmark of our democratic ethos. This process, unique in its diversity, ensures political equality, with every tier of governance functioning democratically based on elections and majority decisions.

It is heartening to witness the commitment of all political parties towards strengthening democracy in India. However, it's essential to maintain a delicate balance between government policies and the role of corporate houses. While these entities contribute significantly to our nation's progress, their influence on policy-making must align with the broader interests of the nation.

In the journey of our 75 years of independence, India has made remarkable strides across various fields. Our manufacturing sector, exemplified by companies like Tata with over 10 lakh employees, plays a vital role in reducing unemployment and driving economic growth.

Let us continue to cherish and uphold the democratic values that have shaped our nation's progress, ensuring a bright and inclusive future for all.

“India's democracy thrives on diversity, ensuring political equality and a bright future for all.”

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Shri. Suresh Kumar Khanna

Hon'ble Minister for Parliamentary Affairs & Finance,
Govt. of Uttar Pradesh

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Shri Rahul Karad for this invaluable platform and extend a warm welcome to all dignitaries and dedicated students gathered here. To the youth, I emphasize your tremendous energy and potential, echoing the sentiment that when you rise, the nation rises.

Today, I delve into a crucial topic, guided by Abraham Lincoln's timeless words on democracy. India's journey towards becoming a developed nation hinges on a strong economy, where corporations and MSME sectors play pivotal roles. Our preamble underscores the promise of equal opportunities and a welfare state, where people's supremacy reigns over corporate interests.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) assumes significance in this context, emphasizing the role of corporations in societal well-being. We urge them to extend their support to the needy, fostering inclusivity and equality.

The government's responsibility extends to facilitating ailing businesses, ensuring a holistic approach devoid of class discrimination. When addressing loans, be it for large corporations or small units, fairness and equity are paramount. We ensure that waivers are granted without bias, aligning with our vision of a just and progressive nation.

Let us move forward united, with the welfare of every citizen at the forefront of our endeavors.

“Empowering youth fuels national progress: democracy thrives when people rise.”

I am deeply honored to receive this award, and I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Vishwanath Karadji, Rahul Karadji, esteemed friends, and dignitaries present here. Our work has focused on uplifting marginalized communities like Dalits and Tribals, advocating for their rights with determination. Rahul Karadji's commitment to strengthening our democracy is commendable. As youth, we must ensure a democracy where no one sleeps hungry, where the poor receive quality healthcare, and where every individual feels safe and secure. Together, we must address challenges such as unemployment and the widening wealth gap. Let us unite to uphold democratic values and work towards a brighter future for all. Thank you once again.

It is a profound honor to stand before you as the youngest MLA, representing the aspirations of our youth in politics. The surge of young leaders entering politics underscores the importance of time management and effective communication with our constituents and society.

My journey into politics coincided with the challenging times of the Covid outbreak, a period that demanded dedication and service from our people. This commitment to public welfare became my guiding principle, earning recognition and trust among the electorate.

I am proud to share the record of both my father and I serving as MLAs simultaneously, a testament to our family's commitment to public service. I express my gratitude to the Indian Prime Minister and Home Minister for this opportunity to serve our nation. Let us continue our journey of service, unity, and progress, ensuring a brighter future for all.

Namaskar Maharashtra,

At the 12th Annual Conclave of BCS, esteemed dignitaries and young friends, I received an invitation from the Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad. In that letter, a quote by Gandhiji resonated deeply: "Be the change you wish to see in the world." The Covid crisis revealed the fractures in our medical system, prompting me to believe that professionals from various fields should enter politics.

Despite the daunting decision, I embraced politics, driven by the belief in making a positive impact. A shayari comes to mind: "If you want to be successful, keep your steps heavy. Embrace challenges, for they are part of the journey."

Our politics has evolved over decades, especially in the 21st century where youth plays a pivotal role. We aspire for an egalitarian state, transcending barriers of caste, religion, gender, and age. Challenges will arise, but with determination, we shall overcome.

Gratitude to all for this opportunity.

“Embrace challenges, be the change. Youth leads, transcending barriers for an egalitarian state.”

One of India's greatest challenges is unemployment, a topic requiring urgent discussion. The relationship between democracy and corporates is complex. Recent news of Adaniji becoming the world's second-richest person raises questions. Should we applaud Modi or Adaniji? I believe Prime Minister Modi deserves recognition over Adaniji.

The rise of business monopolies, with Adaniji controlling various sectors, poses a threat to fair competition. Power seems to shift from the people to a wealthy elite, especially evident during the Covid crisis. While 83% of incomes plummeted, 183 individuals became billionaires, highlighting an alarming wealth concentration. This disparity raises concerns about policy-making. Are policies truly representative, or do they favor corporates? While corporates contribute to the economy, they must not undermine the level playing field. Monopolies deter investments, hindering economic growth and opportunity.

It's time to reevaluate policies to ensure they benefit the entire nation, not just a select few. Fair competition and inclusive policies are vital for India's progress.

I would like to conclude by saying Veer - Ramdhari Singh Dinkar "When a man pushes, a mountain's feet are uprooted, when a human tries hard, a stone turns into water."

“Fair competition and inclusive policies are vital for India's progress and economic prosperity.”

Shri. Paranjy Guha Thakurta

Journalist, Author, Publisher,
Educator and Documentary Filmmaker

The relationship between corporates and politicians is historical, with figures like Mahatma Gandhi and Ghanshyamji Birla exemplifying it. Congress has had treasurers like Jamnalal Bajaj, highlighting the enduring nexus in Indian politics. However, the current concentration of power is unprecedented, with a few individuals seemingly controlling the nation, a departure from India's history.

Despite discussions on unemployment and income inequality, the vast disparities remain largely unaddressed. The lavish spending on hospitality contrasts starkly with a small farmer's meager income, reflecting the deep-seated income inequality.

Electoral bonds, touted for transparency, have led to the opposite effect, raising concerns about political funding sources. The lack of scrutiny, even from the Supreme Court, adds to the concerns surrounding funding during elections.

The presence of individuals with media ownership further complicates the landscape, influencing narratives and potentially skewing public discourse. The need for transparency and accountability in political funding and media ownership is paramount for a truly democratic society.

“ The nexus between corporates, politicians, and media demands transparency and accountability for democratic integrity. ”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. Sanjay Singh

Member of Aam Aadmi Party

Respected dignitaries on the dais and my dear friends,
I am deeply grateful to Shri Rahul Karad for providing me with this invaluable opportunity. It's an irony that while Indian youth aspire to become IAS officers, doctors, and engineers, there's a reluctance towards politics. I extend my sincere thanks to Rahul Sir for this platform.

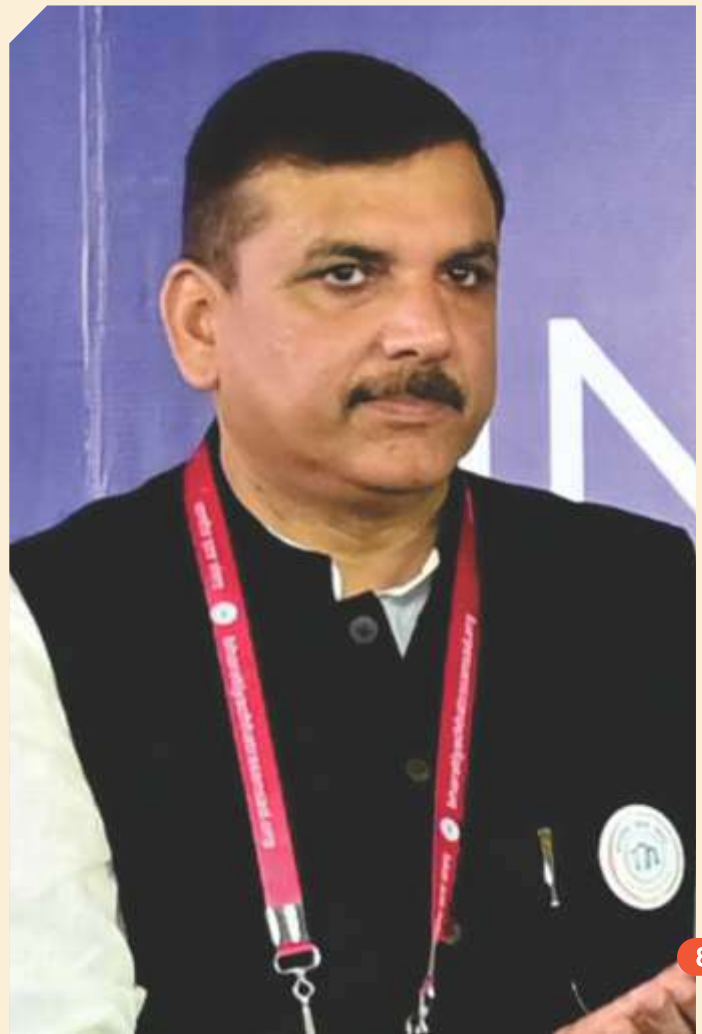

Let me commence with a thought-provoking verse: "Try boiling tears on the flame of sorrow, put colors on someone and see, the pain in your heart will definitely reduce. Take out a thorn from someone's foot and see."

Indian democracy stands as a beacon, and our constitution embodies the ideals of equality, liberty, fraternity, and secularism. To safeguard our democracy, we must uphold the principles enshrined in the Indian Constitution's preamble. We must combat caste discrimination, societal inequality, and any threats to our secular fabric.

India, with its diverse cultures and beliefs, follows the philosophy of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam, emphasizing unity in diversity. It's imperative to address minority concerns and tackle unemployment with compassion, not violence. Our nation's progress hinges on mutual respect and love, not divisive politics.

Let us strive for a developed India founded on principles of dignity, harmony, and inclusivity.

“ In unity and compassion lies the strength to build a developed and inclusive India. ”

Shri. Parimal Maya Sudhakar

Head MIT School of Government

For the past 12 years, through the platform of the Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad, we have been urging Indian youth to actively engage in politics and nation-building. Our Constitution serves as a profound source of inspiration for the youth, encapsulating the fundamental principles that guide our nation.

Allow me to briefly outline the philosophy of our Constitution. It has given rise to crucial institutions such as the Indian Parliament, Supreme Court, and Election Commission, which we must wholeheartedly trust and uphold. While we pride ourselves as the world's largest democracy, to truly become the greatest democracy, we must have faith in these institutions established by our Constitution and fulfill our responsibilities towards them.

It is high time for active participation in the democratic process, which is the primary motive behind initiating this platform. The Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad aims to unite youth and motivate them to actively participate in shaping the future of our nation.

I urge all students and dignitaries present here to reflect on our roles and responsibilities towards India, emphasizing the significance of our collective efforts in nation-building.

“Active participation in democracy is our duty; trust in institutions is the cornerstone of progress.”

Respected dignitaries and friends,

I am proud to represent Uttar Pradesh. Democracy thrives on the people's mandate, committed to their welfare. In contrast, corporatocracy prioritizes profit over public goods, influencing government decisions. Today, corporate entities dominate media, shaping narratives to serve their interests.

Transparency in the electoral bond scheme is imperative for informed decision-making. Access to information empowers citizens and ensures accountability in governance. Let us strive for a system where the voice of the people remains paramount, and where transparency leads us towards a fair and just society.

“ In democracy, transparency empowers; in corporatocracy, profit often shadows public welfare. Accessible information ensures accountability. ”

Sivaraju Uha

Warm greeting to all dignitaries and my friends

We live in a unipolar world, where at a point concept of morality and democracy are often in win with the Corporatocracy. Democracy word come from Greek which means power of the people, a political equality. Democracy expects equal treatment irrespective of caste, religion, language, gender biased. Corporatocracy is government by corporates. Corporatocracy is often term as how economic, political, and judicial system is often use for the benefit of Corporatocracy. Indian became democracy because our freedom fighter used to believe that India will be better served by the representative government, rather than corporate houses.

“ Democracy empowers equality; corporatocracy's influence challenges governance. Freedom fighters envisioned India served by representative government. ”

Create your own earth, your own sky, create aura with your own strength, you won't get anything by demand my friend, create self-confidence in your every breath. We are celebrating 75th years of independence. We have got the freedom by sacrificing lives. Our freedom fighter eradicated imperial power and democracy will be established, which will be development oriented, welfare centric. Hence, we accepted democracy by saying "Bahujaan Hitay and Bahujaan Sukhay". We have government for the policy formation, but where is power lies. According to me power center is citizen and Indian community, thank You.

“ Create your world with inner strength. Celebrating 75 years of independence, where citizen empowerment defines democracy's power.”

Shashank Sharma

All dignitaries present on the holy land of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj. Democracy is a double-edged sword, which is attacking its own people. Economics Jeffrey Sachs coined the term Corporatocracy for American democracy. In Corporatocracy any corporates can change the course and direction of the country by controlling government. And their goal is to generate maximum profit by exploiting earth's resources. This government has created rules which are going to benefit corporates and give birth to starvation and hunger. When we go to buy something, we cross check it but not in the case of elections, hence we are equally responsible.

“ Democracy's challenge: balancing growth with humanism. Awareness and responsibility shape a fair, just society.”

According to Munshi Premchand, democracy often reflects the rule of corporates and feudal systems. While leaders are elected from the masses today, the values of liberty, equality, and fraternity in our preamble need deeper practice. Historically, the downtrodden have faced injustice, prompting a commitment to increasing democratic participation. However, challenges persist, such as selling essential services like education and healthcare. The promise of "Sabka Sath, Sabka Vikas" lacks clarity on whose development is prioritized. This ambiguity extends to policy-making, where elected representatives may not have the ultimate influence. Such discrepancies, like farmer suicides juxtaposed with loan waivers for businessmen, call for a more equitable and accountable governance system.

“ Democracy's challenge: bridging gaps in liberty, equality, fraternity, and ensuring equitable development for all.”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. N. Gopalaswami IAS (Retd.),
Padma Bhushan, Chancellor,

Chairman, Madras Institute of Development Studies (MIDS),
Former Chief Election Commissioner of India

I would like to express my gratitude to Shri. Vishwanath Karad and Shri Rahul Karad. Learning from active politicians, I reflect on India's democratic status as the largest by sheer numbers. However, challenges persist, notably in areas like elections marred by violence, necessitating heavy police presence to deter armed elements.

Comparing this to developed democracies where polling stations operate smoothly with volunteers, I feel a pang of embarrassment. The opacity of electoral bonds, undisclosed donors, and reluctance to reveal sources of income by political parties are concerning. According to the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR), a significant percentage of legislative members have criminal records, including serious offenses like rape and murder.

The nexus between political parties and businessmen, while crucial for economic development, raises questions about wealth distribution and poverty alleviation. Any government's proximity to businesses mustn't jeopardize the nation's integrity. Observing the processes of the American Congress can offer insights into improving our democratic systems.

We must strive for transparency, accountability, and a fair distribution of resources for a truly progressive democracy.

“ Striving for transparency and accountability to build a progressive democracy with fair resource distribution. ”

Respected dignitaries and dear friends,

The history of cinema traces back to 1888 in England and found its first Indian expression in 1913. The revolutionary impact of 'Alam Ara' reshaped Indian cinema, marking a pivotal moment. I express gratitude to our esteemed directors present here, whose contributions have shaped our cinematic landscape.

Movies are not just entertainment; they embody our culture, values, and societal norms. Many livelihoods are intertwined with this industry, driven by love and dedication. In earlier times, theaters were the sole medium for movie viewing before the advent of television and now diverse platforms.

While Western influences are undeniable in our lives, Indian cinema has retained its unique identity. Our industry adapts but remains rooted, showcasing our resilience and creativity. As our nation develops, we integrate global customs while preserving our essence.

Let's propel Indian cinema to greater heights, showcasing our progress across all sectors. Congratulations to all, and may we continue our endeavors with unwavering energy and passion. Thank you.

Respected dignitaries, esteemed guests, and fellow students, It is indeed an honor to address this esteemed gathering at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad, where minds converge to discuss and deliberate on critical issues facing our nation. Today, we delve into a topic that resonates deeply with every Indian - the changing trends of Bharatiya cinema, or as some may say, the dichotomy of "Less Bharat, More West."

Indian cinema, since its inception, has been a kaleidoscope of emotions, traditions, and narratives that reflect the rich tapestry of our culture. From the grandeur of our epics to the realism of our social dramas, every frame has mirrored the ethos of Bharat. However, in recent times, we have witnessed a subtle shift - a shift that raises questions about the balance between our indigenous flavors and the allure of Western storytelling.

In conclusion, I urge all of us to strike a harmonious balance between tradition and modernity, between Bharat and the West. Let us cherish our cultural heritage while embracing the winds of change. Together, we can ensure that Bharatiya cinema continues to inspire, entertain, and unite us as a nation. Thank you.

“Embrace tradition's essence amidst modern winds; let Bharatiya cinema inspire, entertain, and unite us.”

Ladies and gentlemen, esteemed members of the Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad,

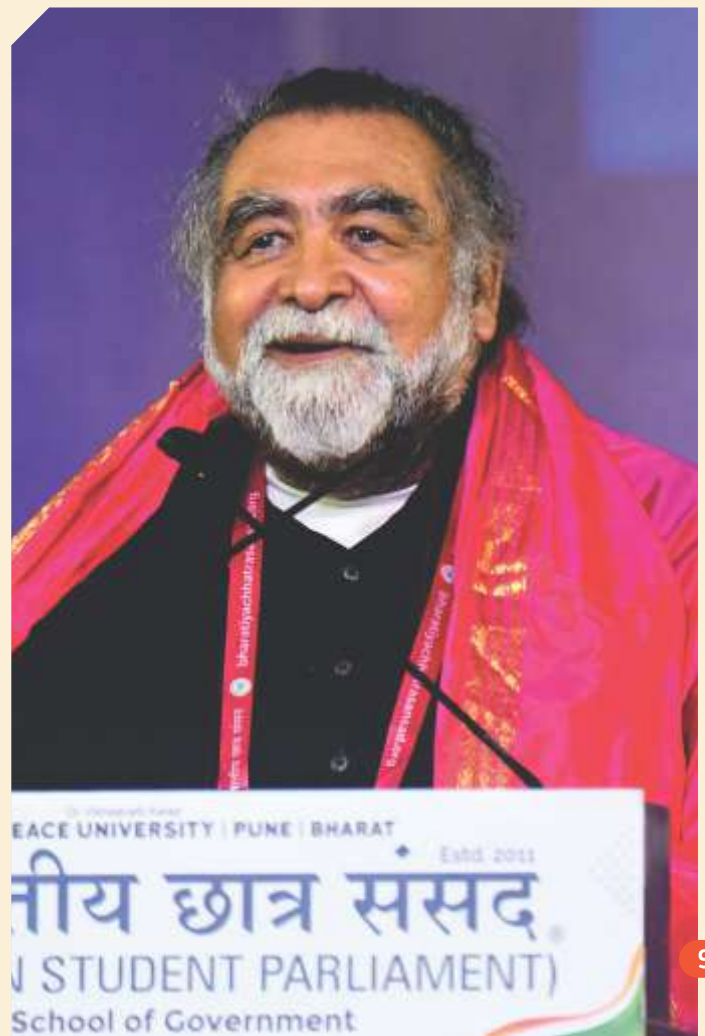

It is with great pleasure and humility that I stand before you today to discuss a topic of immense significance - the changing trends of Bharatiya cinema, encapsulated in the dichotomy of "Less Bharat, More West."

Indian cinema has always been a reflection of our diverse culture, rich heritage, and vibrant traditions. From the epics of our mythology to the tales of modern India, every frame has woven together the fabric of our identity. However, in recent times, we have witnessed a shift towards Western influences in our storytelling, aesthetics, and themes.

While the infusion of Western elements can bring freshness and global appeal to our cinema, we must be vigilant not to lose the essence of Bharat. Our narratives, rooted in our history, values, and societal dynamics, are what make Bharatiya cinema unique and resonant with audiences worldwide.

Together, we can ensure that Bharatiya cinema remains a beacon of creativity, cultural pride, and unity in diversity. Thank you.

“Embrace cultural diversity; let Bharatiya cinema unite us in pride, creativity, and global storytelling.”

Ladies and gentlemen, distinguished members of the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad,

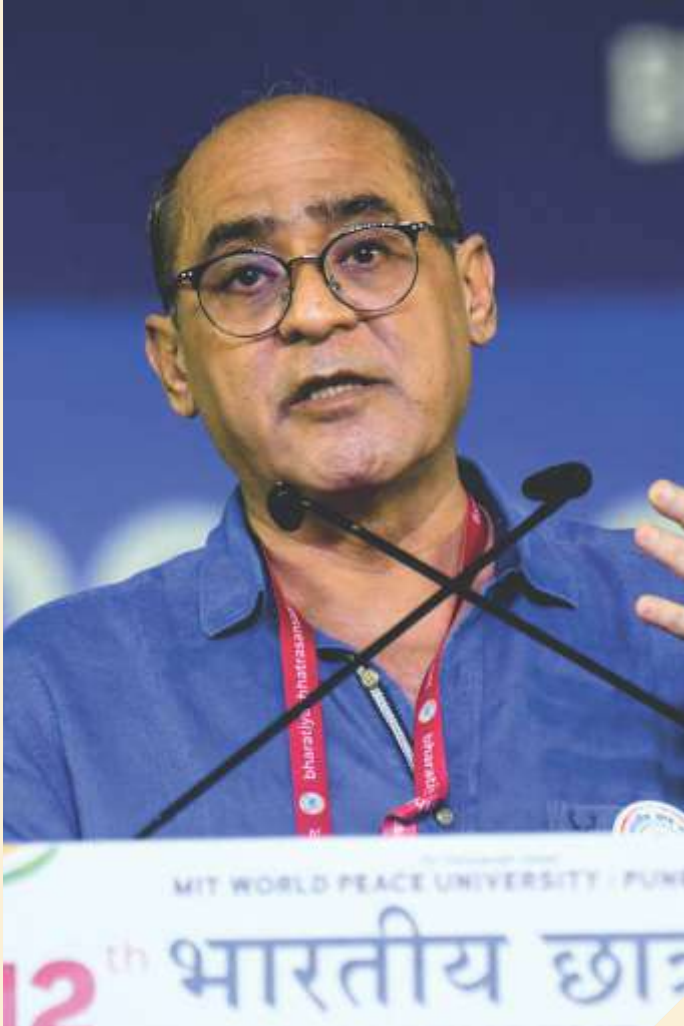

I am honored to address this esteemed gathering and delve into the fascinating topic of the changing trends of Bharatiya cinema, encapsulated in the dichotomy of "Less Bharat, More West."

Indian cinema has undergone a remarkable evolution, showcasing a blend of traditional narratives and contemporary influences. While our cinema has always been a reflection of our diverse culture and heritage, there has been a noticeable shift towards embracing Western elements in recent times.

The infusion of Western storytelling techniques, themes, and aesthetics has undoubtedly added a layer of global appeal to Bharatiya cinema. However, amidst this transformation, we must ensure that we do not lose sight of our cultural roots and unique storytelling traditions.

As creators and custodians of our cinematic heritage, it is imperative that we strike a delicate balance between Bharat and the West. Let us embrace the diversity of narratives, celebrate our cultural richness, and foster innovation in storytelling. Together, we can ensure that Bharatiya cinema continues to inspire, entertain, and unite us as a nation. Thank you.

“Embrace cultural fusion for cinematic excellence; let Bharatiya cinema inspire and unite global audiences.”

Indian cinema, historically rooted in Vedic customs, embraced global influences over time. While it once showcased traditional values through works like Kalidas' dramas and Rabindranath's Gitanjali, and received international acclaim with Satyajit Ray's 'Pather Panchali', modern Indian cinema reflects a Westernized trend. This evolution, however, aligns with our cultural ethos of accepting diverse perspectives, as emphasized by Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. While Indian cinema has been criticized for negative societal influences, it has also played a role in eradicating archaic practices like patriarchy and stigma around homosexuality. The advent of OTT platforms has further revolutionized cinema, offering daily innovations and diverse content.

“Indian cinema reflects our cultural evolution, from Vedic traditions to embracing global values and OTT innovations.”

"Respected dignitaries and friends,

Indian cinema, from Amitabh Bachchan's angry young man to Madhubala's Sati Savitri, reflects the evolving dynamics of our society. Ayushmann Khurrana and Imran Khan portray polite young men, while Priyanka Chopra embodies an independent and aspiring woman. Our cinema, rooted in cultural traditions, showcases the respect, and love inherent in Indian culture. It mirrors our society's diversity, portraying how even small, poor families find joy amidst adversity, emphasizing that love transcends poverty. Movies like 'Raazi' and 'Lakshya' evoke patriotism, uniting us in our quest for happiness and celebrating the immense diversity that defines India.

“Indian cinema mirrors society's evolution, celebrating diversity, love, and resilience, transcending poverty and igniting patriotism.”

Abhishek Singh Jadon

A warm welcome to dignitaries and friends, Indian cinema, as seen in 'Uri,' exemplifies the courage of soldiers with the iconic 'How's the Josh?' line, showcasing its impactful storytelling. Reflecting on my post-12th journey, my sister's counsel on tradition, honor, and discipline in pursuing B. Tech resonates deeply. Indian music, stirring patriotism, strikes a chord with every Indian. Our cinema, while embracing global influences, stays grounded in our culture and values, resonating worldwide. It's a privilege to witness Indian cinema's fusion with our rich heritage, maintaining its core amidst evolving trends.

“ Indian cinema: Courage, tradition, and global resonance—unifying culture with impactful storytelling worldwide. ”

Aditi Gupta

Respected dignitaries and friends, from the era of DD National to modern films like 'Mission Mangal' and 'Dangal,' Indian cinema has tackled social taboos and revitalized patriotism through movies like 'Satyamev Jayate' and 'Border.' However, concerns arise as Western influence leads to explicit scenes, causing discomfort among family viewers. We must prioritize traditional music icons like Lata Mangeshkar and Mohammed Rafi over pop songs for cultural preservation. Our goal is to make Indian cinema globally competitive while ensuring acceptance and cultural integrity.

“ Preserve culture, ignite patriotism: Indian cinema's journey from tradition to global competitiveness and acceptance. ”

Respected dignitaries and friends, We're all familiar with the evolution of Indian cinema and its impact on audiences. From admiring actresses' performances and styles to witnessing shifts in movie themes, we've seen a journey. In the 1980s, revolutionary and family-centric films were prominent, but commercialization altered the landscape. Themes shifted to violence and criminality, erasing the essence of Indianness. However, political satire films like 'Toilet: Ek Prem Katha' showcase a different narrative. The 1940s introduced us to parallel cinema, and today's modern Indian cinema is undeniably changing, reflecting societal shifts and diverse storytelling approaches.

Respected dignitaries, esteemed guests, and friends,

I extend a warm welcome to each one of you as we gather here to delve into a crucial theme - "Bharatiya Media: Ruled by Noise or Ruled by Law?"

In any democratic society, the pillars of Legislative, Judiciary, and Executive are essential for the smooth functioning of governance. However, it is the fourth pillar, the media, that plays a pivotal role in ensuring transparency, accountability, and the dissemination of information to the public.

We are honored to have with us today esteemed dignitaries who have contributed significantly to the media landscape in India. I welcome Shri. Manish Tewari, a respected Member of Parliament, Shri. Saurabh Dwivedi, Founding Editor of Lallantop and Editor at India Today Hindi, Shri. Aprameya Radhakrishna, the CEO & Co-founder of Koo, and Shri. Ashutosh, a noted journalist and co-founder of satyahindi.com.

Through insightful discussions and constructive dialogue, let us explore the role of Bharatiya media in upholding the principles of law, ethics, and responsible journalism.

Once again, a heartfelt welcome to all our distinguished guests and participants. Thank you.

Shri. Manish Tewari

Hon'ble Member of Parliament, Lok Sabha
(INC, Anandpur Sahib, Punjab),
National Spokesperson, INC & Former Minister for Information & Broadcasting, Govt. of India

As we gather to discuss the theme "Bharatiya Media – Ruled by Noise or Ruled by Law?" it is crucial to delve into the complexities of media governance and its impact on our democratic fabric. I bring a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing our media landscape.

The media, when guided by principles of truth, impartiality, and adherence to legal frameworks, plays a vital role in informing, educating, and empowering citizens. However, the proliferation of noise, sensationalism, and agenda-driven narratives threatens to erode its credibility and integrity.

We must strive for a media ecosystem that upholds the rule of law, respects journalistic ethics, and promotes transparency and accountability. Regulatory mechanisms should balance media freedom with responsibilities, ensuring that misinformation and sensationalism are curbed without stifling genuine journalistic endeavors.

I urge all stakeholders, including media professionals, policymakers, and civil society, to engage in meaningful dialogue and collaborative efforts to foster a media environment that serves the public interest and strengthens our democracy.

Let us work together to ensure that Bharatiya Media is not ruled by noise but by the principles of law, integrity, and public service.

“ Bharatiya Media thrives when ruled by law, integrity, and a commitment to public service. ”

Shri. Saurabh Dwivedi

Founding Editor, Lallantop, Editor, India Today Hindi

I have witnessed firsthand the evolving landscape of media in India. Our media is a powerful force, capable of shaping opinions, driving narratives, and holding power to account.

However, there's a growing concern about the balance between sensationalism, noise, and adherence to legal and ethical standards. While sensationalism may grab attention, it often sacrifices truth and integrity.

We must strive for a media environment that prioritizes factual reporting, ethical journalism, and accountability. Media freedom should be cherished but not at the cost of spreading misinformation or inciting discord.

Regulatory frameworks play a crucial role in ensuring that media operates within legal boundaries while upholding democratic values. Collaborative efforts between media organizations, policymakers, and civil society are essential to achieve this balance.

I urge all stakeholders to engage in constructive dialogue and take collective responsibility for nurturing a media ecosystem that is ruled by both law and integrity, thereby serving the public interest and strengthening our democracy.

“ Bharatiya Media's strength lies in truth, integrity, and adherence to legal and ethical standards for a vibrant democracy. ”

The media landscape in India is undergoing a profound transformation, with digital platforms playing an increasingly prominent role. While digital media offers immense opportunities for free expression and diverse voices, it also presents challenges in terms of misinformation, sensationalism, and maintaining journalistic standards.

At Koo, we believe in empowering users to engage in meaningful conversations while upholding the principles of truth, authenticity, and accountability. Our platform is committed to fostering a space where diverse viewpoints can coexist harmoniously, guided by legal and ethical frameworks.

The question of whether Bharatiya Media is ruled by noise or law is pertinent in this digital age. While noise may grab attention, it is the adherence to legal and ethical standards that ensures credibility and trustworthiness.

As we navigate this dynamic media landscape, collaboration between digital platforms, traditional media, regulators, and civil society is crucial. Together, we can create a media ecosystem that is both vibrant and responsible, serving the interests of the public and upholding democratic values.

Let us strive for a Bharatiya Media that is not only ruled by law but also by principles of integrity, transparency, and public service.

“ Bharatiya Media's credibility rests on upholding truth, authenticity, and accountability, guided by legal and ethical frameworks. ”

Shri. Ashutosh

The media landscape in India is diverse and dynamic, reflecting a range of perspectives and approaches. While the media plays a crucial role in shaping public discourse and holding power to account, there are concerns about sensationalism, bias, and the influence of vested interests.

As journalists, we have a responsibility to uphold the principles of truth, objectivity, and integrity. Our commitment to factual reporting and ethical journalism is what distinguishes credible media from noise.

In today's digital age, where information spreads rapidly and misinformation abounds, the need for media regulation and adherence to legal frameworks is paramount. It is essential to strike a balance between media freedom and responsible journalism, ensuring that the public receives accurate and reliable information.

I believe that Bharatiya Media can thrive when guided by both law and ethical standards. Collaborative efforts between media organizations, regulators, and civil society are key to achieving this balance.

Let us work towards a media environment that is not ruled by noise but by the principles of truth, fairness, and accountability.

12th BHARTIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

CHAIRMAN OF THE SESSION

Smt. Ritu Khanduri Bhushan

Hon'ble Speaker,
Uttarakhand Legislative Assembly

It is an honor to be here today as the Chairman of this session at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad, focusing on a topic of profound significance – the Uniform Civil Code (UCC). This platform provides a vital space for us to engage in meaningful dialogue about the future of our nation and the principles that underpin our democratic fabric.

The concept of a Uniform Civil Code is rooted in the vision of a unified and equitable India, where all citizens are governed by the same set of personal laws, irrespective of religion, caste, or creed. This idea is enshrined in Article 44 of our Constitution, reflecting the aspirations of our founding fathers for a just and harmonious society.

As we delve into this discussion, it is essential to approach the topic with an open mind and a respectful attitude towards diverse perspectives. The implementation of a UCC is not merely a legal reform but a step towards greater social integration and national unity. It is imperative that we consider the cultural sensitivities and historical contexts that influence our society.

I encourage you all to actively participate in this dialogue, bringing forth your ideas, concerns, and aspirations. Let us work together to envision a framework that upholds justice, equality, and the rich diversity of our nation.

Thank you, and I look forward to an engaging and productive session.

“ Unified in diversity, we build a just India where equality and harmony guide our future. ”

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Shri. Nilesh Cabral

Hon'ble Minister for Legislative Affairs,
Environment & Climate Change, Law and Judiciary,
Public Works, Govt. of Goa

It is my privilege to inaugurate this important session on the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad. This gathering represents a crucial step in engaging our youth in the discourse on policies that shape our nation's future.

Goa, my home state, stands as a unique example in India, having implemented the UCC successfully for decades. Our experience underscores the potential benefits of such a code in promoting social harmony and legal uniformity. The UCC aims to replace the fragmented system of personal laws with a unified legal framework, ensuring equality and justice for all citizens, regardless of their religious or cultural backgrounds.

As we embark on this discussion, it is vital to recognize the diversity and pluralism that define our great nation. The implementation of a UCC must be approached with sensitivity and inclusiveness, respecting the varied traditions and practices that coexist in India.

I urge all participants to engage in this dialogue with an open mind and a commitment to understanding the complexities involved. Let us strive to find a balanced approach that harmonizes our rich cultural heritage with the principles of equality and justice.

Together, we can pave the way for a more unified and equitable India. I look forward to the insightful discussions and innovative ideas that will emerge from this session.

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. D. Vasanth Kumar

Renowned Farmer Leader, MIT-SOG Alumina

I am honored to speak to you today on the vital topic of the Uniform Civil Code (UCC). India, a nation rich in cultural diversity, has long celebrated its myriad traditions. Yet, in our journey towards true equality and justice, the implementation of the UCC stands as a significant milestone. Envisioned in Article 44 of our Constitution, the UCC aims to harmonize personal laws across all religions, ensuring that every citizen is treated equally before the law.

As a farmer leader and proud MIT-SOG alumnus, I have seen firsthand the power of unity. Our agricultural communities thrive on collaboration and shared goals, transcending individual differences. The UCC embodies this principle on a national scale, promoting social cohesion and national integration. It seeks to eliminate disparities in personal laws, ensuring that gender justice and equality are upheld across all communities.

The time has come for us to embrace this transformative idea. Implementing the UCC is not just a legal reform; it is a step towards building a just and equitable society. It aligns with our democratic ideals, reinforcing the notion that all citizens, regardless of their background, deserve equal rights and protection under the law.

Let us work collectively to realize this vision of a unified and progressive India. Together, we can ensure that the Uniform Civil Code becomes a reality, fostering harmony and justice for all. Thank you.

Shri. Raashid Alvi

Senior Leader, Indian National Congress,
Former Member of Parliament, Lok Sabha

It is a privilege to address you at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad on the critical topic of the Uniform Civil Code (UCC). India, a mosaic of cultures, languages, and religions, has always embraced diversity. However, our journey towards equality and justice demands a unified legal framework that transcends these differences.

The UCC, as envisioned in Article 44 of our Constitution, seeks to standardize personal laws across all communities, ensuring that every citizen enjoys the same rights and protections. This vision is not about erasing our diverse identities but about creating a cohesive society where everyone is treated with fairness and respect.

As a senior leader of the Indian National Congress and a former Member of Parliament, I have seen the transformative power of inclusive policies. The UCC promises to uphold the principles of gender justice, national integration, and social equality. It addresses disparities in personal laws that often disadvantage women and marginalized groups, promoting a more just and equitable society.

The time has indeed come to realize this visionary idea. Implementing the UCC is a step towards strengthening our democracy and fostering unity. Let us work together to champion this cause, ensuring that our nation's laws reflect our commitment to equality and justice for all. Thank you.

Senior Advocate, Supreme Court of India,
President, Supreme Court Women's Lawyers
Association (SCWLA)

It is an honor to address you at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad on the pressing issue of the Uniform Civil Code (UCC). As a Senior Advocate at the Supreme Court of India and President of the Supreme Court Women's Lawyers Association, I have witnessed firsthand the disparities in our legal system that affect various communities.

The UCC, envisaged in Article 44 of our Constitution, aims to bring uniformity to personal laws across all religions, ensuring that every citizen is treated equally under the law. This is not merely a legal reform but a significant step towards gender justice, social equality, and national unity.

In our diverse nation, different personal laws often lead to unequal treatment, particularly affecting women and marginalized groups. The UCC promises to eliminate these discrepancies, offering a common framework that upholds the principles of equality and justice for all.

The time has indeed come to embrace this transformative idea. Implementing the UCC will not only strengthen our legal system but also enhance social harmony by fostering a sense of unity among our citizens. Let us work together to champion this cause and build a more just and equitable India. Thank you.

Shri. Harjot Singh Bains

Hon'ble Cabinet Minister for Education, Mines and Geology, Water Resources and Jails, Govt. of Punjab (On "Educational Reforms required to meet the aspirations of the Young Generations")

I am honored to address you at the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad on the topic of the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) – an idea whose time has indeed come. As the Cabinet Minister for Education in Punjab, I am deeply aware of the transformative power of education and the critical need for reforms that reflect our evolving society.

The UCC, enshrined in Article 44 of our Constitution, aims to unify personal laws across all religions, ensuring equality and justice for every citizen. This is not just a legal necessity but a societal imperative. In our diverse nation, differing personal laws often perpetuate inequalities, particularly affecting women and marginalized communities.

Educational reforms are equally essential to meet the aspirations of our young generations. By incorporating the principles of the UCC into our educational curriculum, we can promote a deeper understanding of equality, justice, and national integration among our youth. Education is the bedrock of societal change, and it is through enlightened minds that we can achieve a cohesive and just society.

Let us work together to champion the UCC and educational reforms that reflect our commitment to these values. Together, we can build a future where every citizen enjoys equal rights and opportunities, fostering a harmonious and progressive India. Thank you.

The youth of today are remarkably advanced, thanks to their exposure to cutting-edge technology like Artificial Intelligence. They are smarter and more capable. However, one crucial aspect that's missing is proper training centers for representatives, similar to what we see in developed countries. To address this, we must create mechanisms that spark the younger generation's interest in politics. With a population of 1.4 billion, we need skilled policy makers to govern effectively.

For instance, focusing on right policies for medical education can solve many problems, such as excessively high fees in medical colleges. This change can only happen through effective politics and governance. Therefore, we should establish political training schools at grassroots levels. Every student should earn a certificate in democracy leadership and governance, empowering them and setting them apart, similar to the benefits of the BCS certification. This initiative will not only enhance our political landscape but also foster a generation of informed and capable leaders. Thank you.

“Empower youth through political training for informed and capable leadership in governance and democracy.”

Padma Vibhushan, Chancellor,

The 12th BCS, conceived by Shri. Rahul Karad, has evolved from an event into a transformative movement. I'm often called a dangerous optimist because I believe in the immense potential of our youth. Just as Atal Bihari Vajpayee emphasized IT as our future, I echo that sentiment by stating that Indian Talent (IT) is indeed our future. India, known for its rich reservoir of ideas, has historically faced brain drain to countries like the USA, which are perceived as lands of opportunity. However, initiatives like Startup India, championed by our Prime Minister, are changing this narrative.

Remarkably, 50% of all Unicorns now originate from tier 3 or tier 2 cities, showcasing the democratization of ideas. I offer five mantras:

First, embrace failure as the First Attempt in Learning (FAIL) and view your mistakes as valuable lessons. Second, set high aspirations, for they are the gateway to your possibilities. Third, understand that success is not instant like coffee; hard work is irreplaceable. Fourth, embody leadership with compassion for society and a relentless passion for your work, fostering a convex lens leadership that unites rather than divides. Lastly, never cease learning, and always believe that your best is yet to come. Thank you.

“Embrace failure, aspire high, and lead with compassion—your best is yet to come. Success is inevitable.”

Shri. Bhagat Singh Koshyari

Hon'ble Governor of Maharashtra

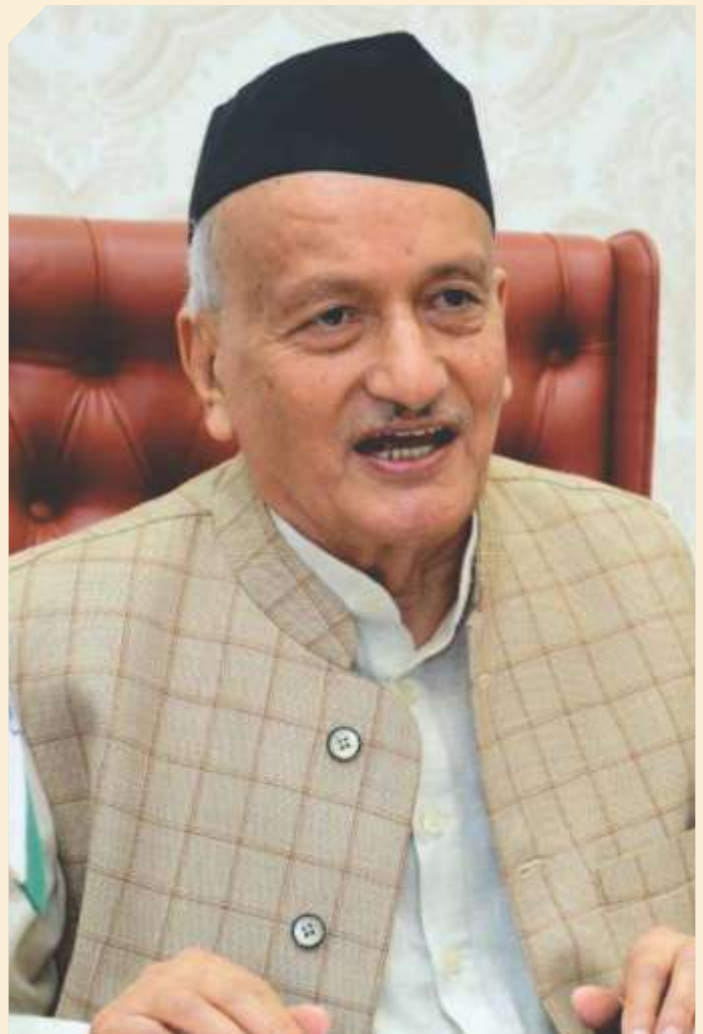

The convergence of modern science and spirituality holds the key to establishing peace in our society. The 12th BCS serves as a guiding force in this journey. In our discussions during this event, we've had the privilege of learning from great stalwarts like Mashelkar sir, who has elucidated profound concepts in a clear and accessible manner, urging us to absorb and implement them.

One idea that resonated deeply is "dangerous optimism." Many falter due to negativity, but the path to success lies in embracing optimism. Students today are driven by curiosity, propelling them in the right direction. In a democratic society, involvement in politics from college days is crucial. Mini governments within educational institutions foster understanding and engagement.

MIT WPU stands as a beacon, with over 8000 students from 450 universities participating. We must aim high, never succumbing to disappointment, as Swamiji reminds us to "Arise, and stop not till the goal is reached."

The amalgamation of science and spirituality, as advocated by Swamiji, forms the basis of a new world. It's inspiring to witness renowned scientists delve into values and spirituality, showcasing the intrinsic connection. Let's focus on both realms to empower our society holistically. Thank you.

“Embrace dangerous optimism, unite science and spirituality, and aim high to empower society and achieve lasting peace.”

Smt. Sumitra Mahajan

Padma Bhushan, Former Speaker, Lok Sabha
(On "Mantras for youth to be successful in Public Life")

Every second is crucial; observe what's happening around you. I'm eager to have a dialogue about my political experiences. A pure heart knows no fear, seeks no prestige or position. Delivery driven by selflessness will aid you at any cost.

Personality development may puzzle, but who you are matters most—character is paramount. Remember, success requires more than just desirable qualities; character building is key. Sitting atop with crow-like qualities won't make you soar like an eagle. To ascend, humility is crucial; greatness isn't attained solely by status.

Our Prime Minister rightly emphasizes walking the path of duty (Kartavyapath) over mere ceremonial routes (Rajpath) for India's greatness. Let's embrace selflessness, humility, and character as we strive for success. Thank you.

“Embrace selflessness, build character, and walk the path of duty to soar high in life's journey.”

It is a privilege to address the valedictory session of the 12th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad. The Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad has been a platform for dialogue, debate, and empowerment, reflecting the vibrancy and potential of our youth.

ABOUT MIT SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

“Not all politicians are corrupt. There are more clean politicians. The youth should enter mainstream politics to serve the nation.”

- Rahul V. Karad

- First of its kind institute in India & Asia for a career in Politics
- 19 years, 450+ alumni in public life
- Two-year Post Graduate degree program in Political Leadership & Government
- Teaching about various aspects of “Government” and “Governance”
- First-year on-campus learning and second-year off-campus training

The School of Government was initiated in 2005, a time when politics was not considered to be a good career option. We strongly believe that educated youth with professional training can make an impact at the societal level by joining politics. Today after engagement of youth in various movements and political issues of the country, we at MIT-SOG have been proven right.

Bringing youth representation into the mainstream of political and social democracy and imparting practical leadership training to prepare them for future leadership, was the commitment behind establishing this unique school in 2005, known as MAEER's MIT School of Government (now MIT-WPU School of Government, MIT-SOG). Apart from Electoral politics, it provides attractive roles in functional politics, as Political Analyst, Political Strategist, Campaign Manager, Election Consultant, Constituency Manager, Policy and Research Associate, PRO, Social media analyst, etc.

This being our 19th year of operation, we are glad to share that we have trained hundreds of youth and are proud to see many of our alumni, holding important positions in public life. We rededicate ourselves to the cause of building a strong political leadership, across levels and political parties. When we at MIT-SOG grow from strength to strength, we know that our political system too benefits, by getting an excellent pool of talent. We wish to strengthen our contribution to our country, in this unique and value-adding fashion each moment.

Vishwanath D. Karad and Rahul V. Karad, the moving force and initiators of MIT School of Government, the first school in India & Asia for a career in politics.

In the year 1998, WPC was awarded the UNESCO Chair for Human Rights, Democracy, Tolerance, and Peace, in recognition of its outstanding work in the area of establishing a Culture of Peace in the world. This is the first such Chair in Asia and only the second in the Asia-Pacific region.

To give shape to his vision, Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad has initiated several national and international level conferences and seminars that carry out humanitarian activities, and encourage physical fitness and sports activities. There are several annual events too such as the Saint Shree Dnyaneshwara and Saint Shree Tukaram Endowment Lecture Series. Projects such as the Environmental Improvement and Pollution Control Project at Alandi and Dehu are aimed at bettering the environment. Transforming Pilgrim Centres into Divine Knowledge Centres, and establishment of Vishwa Shanti Sangh, a citizens' organization involve people wishing to work for establishing a culture of peace. Further organizing the National Conferences on Communal Harmony and constitution of Philosopher Saint Shri Dnyaneshwara World Peace Prize on the lines of the Nobel Peace Prize emphasize WPC's commitment towards establishing a culture of peace.

ABOUT PHILOSOPHER SAINT SHREE DNYANESHWARA WORLD PEACE LIBRARY & WORLD PEACE PRAYER HALL

The brainchild of Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad, the Philosopher Saint Shree Dnyaneshwara World Peace Library & World Peace Prayer Hall is an epitome of architectural magnificence and is a contribution towards the knowledge divine. Conceptualized, designed, planned, and accomplished under the headship of Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad, the monument is sure to make a lasting impression on the world landscape and become a global marvel.

Presently, known to be the largest dome in the world, the remarkable monument has a diameter of 160 feet. With only 24 pillars as the foundation, the structure can accommodate more than 3000 people at any given time.

The dome houses a library that expands across an area of 62500 feet, with a prayer hall above it with 54 statues of revered scholars, saints, scientists, philosophers, and gurus.

The superlative monument envisioned by Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad conveys to the world the message of peace, divinity, and integrity and depicts the Vedic principle of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' (The world is one family).
