BCS is a mission. It is a journey, initiated by MIT School of Government. Over the last decade we have been endeavouring to motivate youth to uplift the existing image of Indian politics, by bringing in cleaner, better informed and healthier practices into the system. It is indeed gratifying to see that our efforts have borne fruit and several of our alumni are working both at the grassroots and higher levels of politics in India and remain committed to the cause of creating a better India!

ESTEEMED SPEAKERS OF 14TH BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD 2025

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is a platform created for the student union leaders and also other politically active student leaders of India to encourage them to voice their opinions and to provide them with an opportunity to listen to the experts on various issues facing the nation. This mission is supported by Legislative Assemblies, Ministries of Parliamentary Affairs and Youth Ministries of various State Governments.

Disclaimer: Indian Student Parliament (Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad) is an independent, apolitical platform which is not in any way affiliated to any national or regional political party or media house in India or overseas.

IMPORTANT NOTE

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is an apolitical platform where student leaders from all ideologies - political, religious, sectarian, or otherwise - assemble to voice their opinions. The effort is to sensitize the youth about the ideals of democracy by exposing them to varied views and opinions. The objective is also to sensitize them towards political processes to bring them into the political mainstream. BCS aims to provide feedback to the government to help it formulate policies for the youth and other sectors, by ascertaining the pulse of the people through the medium of youth. Thus, BCS is the perfect reflection of democracy in full function, irrespective of political, religious, sectarian, or any other ideologies.

About MIT School of Government

MIT School of Government, (MIT-SOG) Pune, was founded in 2005. It is the first of its kind to be set up in not only India but also Asia that imparts leadership training to the educated youth of India desirous of making a career in Politics and Government. During the last 19 years of successful operations, we having trained hundreds of youth are proud to see many of our alumni holding important positions in public life. When we at MIT-SOG grow from strength to strength, we know that our political system too benefits, by getting an excellent pool of talent drawn from the youth.

We expanded the canvas of MIT School of Government in 2011, by creating a separate platform titled as Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS) and bringing out classroom training to the thousands of youth through the unique platform. BCS represents an apolitical, non-partisan and independent platform. Through its annual national conclave, the platform is transforming the outlook of thousands of youth and reaffirming their respect for politics, political leaders, democracy, and its institutions.

VISION

To create the most ethical, spirited, and competent public leadership in the country, which will shape our policies, make our democracy vibrant, and bridge the chasm between the way we are being governed today and the way we want to be governed.

MISSION

To initiate the spirit of student politics in the youth of today and inculcate public-spirited and socially sensitive values right during their formative years. We aim to raise the extent of sensitivity, awareness, involvement, responsiveness, access, and say of youth in political and democratic processes so that a healthy democratic system is evolved. Such a system will then produce competent public leaders and policymakers, from the grassroots and all walks of life.

OUR INSPIRATION & BLESSINGS

Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad

Founder & Chief Patron, MAEER's MIT, Pune
President, MIT World Peace University
Executive President, BCS

I am elated today to see Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad celebrate its 14th milestone year. The Great Noble Son of India Swami Vivekananda had said "Union of Science and Spirituality alone will bring peace to mankind," and today my belief in these words has only grown stronger. All the student leaders who had assembled at the 14th milestone year of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad from across the nation are partaking in your Rashtra Dharma, as you are the initiators of new-age India.

You gathered to gain knowledge from the leaders and that shows your commitment to your country. You must have taken inspiration from these leaders and philosophers and subsequently, you must spread this by motivating and encouraging your peers whom you will interact with later. Only then will your journey in the 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad prove to be successful.

When our country Mother India celebrated the diamond jubilee Independence Day, I was only reminded of my duty, and the duty of BCS, and men who have great concern for making this country very unique country in this world. Perform your duty; duty towards mother, father and the family, the society, the nation, and the whole world - Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam.

You are the hope and faith of thousands of Indians and it is you who will bring clean politics to India. From this moment onwards we have to create a new image for India that we hope to see in the future. Through our continued and dedicated efforts, we have to ensure that our country India emerges as a knowledge corridor of the world - Vishva Guru. I appeal to you to keep this word.

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student Parliament) - A Seed Thought

“The time is more relevant than ever for the educated youth to come forward to shoulder the responsibility of leadership in public life. Unfortunately, the majority of them still shy away from politics. We remain committed to change the picture.”

Dr. Rahul V. Karad

Founder Convener, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student Parliament)

The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has been a testament to the immense potential and confidence of India's youth. Witnessing student leaders from diverse corners of the nation actively engaging in this conclave over three days reinforces our belief in the youth's dedication to enhance their faith, knowledge, and leadership skills. This concerted effort to prepare for future leadership roles and public life is unprecedented in Bharat's history. When we initiated the concept of the School of Government, aimed at training future political leaders, skepticism abounded. However, today, after 19 years of relentless endeavor, the MIT School of Government (MIT-SOG) stands as a beacon of success. MIT-SOG offers a unique Master's Program in Political Leadership and Government, empowering educated youth with professional training to make a societal impact through politics.

The journey of MIT-SOG and Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS) has been instrumental in nurturing a national asset - the youth movement. BCS, launched in 2011, has democratized opportunities for thousands of young minds. It has evolved into a platform connecting students, teachers, and leaders from various sectors, facilitating dialogue, and fostering leadership development.

The impact of BCS extends beyond its annual gatherings. It has catalyzed the establishment of other significant initiatives, including the National Legislators' Conference, National Women's Parliament, National Teachers' Congress, and Festival on Democracy. These events have attracted participation from diverse stakeholders, amplifying the discourse on governance, education, and democracy. Over the past 14 years, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad hosted eminent personalities from politics, academia, and spirituality, inspiring young leaders nationwide. Their insights have ignited a ripple effect, empowering youth to drive positive change in their respective regions. While Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has garnered recognition globally as an exceptional model for youth engagement, we acknowledge that our journey is far from over. There are still miles to traverse, challenges to overcome, and aspirations to fulfill. Yet, with unwavering dedication and collective effort, we remain committed to advancing the cause of democratic leadership and societal transformation. As we reflect on our achievements, let us renew our resolve to continue nurturing the spirit of democracy, dialogue, and ethical leadership. Together, let us embark on the journey ahead, confidence in our ability to shape a brighter future for India and the world. Thank you.

OUR INSPIRATION & BLESSINGS

We are proudly witnessing the great strides made by the Indian youth in several spheres of activities. But the youth has been shying away from sociopolitical responsibilities today. The challenge is to get the youth involved in building the future India, which is their India, which will script their future. In this context, I consider the success of the Indian Student Parliament (Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad) as an important milestone in today's socio-political environment of India. Indeed, the MIT School of Government has done remarkably well by drawing an overwhelming response from the student community by holding the first-ever Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad in Pune. The event drew a wide appreciation from the Indian youth.

Further, this brought the youth, the decision-makers, eminent members of civil society, corporate leaders, and senior political leaders on one common platform. I would like to applaud the bold, dynamic, and visionary leadership of Dr. Rahul V. Karad. From concept to execution, he leads from the front. I must also appreciate the commitment of the Government of Maharashtra, as shown by its genuine support of the idea as well as the event. I am confident that if we mobilize student leaders all over the country, instill confidence in them, and create a social awakening, then India will be on the move to occupy a top seat at the table in the Comity of Nations as the 21st century unfolds. I extend my heartiest greetings for the successful conduct of the 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.

Dr. R. A. Mashelkar

Eminent Scientist, National Research
Professor, Chairman, Governing Council,
MIT School of Government, Pune

During our freedom struggle the idea of 'Nai Talim' was contemplated by Mahatma Gandhi and his close associates. The purpose was to integrate academic learning with the external environment. At a higher level, the scheme stimulated students' awareness about the surrounding issues and empathy and initiated their preparation for social commitment. The concept could not gain enough ground, but its relevance remains everlasting. Especially in today's times, when the educational system has become so career-oriented, compartmentalizing society and rendering individuals as isolated units in themselves. Instead of bringing people together, it has created walls and distances among them. Consequently, there is apathy among the students about the serious issues in society and a lack of concern for the marginalized population. This self-centric education can't create leaders and activists. This state of affairs needs major churning. Fortunately, the initiative by MIT School of Government to organize the Indian Student Parliament deserves appreciation. It will help percolate the social bonds and commitment and inspire students to action. Its motto 'Inspiring Youth for Strengthening Democracy' is greatly symbolic in the sense that the time has come for the action of youth. I extend all my wishes for its success.

She is the iconic figure of Myanmar's historic fight for democracy against the military junta that ruled the country for many years. She had addressed the Indian Students Parliament on video during its third edition.

IN QUEST OF DEMOCRACY...

"Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence"

"Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence" for over two decades, Ms Suu Kyi underwent numerous hardships. In honour of her dedicated and devoted quest for peace and democracy, she was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1991. She has also been conferred with the Sakharov Prize for Freedom of Thought in 1990 and Jawarharlal Nehru Award for International Understanding in 1992, among other international recognitions.

Ms Suu Kyi addressed the gathering of 3rd Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad on 10th January 2013. Given below is an extract of her message.

"Parliament is about discussion and debate. Through discussion and debate conflicts can be resolved without violence. Some violence seems to have taken place in some parliaments but one would say these are aberrations rather than staunch conflicts. These can arise from singularity as well as from differences. Please use this opportunity for discussion and debate to find out how you can make enduring values last and how you find more values that will give hope to all of us who are living in the world that aims out to reach out to us from day to day."

Malala Yousufzai is the icon of the young world, particularly for the girls promoting the cause of women's education even while living in a very hostile environment and after having almost lost her life for the cause. Her speech was showcased during the inaugural session of the 4th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.

"Thank you so much for inviting me, I am really sorry that I am not there, but it's a great opportunity to talk to Youth, the new generation. It is very important that the youth takes part in politics because the youth is the one who is going to be the future of tomorrow and for the country's prosperity and development, so it is necessary to be in politics.

I want to be in politics because I think it is the better way to work for education, work for the women's rights and for the development of my country. I truly and truly support all of you that join politics and work in politics because you are working for your country, for the people living in your country and your role is also important." Thank you so much.

Methodology and Approach of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS)

A National Movement to Inspire, Educate, and Empower Future Leaders

The Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS), founded in 2011 under the visionary leadership of Dr. Rahul V. Karad, stands as an apolitical, transformative leadership initiative that brings together thousands of youths from across the nation with one powerful mission: to awaken their sense of democratic responsibility and inspire them to take charge of Bharat's future through ethical leadership, constructive politics, and civic engagement.

Conduct of Session:

Each session of BCS is meticulously structured to reflect real-world challenges, national concerns, and democratic values. Topics are chosen to provoke thought and debate around pressing issues, such as governance, youth participation in politics, development, sustainability, and ethical leadership. Four student leaders express their views on the given topic before any other speaker so that they are not influenced, or burdened by the views of the other speakers. The Speakers of state assemblies speak next for 10 minutes. Adarsh Yuva Vidhayak Samman (Ideal Young MLA Honor) is given to two young MLAs. This is followed by speeches by Eminent Speakers who speak for 20 minutes each, followed by Q & A session. The Resolutions are put to voting towards the end of the session. This is the general methodology followed for all 6 sessions while allowing for last-minute alterations as per the demands of the situation.

Bell of Democracy:

This is a bell made of brass mounted on a steel stand. The ringing of this bell symbolically reaffirms our faith in the continuance and strengthening of democracy in the country. It is rung during the Inaugural, Valedictory, and Academic Sessions by the dignitaries on the dais.

Assembly Speakers:

The Speakers of all Legislative Assemblies of Bharat are intimated about the conduct of the Conclave well in advance. Invitations are sent to select Speakers to be the Chairpersons of the sessions. Usually, the Speakers of Legislative assemblies not represented in the earlier editions of BCS are invited to occupy the Chair.

Felicitation:

Felicitation of guests is a deep-rooted Bharatiya tradition. At BCS, we have imbibed this tradition as a mark of respect for every contribution of every individual. The eminent speakers and other dignitaries along with student speakers are felicitated with a shawl and a memento.

Student Speakers:

A hallmark of BCS is its transparent and meritocratic selection of student leaders who take the stage.

- Students who are wishing to be student speakers are asked to submit video speeches or essays on the session theme.
- Submissions are evaluated on parameters such as originality of thought, clarity of expression, public speaking skills, and alignment with democratic values.
- Shortlisted candidates are invited to perform live before a jury of faculty and other experts.
- The top 4 speakers per session are chosen to present at the main event, ensuring diverse, authentic, and empowered youth voices.

Adarsh Mukhyamantri Puraskar (Ideal Chief Minister Award):

The Adarsh Mukhyamantri Puraskar is conferred upon an outstanding Chief Minister of an Bharatiya state for his/her pathbreaking work in the development of his/her respective state and for the greater good of society at large.

Ideal Legislative Assembly Speaker/ Ideal Legislative Council Chairman Award:

This award is conferred upon the Speaker / Chairman of the State Legislative Assembly or Legislative Council in recognition of his/her outstanding work in conducting proceedings of State Legislative Assembly / Council & for promoting the Best Legislative Practices in the State.

Adarsh Yuva Vidhayak Samman (Ideal Young MLA):

The practice of awarding the Adarsh Yuva Vidhayak was started during the 3rd Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. In each session, one or two young MLAs are felicitated for following sound democratic and parliamentary practices in their constituency.

Uchcha Shikshit Adarsh Yuva Sarpanch Samman (Highly Educated Ideal Youth Sarpanch Award):

This award is given to a highly educated young sarpanch of a village, who despite being highly educated prefers to serve his/her village.

Main Speakers/ Eminent Speakers:

BCS hosts stalwarts from various walks of life – including Constitutional authorities, Decorated bureaucrats, Judicial experts, Media personalities, Entertainment and business leaders, Spiritual teachers, and Public intellectuals. At times, more than one Main Speaker is invited depending on the subject of discussion and the availability of the eminent personality.

Q & A Session:

Participating Students send in their questions in a printed format to the volunteers allotted for each seating block. The volunteer collects these questions and sends them to the selection committee present near the dais. The committee examines the relevance of the questions and selects an optimum number of questions depending upon the time available, but usually not less than 4. As the Q&A session starts, each selected student's name is announced who then goes to a podium kept beside each block and asks the question to the eminent speaker of the session.

Best Student Speaker Award:

Five students amongst all the student speakers who have performed outstandingly during the sessions are selected for this award. The selection is done by an ad hoc panel consisting of office-bearers of the Bharatiya Chhatra/Yuva Sansad Foundation convened for this period.

Ekta Sutra:

The Ekta Sutra, or Bond of Unity, is a powerful ceremonial expression of solidarity among the participants of the BCS. It symbolizes the collective commitment to unity, integrity, and the shared responsibility of nation-building. In a moving ritual held during the Valedictory Session of the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, all dignitaries on the dais, along with participants, join hands to tie together short strands of thread—creating a single, continuous chain. This unbroken thread stands as a metaphor for Bharat's strength in diversity and the unwavering resolve of its youth to stand united. As the final act of the three-day conclave, the Ekta Sutra ceremony leaves a lasting impression, inspiring participants to carry the spirit of oneness into their communities and future endeavours.

Release of Balloons:

As a prelude to the Inaugural Session, distinguished dignitaries release tri-coloured balloons into the sky—a symbolic gesture that denotes the commencement of an important democratic exercise. This act serves as a visual message declaring the beginning of an inspiring initiative dedicated to strengthening the democratic spirit of Bharat.

Oath:

An oath is administered to the participants, in which they reaffirm their faith in the unity of Bharat and pledge to work diligently to strengthen the democracy of the country. It is usually (but not necessarily) administered by a spiritual leader who is invited as an Eminent Speaker for one of the academic sessions.

Resolutions:

At the end of each session, a relevant resolution on the topic discussed is proposed, which is sent to the various decision-making authorities if passed by a majority of the participants. The voting options are 'Agree' or 'Disagree' / 'Yes' or 'No'. It is displayed on the screen in the auditorium and the participants vote by using the QR Code displayed in the Screen by using their mobile.

Youth-to-Youth Connect: Community-Driven Legacy

- More than just a conclave, BCS is a catalyst for grassroots transformation. Students are encouraged to launch projects in their regions – from voter awareness campaigns to social entrepreneurship initiatives.
- Group of students from diverse backgrounds/ streams come together to create solutions to day to day civic; in 14th BCS these solutions were presented to MLA's to get their guidance and encouragement to create synergy between Bharat's present and future leadership.
- These real-world actions reinforce the conclave's teachings and help nurture responsible citizenship and local leadership.

Wider Reach and Lasting Impact

- Annual Footfall: Over 12,000 students attend in person, representing more than 450 universities and 25,000 colleges.
- Live Webcasting: Over 90,000 additional students from 200+ institutions across India join via live stream.
- Policy Influence: Resolutions are sent to ministries, including Youth Affairs, Education, and Law & Justice.

The Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is not just an event – it is a youth-led democratic renaissance, aiming to instill values, awaken civic duty, and shape the next generation of ethical leaders for Bharat.

THE HON'BLE PRIME MINISTER OF INDIA

मुझे प्रसन्नता है कि पांचवें भारतीय छात्र संसद का आयोजन पुणे में 10 से 12 जनवरी, 2015 तक किया जा रहा है।

निश्चित ही, संसद हमारी लोकतांत्रिक प्रणाली का आधार स्तम्भ है। छात्र संसद का आयोजन युवाओं में लोकतंत्र और संसदीय प्रक्रियाओं के प्रति रुचि बढ़ाने के लिए एक सार्थक प्रयास है।

छात्र संसद की सफलता के लिए सभी आयोजकों एवं प्रतिभागियों को शुभकामनाएं।

(नरेन्द्र मोदी)

नई दिल्ली

I am happy to note that the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is being organized in Pune. Certainly, Parliament is the pillar of our democratic system. Organizing Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is a welcome effort to inspire the youth towards taking interest in democracy & parliamentary practices. I wish the organizers the very best for the success of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.

When I see all of you in front of me, the future of India is safe in your hands - I am quite confident about the same. I request all of you to do hard work, believe in what you understand, try to practice it and then you will definitely become a good leader. One day, the world, the country and the community around you will definitely recognize you. This is what life has taught me. The ballot is more powerful than the bullet. If you defeat somebody by bullet, he will die, but the ideology will remain. If you defeat somebody by ballot, then there will be a rethinking of that ideology.

MESSAGE

It is indeed commendable that Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, Pune, has emerged as a national platform for the youth of India since it was incepted in 2011. As the Chief Patron of this purposeful platform, it is heartening to witness the plant of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, Pune, turning into a banyan tree in its 9th year. I wanted to address the young minds today personally but some other occupancy has prevented me from taking this opportunity.

It is not very common that thousands of youth from different corners of India traveling across to actively participate at a meaningful platform like Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. This is a good sign for our democracy and this is what was envisioned by our leaders and the Government to integrate maximum number of youth in the process of nation building.

For India to emerge as a politically astute and democratically secure country, it is imperative that its policy makers are well informed and clued up about the past, present and future requirements. It is indeed a great satisfaction that Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad provides opportunity to the university students to speak their thoughts and voice their opinion about the political happenings in the country and the required changes. Also, as they interact with those who are already a part of the political system they stand to gain the perspective, which will benefit them and the country in the long term.

I am sure that with its focused efforts Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad will continue to channelize the energy of the youth in the right direction and will encourage them to take active part in politics and enter public life.

I am confident that Shri. Rahul V. Karad, the Founder of this platform, will continue to exhibit similar determination and conviction in his nation building activities.

I extend my warm wishes to the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad and all the young students participating in the 3 day of engaging discourse.

MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to learn that the 13th Annual National Conclave of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, with the theme, 'Inspiring Youth: Strengthening Democracy' is being organised from 10th to 12th January 2024 at MIT World Peace University, Pune. I hope that the 3-day Student Parliament will motivate the student participants to be partners in the social development of our Motherland Bharat and will help in channelizing the youthful energy of the students towards Nation Building.

Today's students are tomorrow's leaders. They are the future of the Nation and have a crucial role to play as Catalyst in the progress and development of the society, State and the Nation. They have a great responsibility to lead with compassion, pride and rootedness in Bharat and its rich diverse and ancient and modern culture, knowledge system and traditions. The youth of the day must imbibe the spirit of 'Nation First' and create a new work culture that would adhere to values, ethics and morals to deal with elements which display fissiparous tendencies, radical attitude and negative vibes. Their efforts need to be focussed on deep rooted pride in being Indian, in thoughts, spirit, intellectual and deeds and develop knowledge skills, values and disposition that supports responsible commitment to human rights, national wellbeing and collective collaboration.

The Viksit Bharat has been envisaged by the present apex leadership but it is the youth of the day, who have to carry forward the initiative in Amrit Kaal period, to realise the developed and prosperous Viksit Bharat@2047. I am sanguine that our students are on the correct path and preparing themselves to be valued and responsible citizens of the country.

On behalf of the people of Arunachal Pradesh, particularly the students, I extend my warm greetings to all the participants. I also commend MIT School of Government and convey my best wishes for their future endeavours.

राज्यपाल, हरियाणा

29th December, 2023

I am happy to learn that the 13th Annual National Conclave of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad will be held from 10th to 12th January, 2024, a first of its kind initiative to channelize the energy of youth for strengthening democracy, at MIT World Peace University, Pune, in which students from across the world take part.

I appreciate the dedication of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad in igniting the spirit of healthy politics in the youth of today and inculcating public spirited and socially sensitive values right during their formative years. Doing so is all the more important in present times with the engagement of a considerable number of youth in various movements and democratic processes in recent years.

I personally feel that our youth have a great role to play in building an inclusive and Viksit Bharat. They represent the driving force behind social and economic change and possess the energy, enthusiasm and innovative thinking necessary to break down barriers and foster inclusivity. Their active engagement in promoting equality, understanding and acceptance of diversity can contribute significantly to the creation of a more inclusive society.

I appreciate the initiatives taken by MIT School of Government, founded by Rahul V. Karad, for starting this innovative platform of Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad.

By embracing diverse perspectives, advocating for equal opportunities and challenging discriminatory practices, the youth can play a pivotal role in dismantling social prejudices and fostering a sense of unity. Youth's involvement in civic activities, education and community development initiatives can contribute to the overall progress and well-being of the nation.

Best wishes!

MESSAGE

It gives me immense happiness to know that Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad and MIT School are jointly organizing 13th annual national conclave of Indian Students' Parliament from 10 to 12 January, 2024. I express my sincere and heartfelt congratulations to the organizer on this occasion.

Our nation Bharat is blessed with the rich heritage of ancient and eternal Indian knowledge, which has been the guiding light for all of us. The pursuit of knowledge is always considered in our thought and philosophy as the highest human goal. Students are the future of our country. They should, therefore, aspire for seeking more knowledge, to build our country on the edifice of Jnan and Pragya.

I sincerely trust that students are not just the learners but also contributors to the nation's growth and progress. Therefore, without the role of the students we cannot materialize our goal of Viksit Bharat. Every educational institution of the country should resolutely channelize the energy of the students and youth towards achieving our common goal of Developed India by 2047. Students are always the harbinger of diversity of ideas as their innovation should be utilized for a Viksit Bharat.

Indian Students' Parliament has always been a potent platform to hone and channelize the unbridled energy of our students. Therefore, I, wish this conclave a resounding success. Let me conclude with a quote from Swami Vivekananda, "All power is within you; you can do anything and everything. Believe in that, do not think that you are weak. You can do anything and everything without even the guidance of anyone. All power is there. Stand up and express the divinity within you".

Thank you and God Bless you all!

I am glad to know that "13th Annual National Conclave of Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student's Parliament)" will be held from 10th January to 12th January, 2024 at MIT World Peace University, Pune, Maharashtra. I congratulate the Organisers on this occasion. It gives a good feeling also to know through your letter that Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad has been able to capture the imagination and conscience of thousands of spirited youth and has united them for the purpose of strengthening the foundation of Indian Democracy.

As we all know that, our ultimate goal should be Nation building on the line of "EK BHARAT SHRESHTH BHARAT". The thinkers, youth icons of National and International eminence, gathered here should deliberate in the various academic sessions of the conclave and should provide ideas, text, analysis, insight and perspective to the youths for achieving the goal of "EK BHARAT SHRESHTH BHARAT".

I am confident that the ideas, opinion, points of views and sobering thoughts will emerge in the 13th Conclave of Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad to contribute the strengthening of the ethos of Democracy

Through this message, I urge the participating youths, in the conclave, to contribute their brilliant ideas for "VIKASIT BHARAT @ 2047" recently launched by our Hon'ble Prime Minister of India.

I wish a grand success of the Conclave.

I am happy to learn that MIT World Peace University, Pune is organising 13th annual national conclave of 'Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad' from 10th to 12th January, 2024.

Youth is only medium and instrument for growth of a sensitive and modern world, social structure and social consciousness. I would like to congratulate the MIT World Peace University for immense contribution in fostering democratic values in young generation and building the capacity among our youth so they can become partners in the development of the nation. Today, our young generation, full of ideals, values and dreams, are courageously taking steps for overall social-economic reforms and through voluntary organisations, youth clubs, empowering the vulnerable section of society. In the journey of 'Amrit Kaal', they must contribute in reorientation of society's economic thinking to promote entrepreneurship and self-employment.

Our constitution provides for equal rights and opportunities to all. Youth must strive fully for the realization of these ideals. Unity in diversity is our greatest asset. The young generation must work together to strengthen this unity. We have to learn from others around the world and also share our own experience with a common resolve to build a better world.

My greetings to all the participants and best wishes to MIT World Peace University for the conclave.

MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to note that the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS), continuing its pathbreaking initiative, is organizing the 13th Annual National Conclave of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Students Parliament) with the theme 'Inspiring Youth: Strengthening Democracy' from 10th to 12th January 2024 at MIT World Peace University, Pune.

Youths play a critical role in fostering creative and innovative solutions to current challenges, and in driving positive social change. The BCS has successfully advocated for important issues, such as diversity and inclusion, sustainability, mental health awareness, and social justice causes. Thousands of youths from across the country, through the annual national conclaves of Indian Students Parliament have come together and learnt, engaged and empowered themselves to ignite the sense of belongingness, shared their passion and creativity, that has nurtured them to create a brighter and a better world. Through this platform, our youths are being enlightened to lead their path in progressive and mindful ways in contribution to our national endeavour.

I congratulate BCS for creating one of the best platforms for youths and student leaders from across Bharat to come and share their views on session topics by providing them a national platform.

I wish the National Conclave all the success.

António Guterres

Secretary-General,
United Nations Organization

We appreciate your kind invitation. Nevertheless, allow me to take this opportunity to convey best wishes for the success of the event.

Ban Ki-Moon

Then Secretary-General,
United Nations
Organization

“ You are part of the largest generation of young people our world has ever known. We must work together to help young people make the most of their energies, ideas and leadership potential. ”

I am pleased to send my greetings to all the young people gathered for the Indian Student Parliament. You gather at a time of profound turmoil, transition and transformation. Insecurity, inequality and intolerance are spreading around the world. Governments are wasting vast and precious funds on deadly weapons while reducing investments in people. Too many people in power seem wilfully blind to the threat of climate change.

India is at a pivot point in its own history. In many ways, it faces the classic dilemma of a middle-income nation. On the one hand, we see India as the rising global power. On the other hand, India faces many of the challenges of a developing nation. For both these Indias, great opportunity awaits.

This is an era of great uncertainty, but also one of profound opportunity. No single leader, country or institution can do everything. But each of us, in our own way, can do something. Together, as partners, we can meet today's tests and seize the opportunities of an era of dramatic change.

Please accept my best wishes for a rewarding gathering.

“The Parliament’s theme, “Inspiring Youth, Strengthening Democracy,” and objectives are very much aligned with the Secretary-General’s five year action agenda for youth.”

I commend the Indian Student Parliament for providing this important platform that will help prepare youth for the future leadership of India and for having brought together so many perspectives to address important challenges that youth are facing. The Parliament’s theme, “Inspiring Youth, Strengthening Democracy,” and objectives are very much aligned with the Secretary-General’s five year action agenda for youth. My congratulations on the successful outcome of the event

Irina Bokova

Then Director - General, UNESCO, Paris

“Let me commend this initiative of the MIT-SOG Pune, India. Everywhere I travel I am inspired by the energy and the commitment to change that comes from young people.”

Let me commend this initiative of the MIT School of Government, Pune, India. Everywhere I travel I am inspired by the energy and the commitment to change that comes from young people. Young people are one billion strong in the world. They carry a billion hopes for a better world. The year 2011 will be remembered as the year the young people decided to take the torch of human dignity and speak up for human rights. It resulted in an unprecedented movement for democracy, justice and peace. Young people must be considered as actors for change and not simply as beneficiaries. They are already changing the world; they are enriching the culture and media. It is the role of UNESCO to give them the skills and tools to do so in ways that strengthen the ties between cultures that protect human rights and fundamental freedoms. Quality education is the starting point. If we combine the hopes of youth with quality education, there is nothing we cannot achieve. This is where UNESCO will continue to fight, to provide each and every girl and boy with everything they need to share their ideas and act on them. Indian Students Parliament is another unique opportunity for you to debate ideas in a democratic spirit, to envision ways to make the world a better place. Be imaginative, generous and ambitious. As your great Mahatma Gandhi put it be the change you want to see in the world. You are not only the leaders of tomorrow, you are the leading actors of today.

I wish you every success in your discussions.

Martin Chungong

Secretary General, Inter Parliamentary Union (IPU)
(Union of Parliaments of 163 Nations Geneva, Switzerland)

“Without young people in politics, democracy is incomplete and policies cannot be properly articulated, well designed and fully implemented.”

Dear participants to the ISP, Namaste! I would like to congratulate you on your considerable enthusiasm in participating in this magnificent event that gathers young people from all corners of India, the world's largest democracy. I would like to commend in particular, Mr. Rahul Karad, Founder and Convenor, for his relentless efforts to inspire young people from India to get involved in the public affairs of their country by fostering open debate and dialogue.

Although we may be physically thousands of miles apart, we are united in our common pursuit to ensure youth participation in politics and decision making, which is part and parcel of the IPU's objectives and areas of work.

Dear Students, for those of you who do not know the Inter-Parliamentary Union, the IPU is the world organization national parliaments. Over 170 parliaments are the members of the organization representing more than 6.5 billion people. The IPU promotes democratic parliaments. A democratic parliament is one that is representative, transparent, accessible and accountable, including young people. (Video Message was also conveyed during 10th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad)

Patricia Scotland

Secretary General,
Commonwealth of Nations

“Such participation and readiness to learn more about how you can offer your talents for the common good and in service of your fellow citizens shows a laudable spirit of public service.”

Having been a parliamentarian and now a Secretary General of Commonwealth, it is a real pleasure to address you at the conclusion of the Indian Students Parliament. I most heartily commend you all for taking part. Such participation and readiness to learn more about how you can offer your talents for the common good and in service of your fellow citizens shows a laudable spirit of public service. I urge you to remember that as well as being citizens of a great nation, India, you are citizens of a great global family of nations, the Commonwealth!

It is striking at such gatherings to see the productive interaction between participants working together, thinking together and learning from one another, whether they represent large and populous nations, small and vulnerable island states, vast economies or fragile, less developed countries. I am sure, you have found that whatever your specialist subject or discipline, and regardless of your personal areas of interest, this time at the students parliament has enriched your understanding of the value of discussion and debate and deepened your appreciation of the perspectives others contribute.

My Best Wishes for the Success of the conclave and commend the work you and all involved in convening the 10th annual conclave Indian Student Parliament are doing to deepen understanding of and adherence to the Commonwealth priorities of Democracy and Development.

Anders B. Johnsson

Former Secretary General, Inter Parliamentary Union (IPU)
(Union of Parliaments of 163 Nations Geneva, Switzerland)

“ You are not the world’s first student parliament, you are probably not the world’s oldest one either, but I dare say that you might well be the world’s largest one because you belong to the country which has the world’s largest democracy.”

I am very humbled as I sit here and I see you through my screen. I am very honored and pleased to have this opportunity to talk to India’s upcoming leaders who are gathered here in MIT campus in Pune for the 3rd Indian Student Parliament. You are not the world’s first student parliament, you are probably not the world’s oldest one either, but I dare say that you might well be the world’s largest one because you belong to the country which has the world’s largest democracy.

I was curious to see in your program you are discussing and encouraging young people like yourself to be a part of the political processes. I do think that it is extremely important that you do take part and that you take your own responsibility in politics. I have said that in our organization we deal with the issues of the society, this is very important issue for society and we welcome it. I have a great feel of admiration for what you all are trying to do.

Kamallesh Sharma

Former Secretary General,
Commonwealth of Nations

“ We welcome your efforts to train and encourage your active participants in the democratic processes.”

It is a pleasure to greet you as you assemble for the Indian Student Parliament. We say that the heart of democracy beats in our parliaments. The admirable aims of this exercise of inspiring youth and strengthening democracy correspond with the value we try to promote in the Commonwealth.

I would encourage you to join with those of your fellow students throughout our worldwide family by participating in the Commonwealth Student Body.

We welcome your efforts to train and encourage your active participants in the democratic processes. You are sure to find participation in the 3rd Indian Student Parliament a rewarding experience and I wish you all joy and success in your deliberations and your debates.

Jarvis Matiya

Then Secretary General,
Commonwealth Parliamentary Association

“ India’s young population is its most valuable asset, the young people as a future of the Commonwealth.”

It is also great to see organizations like the MIT University working to strengthen democracy through a forum like this one. As you know the CPA is a voice of parliamentary democracy across the Commonwealth and has been for over a century since its establishment in 1911, promoting a parliamentary development and upskilling members of parliament. It brings together 70000 or over parliamentarians from 180 legislatures across the Commonwealth. As the largest democracy in the world, India which is one of the fastest growing economies in world, today it is home to a seventh of the world’s youth. Half of which population is under 25 and a quota is below the below the age of 14. India’s young population is its most valuable asset, the young people as a future of the Commonwealth. As such India has a long recognized the importance of young people to the future of Commonwealth society.

Sir Alan Haselhurst, MP

Former Chairperson, Executive Committee
Commonwealth Parliamentary Association

“ I am a deep believer in the importance and value of youth engagements in politics and governance and I support your endeavors to this end.”

I am a deep believer in the importance and value of youth engagements in politics and governance and I support your endeavors to this end. I have been chairperson of the Commonwealth Youth Exchange Council and in my current capacity as Chairperson of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, I have campaigned to institutionalize the Commonwealth Youth Parliament as an annual event. I wish the organizing team great success

RESOLUTIONS OF THE 14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

Session 1: Left, Right or Out of Sight? Ideologies in Indian Politics

The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad appeals to the political leaders of Bharat to engage in ideological politics rather than opportunism; it emphasizes ideological education and training in their political organization.

Session 2: Revadi Culture: A Fiscal Burden or Necessary Support

The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad believes that governments must address the social economic vulnerability of certain sections of society by enacting necessary public policies in the first four years of the tenure and the final fifth year of the government tenure should not see the announcement and implementation of any new policy

Session 3: Indian Culture or Western Glamour: The Dilemma of Indian Youth

The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad resolves that democracy is a true essence of Indian culture and reaffirms our faith in Mahatma Gandhi's saying, "I don't want walls surrounding my house and overcrowding my windows. I want the cultures of all lands to flow freely around my house. However, I refuse to allow anyone to sweep me off my feet."

Oath

I solemnly pledge to uphold the values of democracy, manifest the attributes of leadership, and practice the virtues of governance. As a delegate of the 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, I commit myself to engage in constructive dialogues, responsible discourses, and active participation in shaping a brighter and collective future for all.

Dignitaries ringing the Bell of Democracy to commence the 14th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad

Lighting of the Lamp ceremony performed by the auspicious hands of Smt. Sumitra Mahajan

Dr. R. M. Chitnis

Vice Chancellor, MIT World Peace University

We have gathered at the largest platform of democracy, the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad and it is my pleasure to welcome you all to this auspicious and energetic celebration of young leaders who will be the policymakers and nation-builders of tomorrow. This 14th edition of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (Indian Student Parliament) is an exclusive platform to discuss healthy democracy, share best practices, and engage in nation-building deliberations. It is the brainchild of Dr. Rahul Vishwanath Karad Sir, whose vision and patriotism have transformed it into a glorious social movement over the last 14 years.

This year, BCS evolved into DLGPP—Democracy, Leadership, Governance, and Public Policy Program. All outgoing students and third-year undergraduate students will receive this as an audit course, which will be a game-changer in their lives. Dr. Vishwanath Karad Sir has been a pillar of educational innovation, founding six universities, numerous schools and colleges, hospitals, and iconic movements. These three days will be life-changing for you, and it is up to you to make the best use of them.

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

ADDRESS BY

Dr. Rahul V. Karad

Executive President, MIT World Peace University,
Founder, MIT-SOG, BCS, NLC Bharat

On behalf of MIT World Peace University, I warmly welcome Padma Vibhushan Sumitra Tai Mahajan Ji, Shri C.P. Joshi Ji, and Mr. Aman Gupta, along with 200 MLAs and MLCs from 25 states and 32 political parties. This gathering represents a mini-assembly, fostering democratic dialogue. Last year, the National Legislators' Conference brought together 1,800 legislators for the first time since independence, guided by senior leaders. Today, we honor Shri Satish Mahana Ji, a ten-time MLA, with the Ideal Speaker Award. Under the Indian Student Parliament (Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad), initiated here in 2011, we've nurtured democratic values and youth participation, inspiring similar platforms nationwide. Politics is often viewed negatively, yet leaders work tirelessly for public service. Educated professionals, technocrats, and youth must enter governance to drive change. I urge MLAs to establish youth parliaments in their constituencies, integrating students into governance. Every field—engineering, law, economics—intersects with governance. True innovation arises when knowledge aligns with society's needs. Let's bridge this gap for India's democratic and entrepreneurial growth!

“We must channel the energy of youth through structured platforms like the Indian Student Parliament, empowering them to shape the future of democracy.”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. Satish Mahana

Hon'ble Speaker, Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly

Recipient of Ideal Legislative Assembly Speaker Awardee

It is my proud privilege to be on this stage, and it is a great honor to be conferred with this award by MIT WPU. Most of the time, we represent people and get the opportunity to communicate what legislation means to the common man. So, this is a proud moment for me. I would like to thank the honorable Shri Vishwanath Ji Karad for his blessings and respected Sumitra Tai Ji for her presence. Since 1991, I have been in politics, and today, I feel fortunate to receive this award with their blessings. I met Dr Rahul Karad Ji in 2020 after being elected as the Speaker of the UP Assembly. I was first invited to the Indian Student Parliament in Pune. That platform made me think about the kind of politicians the country needs, the connection between politicians and the common man, and the vision a politician must have. I also express my gratitude to the honorable former Speaker of Rajasthan, Dr C.P. Joshi Ji. Sir, I have always admired and followed you, regardless of your position. Leadership is about accountability. Our Constitution begins with 'We, the People of India,' and we must always remember our responsibility to the people. As public representatives, we must reflect on why people elect us and what they expect from us. Leadership is about trust, commitment, and collective effort. I sincerely thank MIT WPU and NLC Bharat for this recognition.

“ The path of service is difficult, but those who walk it with dedication create history. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

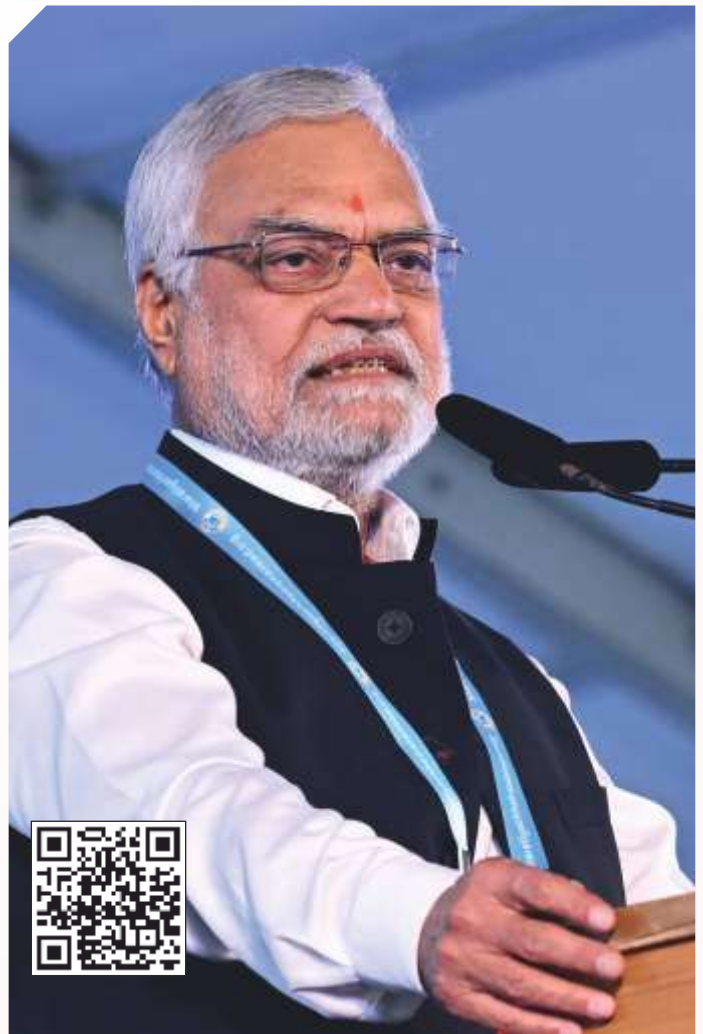

EMINENT SPEAKER

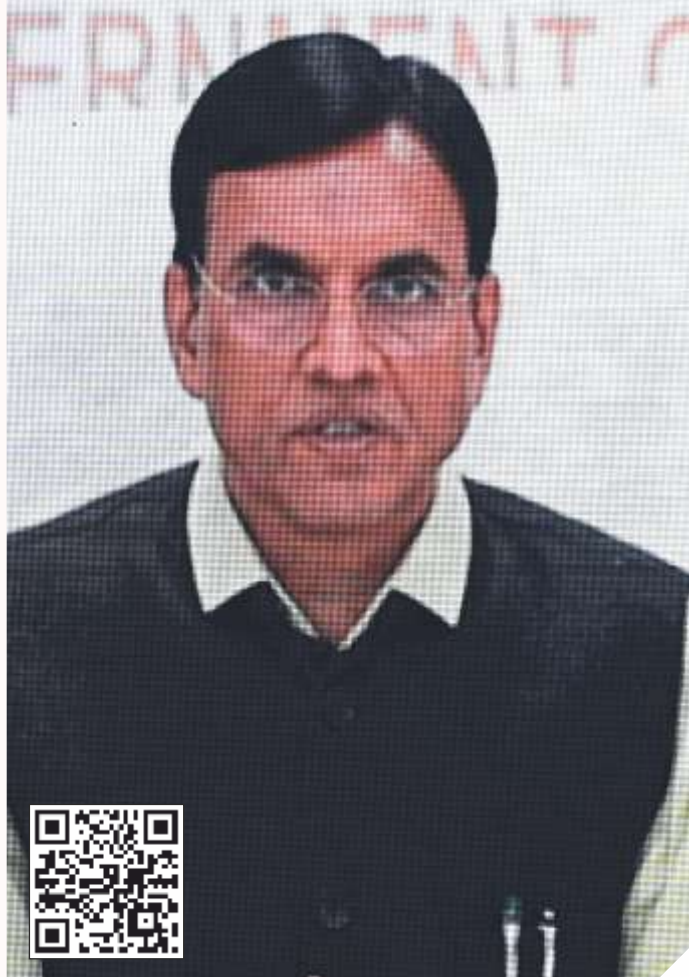

Dr. C.P. Joshi

Former Speaker, Rajasthan Legislative Assembly

Students, you are not just participants; you are the foundation of India's democratic future. It is an honor to address the bright young minds gathered at the 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, a platform that nurtures future leaders and instills democratic values. The concept of Chhatra Sansad, initiated by Dr. Rahul Karad Ji, has reached new heights, bridging the gap between students and public representatives. Democracy flourishes when capable and committed individuals step forward to lead. Shri. Satish Mahana Ji's recognition as the Best Speaker exemplifies how dedication and experience shape true leadership. His eight-time electoral success is a testament to the power of perseverance and public service, inspiring young minds to actively engage in governance. As we mark 75 years of independence, students must embrace democratic values and take responsibility for the nation's progress. I urge you to dedicate yourselves to public service, question the status quo, and contribute towards strengthening our democracy. Your participation today is a step towards shaping a better tomorrow.

“ Students, commit yourselves to public service, embrace leadership, and work for a stronger democracy. ”

Shri. Mansukh Mandaviya (Video Message)

Hon'ble Minister of Health & Family Welfare, Government of India

Students, you are the architects of India's future. India is a nation of youth—65% of our population is under 35. This is not just a statistic; it is our greatest strength. When channeled in the right direction, this energy can shape a new era of progress and development. Our Honorable Prime Minister, Shri. Narendra Modi has inspired one lakh young minds to step into politics—many without a political background but with a deep commitment to serving the nation. A thriving democracy needs fresh ideas, innovation, and youthful energy. Your role in governance is not just necessary; it is transformative. With initiatives like Skill India, Startup India, Digital India, and the National Education Policy 2020, the government is ensuring that youth have the tools to lead. But policies alone aren't enough—India needs young voices in decision-making, shaping policies, and strengthening democracy. Engage in discussions, challenge norms, and take responsibility for the future you want to see. I commend the MIT School of Government for creating this platform for dialogue and leadership. The conversations you have here will ignite ideas, shape perspectives, and drive change. I urge you to step forward, lead with conviction, and build a nation that reflects your vision.

“A democracy thrives when young minds bring fresh ideas, fearless energy, and a commitment to serve.”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSADADDRESS BY*Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad

Founder & Chief Patron, MAEER's MIT, Pune & President,
MIT World Peace University and Creator, World Peace Dome

The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is a movement inspiring responsible leadership and inculcating sense of duty towards national. As India completes 75 years of independence, it is crucial to reflect on our achievements, challenges, and the road ahead. This platform has consistently worked to foster a culture of peace, harmony, and visionary leadership. The essence of our duty lies in three key principles: Swadharma, Swatva, and Swabhimaan—our responsibility, self-identity, and self-respect. These ideals should shape our approach to nation-building, urging us to ask: What is my responsibility? How can I contribute to my country? India, a land of wisdom and spirituality, stands as a beacon of hope in a world plagued by conflict and uncertainty. The question is: Who will lead the way? The answer lies within our rich heritage, scientific temperament, and unwavering commitment to humanity. Thinkers from Sant Dnyaneshwar to Albert Einstein have recognized the profound connection between science and spirituality. It is our responsibility to bridge this knowledge and establish India as a Vishwa Guru—a global leader in wisdom, innovation, and ethical governance. True leadership is not about power but about responsibility, humility, and service. The future of the nation rests in the hands of its youth, and with faith in their potential, we must walk together towards an enlightened and prosperous India.

“A leader does not seek power but embraces responsibility, guided by wisdom, humility, and an unwavering commitment to humanity.”

DEMOCRACY, LEADERSHIP, GOVERNANCE & PUBLIC POLICY PROGRAM
(DLGP)

BCS INAUGURAL SESSION - PANEL DISCUSSION

The Panel include:

- Shri Satish Mahana – Hon'ble Speaker, Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly
- Dr. C. P. Joshi – Former Speaker, Rajasthan Legislative Assembly
- Shri Aman Gupta – Co-founder and CMO, boAt

Moderated by Shri. Sankalp Singhai and Dr. Gautam S. Bapat, the session covers discussions on leadership, youth engagement in politics, and the future of Indian democracy.

Question 1:

Entrepreneurship is closely linked with risk-taking and innovation. What lessons can young leaders sitting in the audience learn from the startup ecosystem that can be applied to governance and policymaking?

Shri. Aman Gupta Ji: First, I'd like to thank you for having me here—it's an honor. Reflecting on the startup ecosystem, it's remarkable how much has changed. When I started in 2016, the startup culture in India was still emerging. Back then, students hesitated to pursue entrepreneurship, but today, it has become a mainstream aspiration. This shift has made startups a valuable part of the country's economic landscape. One key lesson from startups is the importance of understanding and adapting to consumer needs. Just as businesses constantly evolve their products to meet changing customer demands, governance must also remain responsive to citizens' needs. Political leaders who have successfully adapted their strategies over time have maintained public trust, just as startups that listen to their users thrive. Another critical aspect is innovation. In startups, we pivot—experimenting with new ideas, discarding what doesn't work, and doubling down on successful strategies. Governance, too, should embrace this approach in policymaking. A policy that succeeds in one region can be scaled nationally, much like successful business models expand across markets. For instance, policies from states like Madhya Pradesh have been effectively implemented nationwide. Ultimately, there is a mutual learning opportunity between startups and governance. While startups can learn from government structures, governments can benefit from the agility and innovation mindset of startups. This dynamic exchange strengthens both sectors and contributes to national progress.

Question 2:

You have had a long and distinguished political career since 1991. Our young audience would like to know: which speech has inspired you the most and motivated you to advance in politics?

Shri. Satish Mahana Ji: Thank you for this question. Since 1991, I have had the privilege of serving in public life, and throughout my journey, one fundamental principle has guided me: staying connected with the people. When I became the Speaker, I worked towards making our Assembly one of the best in the country. Some questioned my focus on infrastructure, asking if people would visit just to see the building. My response was clear—the Assembly's grandeur serves as a means to engage the public in legislative discussions. A representative is not in office for personal gains but to serve the people who have entrusted him with their vote. Accountability and commitment to the public must be paramount. The first responsibility is loyalty to the party that nominated you. The second is to the workers who serve as the bridge between you and the people. The third, and most crucial, is loyalty to all constituents, whether they voted for you or not. Some argue that loyalty is owed only to supporters, but I believe even those who did not vote for me played a role in shaping the election outcome. Once elected, an MLA represents the entire constituency, transcending party lines. When asked how I have won eight consecutive elections, my answer is simple: my incumbency is not a disadvantage but a positive force. I continuously work to address the concerns of my people, gaining their trust election after election. My victory belongs not just to me but to my party, my workers, and, most importantly, my constituents.

Question 3:

Aman Ji, in the context of collaboration, how do you think business leaders can work with policymakers to create an ecosystem that fosters both economic and socially responsible growth?

Shri. Aman Gupta Ji: I used to be apprehensive about approaching bureaucrats and politicians, believing that our work and theirs were separate. However, things changed about three years ago. Even before Shark Tank, the government proactively reached out to startups, asking about our challenges. We received calls from secretaries, met ministers, and for the first time, startups were given a seat in policymaking discussions. A significant moment was when Prime Minister Modi took me to Paris as part of a delegation. Established business leaders spoke about their decades-old companies and large-scale operations, while I, representing a six-year-old startup, realized that this is the "New India." Today, young entrepreneurs like us are given opportunities to represent India on global platforms. The startup ecosystem has seen a significant shift, with continuous engagement from the Startup Ministry. They regularly consult us on upcoming initiatives and policies, fostering a collaborative environment. Recognizing our contributions motivates new startups to strive for success. The government's close partnership with startups aligns with Prime Minister Modi's vision for a "Viksit Bharat" by 2047. Given that India is already the third-largest startup ecosystem in the world, I believe it's only a matter of time before we become the top startup hub globally.

Question 4:

You have played both direct and indirect roles in shaping policies at the state and national levels. Is there any national policy that you wish you could have changed or created but could not?

Dr. C.P. Joshi Ji: From my 40 years of experience in public service, I believe that in India's parliamentary democracy, the role of politicians in policy-making has diminished. This space has largely been taken over by bureaucrats. Without proactive participation from elected representatives, large-scale impactful policymaking remains limited. Although initiatives like start-ups have gained traction, the role of public representatives in welfare policy formation is still inadequate. In parliamentary democracy, governance is divided into three pillars: the executive, the legislature, and the judiciary. However, legislative scrutiny of policies has weakened due to the limited functioning of assemblies. For example, during the COVID-19 pandemic, schools were closed for two years, and online education became the norm. But what about children whose parents were illiterate? The educational gap created during this period was never adequately addressed in any policy discussion. Another concern is the imbalance between the judiciary and the executive. The Constitution assigns policymaking responsibilities to legislators, yet even after the 73rd and 74th Amendments, which empowered local self-governments, these bodies lacked real authority. Urbanisation has surged, but there are no concrete policies on managing waste, drainage, or mass transportation. We have not sufficiently trained human resources for governance at the local level. Additionally, the rapid advancements in Artificial Intelligence (AI) are not being discussed in legislative forums, despite their profound impact on education and business. Issues like the influence of digital content on youth, such as pornography, remain unaddressed in policy frameworks. Ultimately, for democracy to function effectively, elected representatives must be empowered to influence policies and improve their quality through active legislative participation. Strengthening this democratic process will ensure better governance and public welfare.

Question 5:

What are the key ingredients to make a brand successful, especially for students who are taking up challenges and creating new brands and enterprises?

Shri. Aman Gupta Ji: Thank you for the question. For me, building a brand is essential, and the process is quite simple. Despite never formally studying marketing or branding, I have been able to establish BoAt as one of the most successful brands in India. The fundamental principle I follow is that the consumer is at the centre of everything. If you visit any shop in India, you'll often see the phrase "Grahak Bhagwan Hai" (The customer is God). This mindset is crucial—your brand must be built around what the consumer wants. When we launched BoAt, there were already many established brands in the market—Japanese, Chinese, German, and even Indian ones. However, in just six years, we became one of the most successful brands because we always prioritized the consumer.

Brand building revolves around four essential elements—the "4Ps":

1. Product – It must be of high quality.
2. Place – It should be sold where your consumers are.
3. Price – It must be appropriately set.
4. Promotion – Effective marketing is crucial.

One key lesson is that products should never be sold purely based on price. The Tata Nano, for example, was marketed as the cheapest car, but it failed because people do not aspire to own the cheapest product. In India, everyone, regardless of income level, is aspirational. They want to own something that enhances their lifestyle and gives them a sense of pride. Ultimately, branding is about creating a product that is aspirational yet affordable. That is what India seeks today. I am proud to say that BoAt is now the world's second-largest audio brand.

Question 6:

The Uttar Pradesh Assembly has become a hub of innovation, with numerous experiments taking place under your leadership. Today's youth want to know whether Schools of Political Leadership should be established within Assemblies so that young individuals without a political background can start their careers under the guidance of experienced leaders like yourself.

Shri. Satish Mahana Ji: This is a highly significant question for me. The perception of the Uttar Pradesh Assembly has transformed over the years. We have established a paperless system where everything is online, including questions raised by members and their responses. Proceedings are now live-streamed, ensuring transparency. Previously, young MLAs would focus on making headlines through protests. However, with digital media, accountability has increased, and people are more interested in their representatives' performance. Now, MLAs actively request opportunities to speak, ensuring their voices are heard. They document their contributions on social media, reinforcing direct accountability to the public. Legislators must understand their role distinct from the executive. They cannot assume the responsibilities of district magistrates or police officers but must ensure accountability within their domains. Unfortunately, the public holds MLAs responsible for infrastructure, education, and healthcare, despite these being administrative concerns. Negative issues are attributed to us, whereas positive developments are credited elsewhere, creating an imbalance that needs correction. Restoring public trust in political representatives is crucial. Historically, politicians lost credibility due to unfulfilled promises. However, under our Prime Minister's leadership, we see a shift where commitments are met, reinstating public confidence. This awareness compels all political parties to adapt. The Uttar Pradesh Assembly, the largest in the world, represents an extensive population. We take pride in leading governance innovations while learning from best practices across different states. Together, we continue to evolve for a more accountable and transparent democracy.

Shri. Kuldeep Singh Pathania, Hon'ble Speaker addressing the students on the crucial aspects of Youth Leadership

Dr. Easwar Iyer

Dean, Ram Charan School of Leadership,
MIT World Peace University

In this session, we are honored to have Shri Kuldeep Singh Pathania, Honorable Speaker of the Himachal Pradesh Legislative Assembly, leading our discussions.

We are also privileged to hear from a firebrand speaker, none other than Dr. Kanhaiya Kumar, one of the most influential voices in India today. Alongside him, we have Shri. Rajkumar Roat, the Founder-President of the Bharat Adivasi Party, Rajasthan, and currently one of the youngest MLAs in the state. Adding to our distinguished panel, I welcome my friend from my hometown, A. Rahim, a respected Member of Parliament and Rajya Sabha representative. In true Kerala spirit, I extend a heartfelt "Swagatham" to him. With that, let me hand the podium back to our moderators. Thank you!

“ This session will explore whether left-wing or right-wing ideologies make more sense in the Indian political context. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSADCHAIRMAN*Shri. Kuldeep Singh Pathania

Hon'ble Speaker, Himachal Pradesh Legislative Assembly

I am delighted to be part of this Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad today. It is a privilege to engage with young minds, understand the challenges of our nation, and listen to your commitment to addressing them. You have just seen a brief film about me. Today's topic—Left, Right, or Out of Sight: Ideologies in Indian Politics—is crucial. The real challenge is not just debating ideologies but facing realities. We must not merely carry history; we must create history. Indian politics needs action, not just speeches. Managing votes is not enough; managing issues is essential.

India has grown from 34 crore to 140 crore people, yet many still lack necessities—housing, water, and electricity. Political debates won't make us a global power—only work will. I have contested nine elections, won five, and have served in various positions. My experience tells me that true governance happens when elected representatives discuss issues sincerely, rather than engaging in political theatrics. The future belongs to youth. You are not just left or right—you need an ideology rooted in humanity and progress. If we focus on people rather than politics, India can lead the world. I urge you all to rise to this challenge. The nation stands with you.

“ We must not merely carry history; we must create history. ”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Shri. Rajkumar Roat

Member of Parliament, Lok Sabha (BAP, Banswara (ST), Rajasthan),
Founder, Bharat Adivasi Party (BAP)

It is an honor to attend the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad alongside respected leaders from Himachal Pradesh, Members of Parliament, and our inspiring youth leader, Dr. Kanhaiya Kumar. Institutions like MIT Pune have provided a unique platform for students from across the nation to engage in meaningful discussions. This initiative is commendable as it nurtures political awareness among youth. Today's discussion focuses on political ideologies that shape our nation. Whether left-wing or right-wing, each ideology has strengths and weaknesses. While the left champions the cause of the poor, Dalits, and tribals, the right emphasizes nationalism and cultural preservation. However, our country's true strength lies in ensuring the upliftment of the marginalized. A nation cannot progress unless every individual has access to basic amenities, quality education, and healthcare.

Unfortunately, in recent years, ideological commitment in politics has weakened, giving way to personal ambitions. Leaders switch parties for personal gains, diluting core values. Political ideology is the soul of a party, and without it, parties lose their purpose. Youth must engage in politics with a vision for societal change rather than personal benefit. I urge all students to actively participate in politics. With strong determination, hard work, and ethical leadership, we can build a better future for our nation.

“ Politics is not dirty; it is the key to power that unlocks the doors to your rights. ”

EMINENT SPEAKER

Adv. A. A. Rahim

Member of Parliament, Rajya Sabha (CPI – M, Kerala),
National President, Democratic Youth Federation of India

It is an honor to address the bright young minds who represent the future leadership of our country. We gather here to discuss a crucial topic—Left, Right, or Out of Sight? Ideologies in Indian Politics. Traditionally, politics has been divided into left and right. The right-wing supports capitalism, economic liberalization, and a limited role of the state in welfare, and the left-wing stands for economic equality, social justice, and wealth distribution. We have seen a rise in right-wing politics, driven by economic and media dynamics. Wealthy elites and corporations fund right-wing campaigns, shaping public perception through media influence.

Reports say, the top 1% of individuals hold more than 50% of global wealth, while the bottom 50% has only 2%. In India, the top 1% own 40.5% of the country's wealth, while the bottom 50% hold only 3%. Concentration of wealth is growing due to favourable policies, this has kept left-wing politics relevant. Countries with social democratic policies like Norway and Denmark, ensure better work-life balance, job security, and economic stability. The fight for equality and justice now requires mobilization and grassroots efforts. The future belongs to you young leaders. Stand for justice, fairness, and an equitable society. Actions of today will shape the world of tomorrow.

Former President of JNU Students' Union

First of all, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all the students, respected teachers, and every member of the MIT family—whether they are faculty, non-teaching staff, or those working behind the scenes—for making this event possible. There is a popular saying: “Young is not a number; young is a feeling.” Being among young minds today reminds me of my university days. I am not here to give a long speech—because these days, speeches are given everywhere. Instead, I want to have a conversation with you. We must understand that Indian politics, society, and history cannot be defined through foreign concepts like left, right, and center. India is a land of diverse ideologies—from dualism to non-dualism and beyond. To analyze politics, we must consider two crucial factors: perspective and position. Politics is not just about numbers, alliances, or economics. It is about power structures—those who benefit and those who suffer. True leadership lies in questioning these structures and standing for justice. Remember, history is shaped by those who dare to challenge authority and seek truth. The choice is yours—to align with power or to walk the path of truth.

“Power and truth both change over time—neither is permanent.”

Greetings everyone!

India is not just a land of politics; it is a diverse ideology, a cultural powerhouse, and a symbol of collective wisdom. From Rigveda's call for equality to Chanakya's vision of governance, Indian politics is deeply rooted in justice and national welfare. Left represents equality, Right signifies tradition, but true leadership transcends both, ensuring the well-being of all.

Today's youth must channel their energy into building an India that excels in science, arts, and spirituality, reclaiming its place as Vishwaguru. It's time to rise and lead, for our nation calls upon us.

“ India's true ideology is neither Left nor Right but a vision where societal welfare is the highest duty. ”

Atharva Vyavahare
Maharashtra

Namaskar!

India's ideology must be rooted in Indic liberalism, where ancient wisdom meets modern science. Our polity should be all-encompassing, embracing inclusivity, justice, and progress. We need governance with Chanakya's strategy, Shivaji Maharaj's just laws, Buddha's peace, and a leader like Prabhu Shri Ram, who ruled with compassion and righteousness. True progress lies in preserving our heritage while advancing scientifically. India must rise as a global leader, balancing tradition with innovation. Our responsibility is to build a nation that thrives on wisdom, strength, and unity. Let us shape this future together!

“ A just polity blends Chanakya's strategy, Shivaji's laws, Buddha's peace, and Shri Ram's compassionate leadership. ”

Respected audience, India's politics has always aimed at "Sarvajana Hitaya, Sarvajana Sukhaya"—welfare and prosperity for all. Left ideology advocates social justice, while the Right emphasizes liberalism and cultural preservation. Our progress lies in balancing both for national development.

Dr. Ambedkar rightly said that without economic and social freedom, political independence is meaningless. We stand in long queues to vote, yet do we ever queue up for better healthcare or education reforms? Today, 90% of resources are controlled by just 10% of people, while the majority struggle. It's time for introspection and action—true democracy thrives on equal opportunities for all.

“ Freedom without equality is an illusion; true democracy uplifts every citizen, not just a privileged few. ”

Ayeman Alim Shaikh
Maharashtra

Ideas shape politics, but should politics be confined by ideologies? India has witnessed diverse ideologies, from Nehru's socialism to Gandhi's village self-rule, Patel's nationalism, and Ambedkar's social justice. Today, we see left-wing, right-wing, and regional ideologies. But can India be governed by a single ideology? History shows that extreme ideologies—whether right or left—lead to authoritarianism. India, rich in diversity, needs balance. If the left teaches us equality and the right teaches us identity, why not create something better?

Ultimately, ideology matters, but the nation comes first.

“ Politics is shaped by ideologies, but should governance be limited to rigid ideological boundaries? ”

Respected dignitaries and fellow citizens,
Indian politics stands at a crossroads—The left promises equality, the Right upholds nationalism, and the middle remains unclear. The Left speaks of social justice, yet farmers still protest. The Right emphasizes tradition, but does it sometimes exclude? And the middle ground? Often, it lacks direction. Can we move beyond labels and embrace what truly works? Politics evolves, but people's hopes remain constant. With unity and vision, we can build a developed India. As Atal Bihari Vajpayee said, "I will not accept defeat, I will not retreat."

Let's rise together!

“ Politics evolves, but people's hopes remain constant—unity and vision can build a developed India.”

Akankshya Patra
Odisha

Respected dignitaries and fellow citizens, I am Akankshya Patra.

Indian politics is not about left or right; it's about power and manipulation. Once in power, ideologies fade, and only vote-bank politics remains. Regional parties blend ideologies as needed, and even national parties shift stances.

Religious divisions, fake news, and social media debates distract us from real issues—education, climate change, and data privacy. If we, the youth, don't take charge, democracy will turn into a digital dictatorship. We must move from debating to acting, from scrolling memes to shaping change. Our generation must redefine politics through action, not just noise.

“ Ideologies fade once in power; only manipulation for the next vote bank remains.”

Respected dignitaries, esteemed guests, and the shining youth of India, I extend my heartfelt greetings.

Since its inception in 2011, Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has been a platform for youth to voice independent thoughts. Youth have contributed to every sphere, yet their role in politics remains limited. As future policymakers, it is our responsibility to shape the nation's direction.

India's strength lies in its youth—resilient, visionary, and unafraid of struggles. We must embrace responsibility and take charge of our future. Our journey continues, and so does our commitment to progress. Jai Hind, Jai Bharat!

“ India's strength lies in its youth—resilient, visionary, and unafraid of struggles, shaping the nation's future.”

Namaskar!

I am Aditi Punya Prakash Sharma, not limited to any state but representing the spirit of all of India. I belong to a new generation that breaks boundaries, embraces change, and actively participates in politics rather than just observing it. Standing on the platform of the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, I dream of every youth, and every woman, raising their voice in politics and shaping the nation's future. True democracy thrives only when women participate equally—yet, they make up just 14% of Lok Sabha and 11% of Rajya Sabha. This must change. This is not just a three-day event but a movement—a vision for a better India. Together, we will change, and the era will change.

“ True democracy thrives only when women participate equally, shaping the nation's future with strength and vision.”

QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

Student Leader, Maharashtra

Q. Is it necessary to have a particular ideology and stay loyal to it?

Answer:

Shri. Kanhaiya Kumar: Having thoughts within you is a sign of being human. When you observe society, some thoughts will arise in your mind. Either they won't affect you, or you'll see benefits or drawbacks in them. As poet Pash said, there is no middle path—it's either one side or the other.

Avinash Kodwe, Maharashtra

Q. As a youth, which ideology should we follow, & Social media is affecting the ideology of the youth?

Answer:

Shri. Kanhaiya Kumar: No one else can decide for you; the choice is yours—critical thinking and a scientific temperament. Being educated means not blindly accepting something as truth but testing it on the scale of reality. If it resonates with you, you choose it. Kings won't be born from a queen's womb but from the people's votes. India has immense diversity, and the only force ensuring equality for all is our Constitution.

Pratyush Das, West Bengal

Q. Can ideology explain India's economic growth and development, or are other factors more significant?

Answer:

Shri. Kanhaiya Kumar: If protein or carbohydrates are not reaching our entire body, it means our body is not developing—this is a sign of deficiency, not growth. Recognizing this is what ideology is. The way we perceive things shapes our ideology. If your perspective aligns with the underprivileged, you will see the world through their eyes. The development should be inclusive and must not be limited to a selected few. All ideologies talk about the upliftment of the last person of society.

QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

Rohit Yadav

Q. Despite government support for startups, why are so many still failing in India?

Answer:

Shri. Rajkumar Roat: This startup was not launched with proper research, and the budget is not being utilized efficiently. That's why I believe our startup success rate is low. Proper planning, resource management, and market understanding are essential for success, and the lack of these factors leads to startup failures.

Nikhil Jaiswal

Q. You come from a common household, so my question is, what qualities are needed to become a public representative?

Answer:

Shri. Rajkumar Roat: In your field, you must put yourself in the shoes of the suffering and help with empathy. I believe I reached this position not by avoiding politics but by helping selflessly. True progress comes from assisting those in need without personal gain, ultimately contributing to the nation's growth.

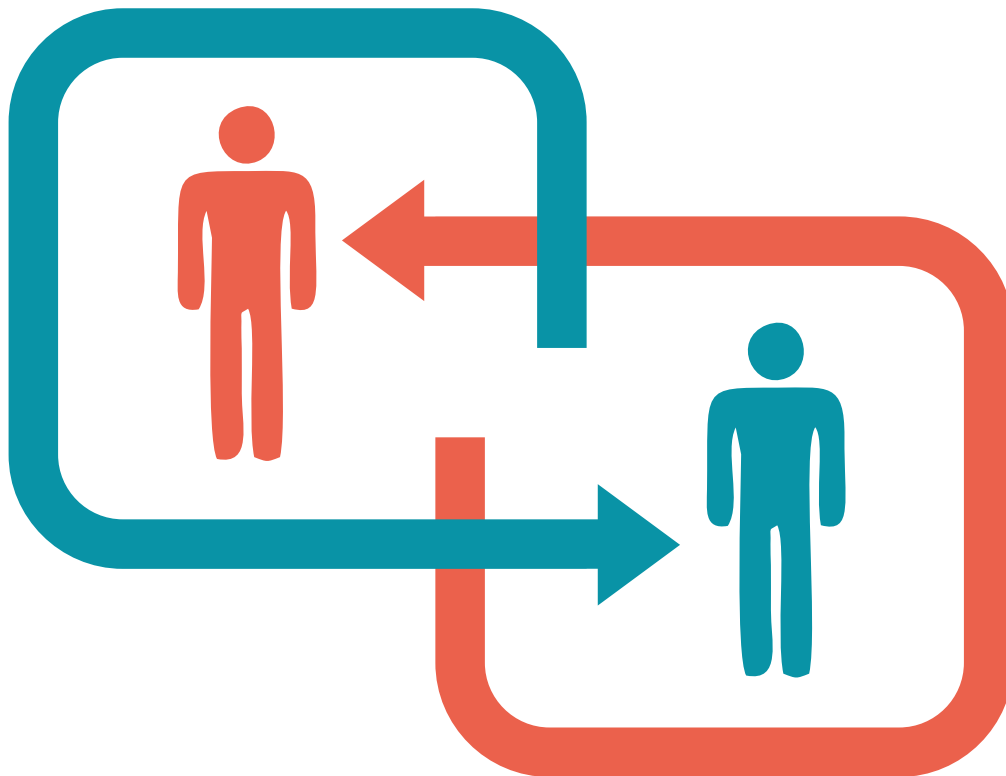

Akshata Jadhav

Q. How does Social Media amplify or minimize political ideology?

Answer:

Shri. A.R. Rahim: We live in a politically televised era and an age of post-truth, where perception plays a crucial role, especially in ultra-right-wing politics. Perception often differs from reality, as seen in many political examples where social media is used for political gain. Don't be misled by perception—explore reality, seek the truth, and use an open mind for better decision-making.

'Youth to Youth Connect' is a year-long student engagement activity to instill a sense of community ownership through meaningful live projects.

Co-Creation : A Society Oriented Approach to Education

It is necessary that students of professional branches—such as medicine, engineering, law, and management—must recognize their roles as both specialists and social citizens. The knowledge they acquire is not merely for personal advancement or economic gain but holds immense potential to address society's pressing challenges. Doctors are custodians of public health; their work extends beyond hospitals to shaping public awareness, preventive care, and healthcare equity. Engineers build infrastructure, but they also hold the tools to solve critical issues like sustainable development, clean energy, and affordable technology.

When professionals engage with society's needs, they transform their technical expertise into instruments of social justice and empowerment.

Educational institutions must therefore encourage civic responsibility, interdisciplinary learning, and community immersion in professional training. Such an orientation not only builds more humane professionals but also strengthens democratic values, ensuring that development is inclusive and equitable.

True education lies not in degrees, but in the responsible and ethical application of knowledge for the common good.

Vision behind the Initiative

Dr. Rahul V. Karad, a visionary leader, an educationist and founder of the MIT School of Government who envisioned the concept of Student Co creation, builds on the ideals of socially responsible leadership. Along with eminent professors such as Prof. Dr. Joske Bunders; realised this revolutionary initiative that helps students from professional fields integrate nation-building into their careers—transforming both individual lives and the broader society.

His vision translated through 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad encourages students to move beyond narrow technical goals and embrace leadership rooted in ethics, service, and social justice.

This vision reshapes student trajectories by instilling a sense of purpose and civic duty. A doctor becomes not just a clinician but a health advocate for underserved communities. An engineer becomes a catalyst for sustainable development, focusing on real-world problems like water scarcity or rural electrification. These shifts deepen personal growth, broaden worldviews, and inspire long-term commitment to societal well-being.

“Education must be equipped a student with empathy, value and spirituality, as it prepares one to serve his family, society and most importantly nation.”

“If you fail to understand society's needs, then the degree you earn will not serve its full purpose—not for you, and certainly not for the nation. A qualification, no matter how prestigious, loses its transformative value when it is disconnected from the realities and aspirations of the people it is meant to serve.

By fostering inquiry-based learning, we encourage curiosity, critical thinking, and deep engagement with societal issues. Our approach integrates these principles into mainstream education, breaking down the silos between disciplines, and creating opportunities for students to work directly with communities. The goal is to nurture professionals who are not only experts in their field but also conscious citizens—driven by purpose, compassion, and a lifelong commitment to the Bharat's progress.”

About Co - Creation

14th edition of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, saw the remarkable innovation in its student mentoring and society-oriented initiatives. In this edition of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad; student co creation activity was conducted in most unique form.

Under the guiding vision of Dr. Rahul V. Karad Co-creation activity was held in groups of 5/6 students covering 101 classrooms with participation of 5000+ students across the various streams in university campus. 101 facilitators bringing together disciplined and moderated brainstorming sessions across students of diverse educational backgrounds to fosters interdisciplinary collaboration. It helped students understand and solve complex societal issues.

When engineering, medical, law, humanities, and management students come together, they bring unique perspectives, knowledge, and problem-solving approaches. This process not only enhanced critical thinking and teamwork but also mirrored real-world challenges, which are rarely confined to a single domain. Co-creation encouraged empathy, active citizenship, and innovation, as students collaboratively designed solutions that are holistic and inclusive. Such experiences prepared students to become socially responsible professionals who value dialogue, diversity of thought, and collective action in addressing societal needs.

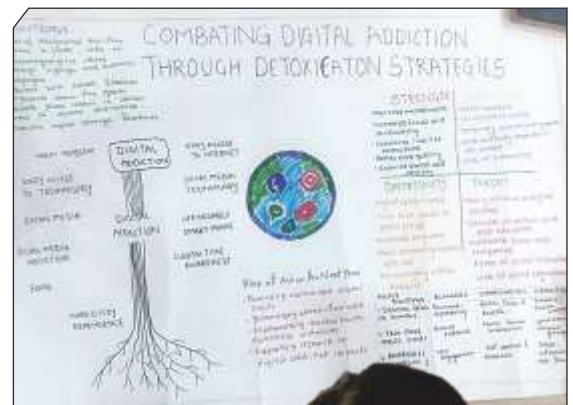

At the societal level, such empowered professionals act as bridges between expertise and grassroots realities. They bring innovation to governance, compassion to technology, and inclusivity to growth. Dr. Karad's vision thus nurtures a generation that not only excels in their professions but also drives meaningful, democratic change—ensuring that Bharat's development is not only rapid but also just and human-centered.

SESSION 1

Identifying Social Problem and its Causes and Designing Policies.

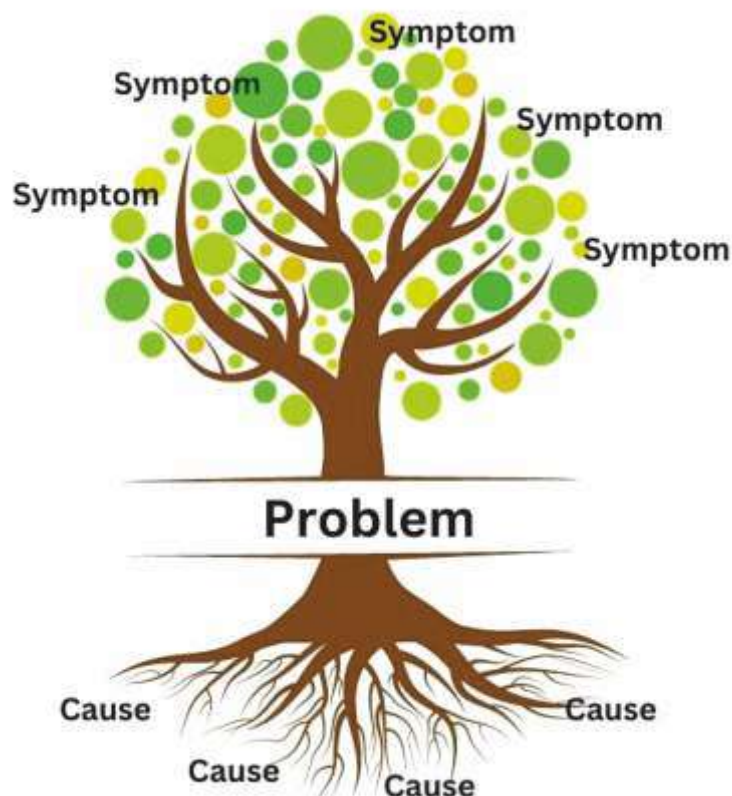

SESSION 3

Presentations of Policy innovation for strengthening democracy by dealing with a complex social problem.

PRINCIPLES OF PROBLEM ANALYSIS:

Causal Tree Root Analysis

Causal Tree Root Analysis is a problem-solving method used to identify the fundamental causes behind complex issues, rather than just addressing surface-level symptoms. By visualizing a problem as a “tree,” the visible issues are seen as branches, while the root causes lie beneath the surface. This analytical approach involves asking successive “why” questions to trace each problem back to its origin. Widely used in fields such as public policy, healthcare, and engineering, it helps in designing long-term, sustainable solutions. Causal Tree Root Analysis fosters critical thinking, encourages systemic understanding, and supports interventions that target the real drivers of a problem.

Policy Design Through Democratic Governance Lens

Policy design through a democratic governance lens ensures inclusivity, transparency, and accountability in decision-making. It prioritizes participatory approaches, engaging stakeholders across society for legitimacy and effectiveness. By balancing diverse interests, it fosters policies that are equitable and widely accepted. This method strengthens democratic institutions while addressing societal challenges systematically.

STUDENT INTERACTIONS WITH LEGISLATORS OF BHARAT

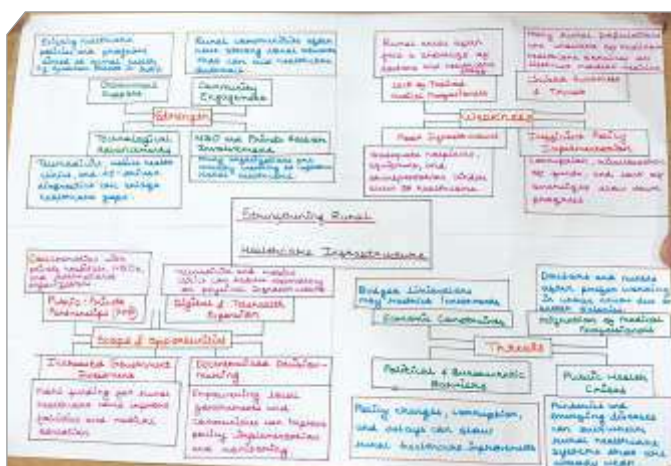

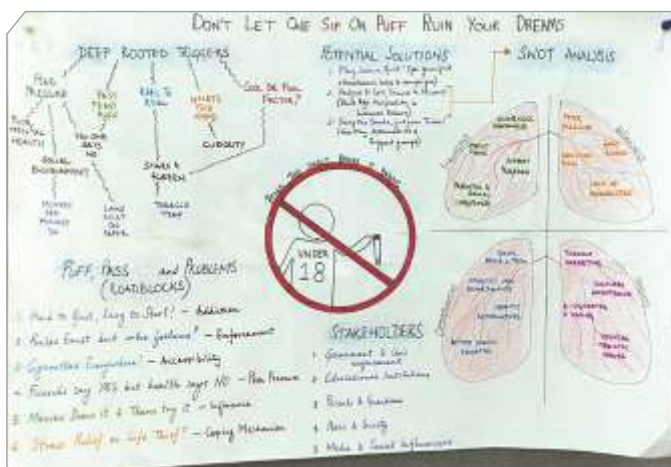

Students participating in co-creation activities had transformative interactions with legislators across Bharat, gaining firsthand insights into governance, policy-making, and ground-level challenges. These engagements allowed students to present their research and community-based solutions on issues like ecological imbalance, education gaps, and local development. Legislators, in turn, appreciated the fresh, innovative perspectives and often shared real-world constraints that influence implementation. This mutual dialogue bridged the gap between academic learning and legislative realities. It empowered students to think beyond textbooks and inspired many to consider careers in public service, while legislators valued the innovative, youth-led ideas emerging from diverse academic streams.

OUTCOME POSTERS BY STUDENT GROUPS

Through co-creation activities, students diverse background collaborated to tackle issues of ecological challenges and sustainable development. By integrating technical analysis with policy insights and grassroots perspectives, they proposed solutions like decentralized waste management systems, community-led afforestation, and transparent digital platforms to track environmental violations. Their interdisciplinary approach facilitated addressing the challenges effectively. Importantly, they engaged with Legislators in detailed discussion, ensuring their solutions were grounded, inclusive, and feasible. This experience empowered students to see themselves as changemakers, demonstrating how collaborative learning can produce impactful, socially relevant innovations.

The rising trend of offering freebies and subsidies as a political tool raises critical concerns. While welfare measures promote social equity, unchecked populism can strain public finances, divert resources from development, and create dependency. For students, this debate is not just policy—it directly impacts the future economy, job market, and financial stability of the nation you will lead. Will India's growth be driven by strategic welfare and empowerment, or will short-term populism hinder long-term progress? These are the pressing questions we must address. We are privileged to have distinguished dignitaries to guide this discussion. Among them, Shri Ravindra Nath Mahto, Hon'ble Speaker of the Jharkhand Legislative Assembly, and Shri Pawan Khera, member of the AICC Working Committee, bring invaluable insights. A diverse perspective on this issue will help us navigate the balance between welfare and fiscal responsibility. Let us engage in this discussion with open minds and work toward meaningful solutions.

“ I encourage all students to engage critically, question boldly, and think beyond surface-level arguments ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

CHAIRMAN

Shri. Rabindra Nath Mahato

Hon'ble Speaker,
Jharkhand Legislative Assembly

Respected dignitaries, students, and attendees, I extend my best wishes to all present for this significant discussion on the so-called Revdi Culture. I express concern over this term, as the people we discuss today struggle even for basic survival. Many lack access to food, clean water, healthcare, and employment, despite India's economic progress. In Jharkhand, for instance, displaced communities toil under harsh conditions despite living on resource-rich land. This inequality is not their fault but a result of circumstances. Welfare schemes are not handouts but the rightful claims of citizens over shared resources. Industrialists receive subsidies and incentives unquestioned, but social security measures for the poor are criticized. Economic history proves that government support boosts demand, employment, and economic growth. Jharkhand's Maiya Sajna Samman Yojana, Guruji Credit Card Yojana, and Marang Gomke Pardeshi Scholarship empower women, students, and the underprivileged. True economic democracy ensures that success is not dictated by privilege alone. Welfare schemes are not an economic burden but a fundamental right. Until we eradicate inequality, mere slogans of India as a Vishwaguru will remain hollow.

“ We must understand that social security is a strategic investment in human potential and national development. ”

Shri. Pawan Khara

Chairman, Media and Publicity Department, AICC

Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is an initiative that introduces young minds to politics and governance, encouraging them to observe, learn, and question. Politicians often fear youth participation because young people ask tough questions that keep leaders accountable. Democracy thrives on questioning, and it is both a right and a duty of citizens to challenge their leaders. A major topic of discussion is Revdi Culture (freebies in politics). The term misrepresents government welfare, which is not charity but a return of what belongs to the people. Public resources, taken over centuries, have disproportionately benefited industrialists, yet aid to marginalized communities is labeled as handouts. Welfare programs like free electricity, ration, and MNREGA empower people rather than making them dependent.

Leaders should be questioned about policies—why does Congress provide free electricity or Karnataka offer free bus travel? If youth consistently demand welfare policies throughout a leader's term, pre-election giveaways will be exposed as political bribes rather than genuine welfare. True democracy requires leaders to serve, not rule. When politicians claim they are "giving" something, they must be reminded it is the people's right. Only by persistently asking questions can young people safeguard democracy and ensure accountability.

“ It is commendable that universities are fostering these discussions, allowing young minds to listen, speak, and question ”

Respected dignitaries and dear friends, I am Dipti Mishra from Uttar Pradesh.

India's strength lies in its hard work and self-reliance, not in freebies. Yet, during elections, we see "Revadi Culture" where free money, electricity, and ration are used to buy votes. Are we building an India dependent on handouts or one that thrives on merit and effort?

If our youth rely on these schemes, can we ever create the next Tata, Birla, or Kalam? True development happens when wealth is invested in education, healthcare, and infrastructure. Let's embrace hard work and move towards a self-reliant India!

Jai Hind, Jai Bharat!

“ True development happens when wealth is invested in education, healthcare, and infrastructure, not freebies. ”

Himanshu Kumar

Bihar

Respected audience,

Hunger cannot wait for patience, and poverty cannot be ignored. Today, debates in Delhi revolve around fiscal policies, yet millions depend on ration schemes for survival. While the rich thrive, farmers struggle under debt, and poor children abandon dreams of becoming doctors or engineers due to financial hardships.

Can we call our nation free when 70% of people still lack basic needs? True prosperity is not in skyscrapers but in uplifting those on the streets. Our ancestors fought for a future where no one suffers. It's time we honor their vision by ensuring justice, equality, and dignity for all.

“ A nation's greatness is measured by how it treats its weakest citizens. ”

I come from a nation whose strength lies not in its grandeur but in its compassion—my India. The debate on Revadi culture, whether a fiscal burden or necessary support, is crucial. Free provisions like electricity, food, and subsidies help the underprivileged survive. Schemes like Mid-Day Meals and PM-Kisan ensure nourishment and economic support. However, distributing laptops and cycles may not be essential. Instead of mere giveaways, policies should empower people. Public funds should serve national welfare, not politics. A developed India must focus on growth, honesty, and equality, ensuring every citizen becomes self-reliant.

“ Public funds should serve national welfare, not politics. A developed India must ensure every citizen becomes self-reliant. ”

Mohd Safder Raza

Bihar

Respected dignitaries and fellow citizens, I am Mohd Safder Raza from Bihar.

Revadi culture has become a disease, weakening our democracy and burdening our economy. Elections should shape the nation's future, but today, they revolve around freebies. States like Punjab, Rajasthan, and Karnataka are drowning in debt due to reckless promises.

Taxpayers' money should be used for jobs, education, healthcare, and infrastructure, not political handouts. Even the Supreme Court has warned against this practice. The youth have always risen to challenges—now, it's time to end this culture and build a self-reliant India. Jai Hind, Jai Bharat!

“ Elections should shape the nation's future, not revolve around freebies that weaken our democracy. ”

STUDENT LEADERS

Medhavi

Respected dignitaries and young leaders, I extend my gratitude to MIT for this platform.

Freebies, or “Revadis”, are political tools used to lure voters. But should our votes be as cheap as loan waivers or free electricity? Instead, investment in infrastructure—expressways, defense corridors, and airports—would benefit the economy and uplift individuals.

India is a youthful powerhouse. Our strength lies in innovation, determination, and courage. Yet, these freebies weaken our workforce and burden our economy. The Supreme Court warns against this fiscal strain. True governance empowers citizens, not traps them in dependency.

Jai Hind, Jai Bharat!

“Freebies burden the economy; true governance invests in progress, not dependency.”

Yash Kishor Chavhan
Maharashtra

Respected dignitaries and fellow citizens, I stand before you to address a crucial question—are freebies a fiscal burden or a necessary support?

The Indian Constitution envisions a welfare state, ensuring necessities for all. When essential services reach the underprivileged, it's called welfare, but when benefits favor the wealthy, it's termed development. This contradiction must be challenged.

While reckless giveaways strain the economy, genuine welfare measures uplift the poor. If misused for electoral gains, freebies become a political trap. The real question is—do they serve the people or just politics?

Stand for principles; let's ensure justice in governance!

“True welfare empowers the needy; selective benefits for the rich shouldn't be labeled as development.”

Revadi Culture: A Fiscal Burden or Necessary Support?

Resolution: The 14th Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad believes that governments must address the socio-economic vulnerability of certain sections of society by enacting necessary public policies in the first four years of their tenure. The final (fifth) year of the government's tenure should not see the announcement and implementation of any new policies

Sanjay Solankhi, Gujarat

Q. Are free electricity and fertilizer truly empowering farmers or are they making Indian agriculture unsustainable?

Answer:

Shri. Pavan Khera: When you repeatedly waive loans for billionaires, do you ask if it's sustainable? But the farmer, who feeds the entire nation, is questioned about subsidies on fertilizers. Isn't it strange? Why are all questions directed at farmers, but never at Ambani or Adani? Who truly has the right over the nation's resources?

Anshika Singh, Rajasthan

Q. Do you feel that excessive freebies lead to inflation in today's economy?

Answer:

Shri. Pavan Khera: I don't see this as freebies; it is a method of wealth redistribution. It helps those left behind in the journey of development—whether due to social exclusion, government policies, or structural inequalities. People don't fall behind solely because of the government; societal structures also play a role. To bring marginalized sections back into the mainstream, government interventions are necessary. These are not mere freebies but essential support systems that enable true upliftment and inclusivity in society.

Student Leader, Maharashtra

Q. Is Revadi culture a harmful bribe, or should India prioritize social security investments over vote-bank politics to ensure self-reliance?

Answer:

Shri. Rabindra Nath Mahato: In our country, those who cannot keep pace are provided essential support by the government to help them balance their lives. This doesn't mean they survive solely on Revadi culture; rather, it offers temporary support to help them move forward. If a mechanism ensures that every individual in society attains prosperity, what's wrong with using it? It is, in fact, a good initiative that fosters inclusivity and progress, ensuring no one is left behind in the development journey.

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

Indrajeet Arge, Maharashtra

Q. Is this culture truly helping the needy or benefiting the greedy instead? Indrajeet Arge, Maharashtra

Answer:

Shri. Rabindra Nath Mahato: This scheme is meant for the truly needy, those who have fallen behind. However, if it is extended to everyone, undeserving individuals may exploit it. To prevent this, the system must be designed efficiently, ensuring that the agency responsible for shortlisting beneficiaries is effective and fair. Only with a well-structured and transparent mechanism can we ensure the success of this scheme and provide support to those who genuinely need it.

Brijesh Shukla, UP

Q. Congress promises to deposit Rs. 8,500 per month in voters' accounts—where will they source the funds to fulfill this commitment? Brijesh Shukla, UP

Answer:

Shri. Pawan Khera: When Congress makes promises in its manifesto, Modi ji calls it Revadi culture, but he doesn't address the BJP's promises in the Delhi elections. Have you ever asked those with a 56-inch chest why they fear China? Questions should be asked of everyone, but primarily, governments should be held accountable, as questioning them is a fundamental duty in democracy.

Good afternoon, everyone. It is an absolute honor to welcome all the thought leaders present here today for this insightful discussion. Today's session focuses on a thought-provoking topic—Indian culture and Western glamour, and the dilemma that today's youth in India experience. The perspectives shared in this session will provide important context, as understanding the real-world implications beyond academic learning is crucial.

On one hand, we have our deep-rooted values and traditions that shape our identity. On the other hand, we are increasingly exposed to an individualistic culture that challenges these traditions. The key question we face is: How do we balance the two? At MIT World Peace University, our continuous effort is to provide students with this balance through meaningful discussions and by inviting esteemed speakers with vast experience. Such interactions help us bridge the gap between traditional values and modern aspirations. I extend a warm welcome to all our distinguished speakers, policymakers, and guests. We look forward to gaining valuable insights from your experiences. Thank you.

“ Our goal is to provide real-world experiences through expert discussions ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSADCHAIRMAN*Shri. Kuldeep Singh PathaniaHon'ble Speaker, Himachal Pradesh
Legislative Assembly

I extend my warm greetings to all esteemed personalities on this stage. It gives me immense pleasure to be here today and engage in a meaningful discussion on the topic – “Indian Culture vs. Western Glamour: The Dilemma of Indian Youth.” This subject is both profound and relevant. India is a land of diverse traditions, languages, and cultures. From the icy peaks of the Himalayas to the warm shores of Kanyakumari, our country embodies unity in diversity. While every region has its customs, language, and traditions, our shared Indian identity unites us.

I am particularly delighted to see today's youth embracing their cultural heritage. Whether it is local art, philosophy, or traditions, young Indians continue to uphold and celebrate their roots. A nation becomes stronger when its youth preserves its cultural identity. While Western influences are inevitable, they should be adopted with wisdom. Embracing global cultures is not wrong, but losing one's own identity in the process is concerning. True progress lies in balancing both. I deeply appreciate MIT-WPU's efforts in fostering this cultural consciousness. I congratulate the institution and its leaders for shaping a generation that values both tradition and modernity. Best wishes to all, and my heartfelt gratitude to the distinguished panel. Thank you!

“ A nation becomes stronger when its youth preserve its cultural identity. ”

Smt. Khushbu Sundar

Renowned Actress & Film Producer

It is an honor to stand before such a vibrant gathering of young minds filled with potential and innovation. We celebrate not only your journey but also the vision that guides us forward. I extend my gratitude to Dr. Vishwanath Karad for his visionary leadership and Dr. Rahul Karad for carrying it forward, shaping this remarkable institution with over 86,000 students. Our nation stands strong due to the perseverance of great leaders and the resilience of its people. The youth are the pillars of our future, and your enthusiasm reassures me that India is on the right path. Coming from a conservative Muslim family, my journey was shaped by my mother's belief in equality and freedom. She encouraged me to dream beyond limitations.

I cherish the unity of my childhood, celebrating Eid, Ganesh Chaturthi, and Diwali together with my neighbors. This inclusivity defines India, and we must uphold it while embracing modernity responsibly. Modernism brings responsibilities, requiring us to know where to draw the line. You are the pillars of tomorrow—embrace progress wisely. While progress is vital, we must retain our cultural roots. Cinema influences youth, but its core message remains—that good always triumphs over evil. I urge young women to take pride in their heritage, as the world admires our traditions. As Hindustanis, let us carry forward our values, unity, and progress with pride.

“A Viksit Bharat is not just a dream anymore—it is a reality and a matter of pride for every Indian.”

Respected dignitaries and fellow youth, I am Isha Thakur from Devbhumi Himachal Pradesh.

India, a land of valor and wisdom, once inspired youth with tales of Rani Lakshmi Bai, Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, and Netaji Bose. Today, however, Western glamour captivates us. We strive to whiten our skin, culture, and education, forgetting our rich heritage.

Indian culture is not a limitation but a definition—our legacy of unity, democracy, and Vasudeva Kutumbakam. Swami Vivekananda urged us to take the best from both worlds and build a new India. Are we ready to embrace this challenge? Jai Hind, Jai Bharat!

“Indian culture is not a limitation but a definition—our heritage of unity, democracy, and wisdom.”

Sahil Ahmad Wagay

Jammu & Kashmir

Respected dignitaries and dear audience, I am Sahil Ahmad Wagay from Government Degree College, Shopian, Jammu & Kashmir.

India, a land of rich heritage and culture, stands at a crossroads. Should we embrace our traditions or be dazzled by Western glamour? As our Prime Minister said, “Our culture is our pride, and modernization is our ambition.”

Western progress brings technology and equality, but abandoning our identity is not the answer. Our Kashmiri Pheran is not just clothing—it's a symbol of heritage. Let's chase dreams while staying rooted in our values. Only then can we inspire the world.

Thank you!

“Our culture is our pride, and modernization is our ambition—progress must not erase identity.”

Bharat, the land of Lord Rama, the Kurukshetra battle, and great minds like Aryabhatta and Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, is our home. We are privileged to inherit a culture rooted in spirituality, music, and traditions. Yet, Western influences through social media, movies, and fashion often overshadow our heritage. While individualism and instant gratification seem appealing, we must not forget the values of harmony and resilience that define us.

Instead of blindly following Western glamour, let us embrace it while staying true to our roots. We can wear a sari and a gown, practice yoga and enjoy a latte. In this globalized world, let our culture thrive without losing its essence. "Janani Janmabhoomischa Swargadapi Gariyasi."

“ We must take pride in our motherland Bharat and its culture, embracing without losing identity. ”

Gunjan Bhandari
Uttar Pradesh

Respected audience,

Today, we face a dilemma—choosing between Indian culture and Western influence. Our roots teach us values, traditions, and emotional bonds. India, a land of wisdom, has scientific knowledge embedded in scriptures—like Hanuman Chalisa, which calculates the Sun-Earth distance. Our heritage honors women, as seen in Lord Krishna protecting Draupadi's dignity.

Yet, the West attracts us with individual freedom and material success. It promotes equality and opportunity but often equates happiness with wealth. The real question is—does materialism bring true joy? Balance is key—embracing progress while preserving our identity. True success lies in wisdom, not just wealth.

“ A nation thrives when it blends its rich heritage with the wisdom of the future. ”

Namaskar!

Indian youth today faces a cultural dilemma—preserving our rich heritage while being drawn to Western glamour. Culture cannot be imported or exported; it evolves through environment, traditions, and values. Globalization has influenced our lifestyle, but we must ensure that modernization doesn't erase our identity. Our IITs, IIMs, and AIIMS graduates shine globally, proving that India is not just developing but redeveloping. While Westerners turn to yoga, Ayurveda, and spirituality, we must cherish our joint family system, festivals, and traditions. True progress lies in balancing modern science with ancient wisdom.

“ India is not a developing country; India is a re-developing country, reclaiming its ancient wisdom and strength. ”

Pahal Teware

Greetings everyone!

Indian youth today stand at a crossroads, choosing between Indian culture and Western glamour. While modernization and liberalization are shaping our society, our roots in Indian tradition remain strong. We see this in Grandmaster Rameshbabu Praggnanandhaa, who proudly wears the Indian tilak on global platforms. Our youth understands the difference between modernization and Westernization, striving to blend progress with tradition. As India heads towards becoming the world's youngest nation by 2030, we must integrate both values for a brighter future. Let us move forward with wisdom, preserving our identity while embracing change.

“ Yes, may the world shine, but it shall shine in the light of our sun. ”

Awarded with Bharat Asmita Jana Pratinidhi Shreshtha Award

Your energy and passion exemplify the strength of our nation. India's future rests on three pillars: Bharat's Planning, Bharat's Capability, and Bharat's Youth. You are the driving force behind our nation's progress. As the youngest MP in 2014 and now the youngest Cabinet Minister, I deeply value youth empowerment. Institutions like MIT and Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad are crucial in nurturing future leaders. This platform unites young minds, fostering democracy and leadership.

My journey in public service began after the loss of my father, Arun Naidu Ji. His legacy inspired me to serve. The people of Srikakulam have supported me in three elections, and I remain committed to their welfare. I extend my gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi Ji and Chief Minister Chandrababu Naidu Garu for their trust in my leadership. Receiving the Bharat Asmita Janpratinidhi Award is a great honor. I urge the youth to step forward—politics needs fresh energy. Our Constitution empowers us; let's use our voices to build a Viksit Bharat by 2047. In Swami Vivekananda's words, "Make one idea your life—think of it, dream of it, live on that idea." Let us dream, act, and build a stronger India. Thank you! Jai Hind!

The Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, initiated by MIT School of Government, empowers young leaders. Aristotle said, "Active citizenship is very important," and today's youth embody this spirit. The DLGP program (Democracy, Leadership, Governance, and Public Policy) equips students for meaningful governance in the world's largest democracy.

Can we reclaim our original name—Bharat? "India," imposed by colonizers, does not reflect our civilizational ethos. We must embrace our indigenous identity in education, research, and governance. The Bharat Asmita philosophy balances modernity with cultural roots. Our independence was earned through resilience. True transformation lies in education, innovation, and governance rooted in our values. I commend the National Legislators' Conference, where MLAs engage directly with students, ensuring democracy thrives through knowledge and leadership.

“ Transforming our society through education, capacity-building, and research is the collective responsibility of all political parties, governments, active citizens, and students. ”

I extend my warm regards to esteemed guests, including Prof. Karad, Smt. Sumitra Tai, Smt. Khushboo Ji, and Dr. Rahul Ji. It is an honor to be at the 14th Student Parliament. Since entering Parliament, I've often reflected on its significance—debate is essential, but dignity must be upheld.

Today's topic—Indian Culture vs. Western Glamour—is not new. Culture is deep-rooted and spiritual, while glamour is superficial. The real dilemma is failing to recognize our cultural strength. From childhood, Western influence shapes our choices—convent schools, foreign education, and fractured families. But later, we realize what was lost—our traditions, values, and connections. Indian culture is like a tree—without strong roots, it withers.

The Ramayana teaches dignity, unity, and respect beyond caste and creed. Lord Ram embraced all without discrimination—why can't we? Despite India's progress under PM Modi, elections still divide us by caste. God didn't create caste—we did. To be Vishwa Guru, we must foster unity, social harmony, and cultural awareness. Read the Ramayana—not just for stories, but for wisdom.

“A nation thrives only when its roots remain strong—without culture, we are like a tree that has withered away.”

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

EMINENT SPEAKER

Smt. Sumitra Mahajan

Padma Bhushan,
Former Speaker, Lok Sabha

I want to highlight two key points. First, we have honored Shri. Ram Mohan Naidu with the Bharat Asmita Award. Some may wonder why such a young leader received this recognition. I knew his father, a brilliant and outspoken parliamentarian. Shri. Ram Mohan Naidu, since 2014, has shown great dedication to public service. The word Puraskar comes from Sanskrit, meaning "to move forward." This award encourages him to contribute even more to the nation's progress.

Second, we must focus on India's future—our youth. India has the largest young population, followed by experienced seniors like me. It is inspiring to see the Chhatra Parishad and NLC Legislative Conference happening together. Mock parliaments in universities help students engage with governance. I urge MLAs to participate or initiate them in their constituencies. These platforms shape responsible future leaders and strengthen democracy.

Assemblies and parliaments are not just places for disruptions but for debate, decision-making, and development. If we want progress, we must work together. These discussions will help us understand young minds and implement positive changes. Take these insights back to your constituencies and work for the nation's betterment.

“Assemblies and Parliaments are not just places for commotion, but for debate, decision-making, and development.”

Centuries ago, Alexander the Great prepared for his conquest of India. Before his departure, his mother advised, "You will find everything in this world, but only in India will you find a saint—bring one back if possible." Despite his wealth, Alexander lacked inner peace. In this spirit, I bow before Professor Dr. Vishwanath Karad Sir, whose World Peace Dome stands as the largest symbol of peace. Its exterior honors philosophers and scholars, while within, saints and sages represent the journey inward—our Swadharma (righteous duty).

Today's discussion—The Dilemma of Indian Youth: Indian Culture vs. Western Glamour—brings me to my key point: Culture vs. Swadharma. Culture is external, whether Indian or Western. Swadharma is an inward journey of truth, joy, and peace. Truth belongs to no single ideology—it is a path to self-discovery. To the youth, I urge you—place your hand on your heart and pledge: "I commit to following my Swadharma from today." (Repeated thrice)

"Lokah Samastah Sukhino Bhavantu"—May all beings be happy and free. With gratitude, I bow before you all. Thank you.

Loktantra Ka Rangmanch:
A Celebration of Democracy & Culture

Loktantra Ka Rangmanch, a vibrant cultural segment of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS), brought democracy to life through artistic expression. This event was a unique blend of creativity and civic engagement, featuring mesmerizing dance performances, soul-stirring musical renditions, and thought-provoking theatrical acts. Each performance was not just entertainment but a medium to convey the essence of democracy, leadership, and social responsibility.

Folk dances showcased the rich diversity of India, symbolizing unity in the midst of varied traditions. Dramas portrayed the struggles and triumphs of great leaders, inspiring the youth to embrace ethical leadership. Melodious songs echoed patriotism and change, igniting a sense of responsibility among the audience. Through these cultural expressions, Loktantra Ka Rangmanch transformed democracy from a mere concept into an emotionally resonant experience.

This initiative aligns seamlessly with the vision of BCS, which aims to awaken young minds and encourage them to actively participate in nation-building. By integrating culture with democratic discourse, BCS ensures that youth engagement goes beyond discussions and finds expression in creative forms. Loktantra Ka Rangmanch thus serves as a bridge between thought and action, reinforcing the idea that democracy is not just about governance but about people's participation, emotions, and collective aspirations. In this way, BCS continues to fulfill its mission of nurturing responsible, aware, and proactive leaders for tomorrow.

It's a pleasure to be here at the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, where we're diving into a topic that affects all of us—AI and social media: a power or a pitfall? In today's world, artificial intelligence is shaping how we connect, communicate, and consume information. This session is a great opportunity to discuss both its potential and the challenges it brings. We're honored to have Shri Thomas A. Sangma, Speaker of the Meghalaya Legislative Assembly, and Shri Rajesh Badal, a seasoned media expert and filmmaker, with us today. Their insights will help us understand how social media can be a force for good while also recognizing the risks it poses. At the heart of it all, one thing is clear—technology is only as good as the way we use it. It's up to us to make AI and social media a tool for progress, not manipulation.

“ Artificial intelligence is shaping how we connect, communicate, and consume information. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSADCHAIRMAN*Shri. Thomas A. Sangma

Hon'ble Speaker, Meghalaya Legislative Assembly

I would like to begin with my sincere gratitude to Dr. Rahul V. Karad for organizing this Capacity Building Program for Legislators. Since its inception in 2011, the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has played a crucial role in strengthening democratic processes in India. Initiatives such as the National Legislators' Conference (NLC) and the National Council of State Legislators (NCSL) have been instrumental in engaging youth in governance and leadership. Artificial Intelligence (AI) has transformed the way we interact with social media. Made communication seamless and empowered global communities. But also presents significant challenges. One of the biggest concerns is the formation of echo chambers, repeated exposure to content that aligns with our existing beliefs, shutting us off from diverse perspectives.

The rapid spread of deep fakes threatens social cohesion and democratic integrity. The fear of job displacement due to AI automation looms large in various sectors. So, how to move forward? Ensure transparency in AI operations, strengthen digital literacy, and implement regulations to protect privacy and curb misinformation. In this digital era, ethical AI governance is essential. With the right balance between innovation and responsibility, we can create a digital ecosystem for informed discourse, inclusivity, and social harmony.

“ AI is a powerful tool—its impact depends not on its existence, but on how responsibly we wield it. ”

Shri. Rajesh Badal

Former Executive Director, Rajya Sabha Television,
Ex-Director Central India, Aaj Tak Documentary & Biopic Film Maker

As I stand before you today, I am profoundly grateful for the opportunity to address such an esteemed gathering. The essence of governance is not merely in wielding power but in fostering a just, inclusive, and progressive society. True leadership is rooted in the service of the people, ensuring that policies are not just drafted but effectively implemented to uplift the most marginalized. Our democracy thrives on the principles of representation, accountability, and participation. However, challenges persist—ranging from economic disparities to political polarization. It is our collective responsibility to bridge these gaps through policies that prioritize education, employment, and social welfare. The youth, in particular, must be empowered to actively engage in the democratic process, as they are the torchbearers of our nation's future. I firmly believe that governance must be adaptable, embracing technological advancements while staying true to our cultural and ethical foundations. The digital era provides an unprecedented opportunity to enhance transparency and efficiency in administration, but it must be harnessed with responsibility and inclusivity. Leadership is not a position of privilege but of duty. Every decision must be guided by the greater good, with the understanding that no progress is meaningful unless it reaches the last person in society.

“ A true leader is not defined by power, but by the lives uplifted through their service. ”

The government first blinds us, then offers spectacles as charity. Today, social media claims to be the voice of the world, but I stand here to expose a different reality. In India, 19% of youth are malnourished, 33% unemployed, and 55% are misled by the shackles of social media, leaving 100% deluded about their country's future. While Manipur burned, media distractions thrived. Millions sleep hungry while billionaires flaunt weddings. It's easy to stream a Diljit Dosanjh concert but exhausting to get a 5kg rice bag after a 5-hour queue. Social media divides us, drawing eyes to Rafah and Bangladesh while ignoring our women's safety.

“Blinded by screens, we overlook hunger; divided by media, we forget justice.”

Greetings everyone!

AI and social media are powerful tools, shaping our world in ways unimaginable decades ago. They connect us globally but also steal our privacy through data harvesting. AI enhances education yet diminishes human skill development. It fuels businesses but bombards us with endless advertisements. We believe we're in control, yet cyberbullying and deep fake threats grow daily. AI prioritizes outrage over understanding, misleading rather than enlightening. While these technologies offer immense potential, we must conquer every pitfall before they truly empower us. Let's wield AI wisely, ensuring it serves humanity, not the other way around. Thank you!

“AI prioritizes outrage over understanding, conflict over consensus, building barriers over bridges, and misleading over enlightening.”

Respected dignitaries and dear friends, I am Bharadwaj from Tamil Nadu.

Can we go a single day without our phones? AI and social media have immense power—500 hours of video are uploaded every second! But are we controlling technology, or is it controlling us? Deepfakes blur reality, social media fuels polarization, and AI influences elections. Yet, it also connects us, creates jobs, and spreads awareness. Like fire, it can cook food or burn a house. The choice is ours.

Think before you share, and fact-check before you believe. Let's be creators of truth, not victims of lies.

“AI and social media are fire; they can cook food or burn a house.”

Gurkiran Kaur
Punjab

Good morning, dignitaries and friends. I am Gurkiran Kaur from CT Group of Institutions, Punjab. AI and social media promise progress, yet they widen gaps. AI creates efficiency but takes jobs, leaving many behind. Social media connects yet isolates, causing anxiety and self-doubt. In rural India, where literacy remains a struggle, AI is a privilege, not a solution.

We, the youth, must ask—are we shaping technology, or is it shaping us? Education and awareness must guide us. Let's not be slaves to our creations but masters of them, using AI and social media for empowerment, not distraction.

Jai Hind!

“AI and social media promise progress, yet they isolate, widen gaps, and threaten livelihoods.”

STUDENT LEADERS

Sujal Sharma

Today, we stand at a turning point where human intelligence meets AI. What began with the mindful creation of the Vedas has now evolved into a world dominated by algorithms and social media. Like modern-day Vishwakarmas, we craft solutions once thought impossible—predicting floods, saving lives, and connecting 4.8 billion people in real time. Social media gives voice to the voiceless, yet we must ask: Are these connections real, or are we trapped in digital maya? As 87% of women face online harassment, let us remember, on the land of Tarabai and Ahilyabai Holkar, that women are warriors—not just on battlefields but in the dark corners of the internet.

“ True empowerment is not just fighting battles on land but conquering the unseen wars of the digital world.”

Saanj Babasaheb Ghuge
Maharashtra

Change is inevitable, but we must not let it control us. I, Saanj Ghuge, warmly welcome all dignitaries and students. In the 21st century, AI and social media have evolved from a want to a necessity. But ask yourselves—are we using our intellect or relying on AI? Are we controlling social media, or is it controlling us? Overuse damages our neurons, reduces intellect, and releases dopamine, leading to addiction. By practicing mindfulness, we can create balance. Remember, we are the creators of AI—let's not lose our creativity. AI and social media can be a sin or a blessing—the choice is yours!

“ Excessive use of AI and social media proves to be a sin or a blessing.”

As a doctor, I came to Pune just to explore, but I was captivated by Rahul Karad's vision. Inspired, I attended all three days of the 7th Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad (BCS) and realized my dual role—as a doctor and a responsible citizen. If you want to be a lawyer, you study LLB; if you want to be a doctor, you study MBBS. But if you aspire to be a political leader, you must attend BCS. I saw how youth in hilly states lack opportunities, which led us to start Himachal Chhatra Sansad. This is where future leaders are born.

After three long days of deliberation, we have now concluded the 14th edition of the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, the largest festival of democracy, which brings together student leaders, political leaders across party lines, policymakers, entrepreneurs, and motivational speakers under one roof. As a result of the tireless efforts of Dr. Rahul Vishwanath Karad, we are here today to celebrate the 14th edition of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad, popularly known as BCS, now rebranded as DLGP.

This unique platform offers you a rare opportunity to listen to and learn from distinguished luminaries on how you can become future leaders of this great nation, India. Over the last three days, we have had some very thought-provoking sessions. Today, we also have the Hon'ble Speaker of Meghalaya Assembly, Shri Thomas Sangma Ji, with us.

As I conclude this welcome speech, let me express Dr. Rahul Vishwanath Karad's vision through this inspiring song:

भारत अपनी आँख का तारा, भारत अपनी आँख का तारा... "तन मन से भी है यह प्यारा, लोकतंत्र है इसकी गरिमा, इसका रक्षण ही है हमारा... भारतीय छात्र संसद, जहाँ उमंगें, जहाँ है धड़कन... युवा शक्ति से जागृत कण-कण, जो भी कमी है हम भर देंगे... जो न हुआ है हम कर देंगे, भारतीय छात्र संसद चला कारवाँ... अब ना रुकेगा, चला है तूफान अब ना थमेगा... ये निश्चय है, ना-ना के सपना, शान विश्व की भारत अपना... भारतीय छात्र संसद!

“ जो न हुआ है हम कर देंगे, भारतीय छात्र संसद चला कारवाँ... अब ना रुकेगा, चला है तूफान अब ना थमेगा! ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

FUTURE ROADMAP & VISION OF BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

Dr. Rahul V. Karad

Executive President, MIT World Peace University & Founder, MIT-SOG, BCS, NLC Bharat

The idea of the Democracy, Leadership, Governance, and Public Policy (DLGP) program under the Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has been successfully conducted this year with great satisfaction. The structured methodology we have developed has been truly inspiring for all associated stakeholders. When it was established in 2005, the MIT School of Government was the first institute in the country to provide formal political training. We believe that educated individuals should enter politics and that good people must participate in governance. In urban centers, there is a belief that politics is a negative space. For the past twenty years, we have been working to change this perception among young people across India. I reiterate this point: whether you are pursuing a degree in engineering, economics, law, or any other field, your true contribution to society depends on your understanding of society. If you fail to comprehend society's needs, then the degree you earn may not serve its full purpose—not for you and certainly not for the greater good. Many people only realize this much later in life. Our efforts focus on developing problem-solving attitudes, fostering inquiry-based learning, and integrating these principles into education.

“ Our goal is to create truly "society-ready" graduates. The purpose and vision of the Bhartiya Chhatra Sansad is to develop innovative methods that academic institutions and state assemblies can adopt to create similar Schools of Government within their frameworks. ”

CONCEPT & THOUGHT OF INDIAN STUDENT PARLIAMENT

Prof. Gopal Wamane

Program Director, Dept. of Economics and Public Policy,
School of Economics and Commerce, MIT World Peace University

This initiative equips students with a deep understanding of parliamentary procedures and democracy. It fosters dialogue, political awareness, problem-solving, and consensus-building while encouraging policy analysis, critical evaluation, and impactful writing. Key features include governance simulation, diverse representation, hands-on learning, and civic engagement, with opportunities for national and international collaborations.

The student government includes a Prime Minister and 53 ministries, comprising 45 Cabinet Ministers, 16 Ministers with Independent Charge, and 54 Ministers of State. Each ministry will have two research Secretaries, totaling 106 positions.

Students with a strong interest in governance must commit 10 hours weekly to this year-long program, which includes 240 representatives.

“ It fosters dialogue, political awareness, problem-solving, and consensus-building while encouraging policy analysis, critical evaluation, and impactful writing. ”

INSPIRING YOUTH, STRENGTHENING DEMOCRACY

14th BHARATIYA CHHATRA SANSAD

CHIEF GUEST

Shri. Dattatreya Bhanre

Hon'ble Minister of Sports, Youth Welfare, Minority Development, and Aukaf, Government of Maharashtra

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Rahul Karad and all the students for inviting me to this unique platform of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad. While listening to Dr. Rahul Karad's speech, I realized the vision behind this initiative and the dedication to supporting it. We all know that youth must enter politics. Some may become doctors, some engineers, and some may pursue various other careers. However, politics is also essential because, through politics, we can serve the people of our country and our state in the best possible way.

I appeal to all students participating in this Chhatra Sansad—you are young, and this country and state have great expectations from you. Through your efforts, we can transform the nation and the state. There are many issues to be addressed, and your dedication will make a significant difference. The country and the state need your youthful energy. I want to convey a message to all students: Never think negatively about your future. If you hesitate or doubt yourself, you will waste your time. The most important thing in life is self-confidence. If you set your mind to something and remain determined, you will achieve it.

“ The most important thing in life is self-confidence. If you set your mind to something and remain determined, you will achieve it. ”

Shri. Prithiviraj Shinde

President of the University Student Council,
MIT World Peace University

Over the past three days, we have witnessed powerful and transformative discussions where ideas converged, solutions emerged, and perspectives evolved. This experience reaffirms that India's youth are not just the future but the changemakers of today.

Before concluding, I extend my deep gratitude to two visionaries who made this platform possible: Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad Sir, whose dedication to education and ethical leadership has shaped MIT World Peace University, and Dr. Rahul V. Karad Sir, whose vision for youth leadership through Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad has empowered us.

“The youth of India are not just the future of this nation—we are the present, the changemakers, and the architects of a better tomorrow.”

Respected dignitaries and dear friends,

Youth is the driving force of any nation. India, the world's largest democracy, holds immense potential with its young population. History proves that every major transformation—social, economic, or cultural—was shaped by youth. Shivaji Maharaj, a young warrior and visionary, exemplified leadership and administration. However, today's youth hesitate to engage in politics, perceiving it as corrupt. This mindset must change. Democracy thrives when young minds contribute actively. Instead of criticizing, we must participate, lead, and reform the system. India's future depends on an awakened, responsible youth. Let's rise, take charge, and shape the India we dream of!

“A nation's destiny is written by the hands of its fearless youth.”

Aarya Basare

Namaskar!

The Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad is not just a stage but a movement, a vision, and a commitment to change. Inspired by Swami Vivekananda's ideals, it empowers youth to participate in public life and shape the nation's future. True democracy thrives when citizens ask questions, challenge governance, and demand accountability. As Atal Bihari Vajpayee said, “Governments will come and go, but democracy must remain eternal.” This platform gives us the strength to question, the wisdom to analyze, and the courage to act. Change begins with you, with me, and with this very stage. Let us rise and lead for a better tomorrow!

“Change begins with you, with me, and with this very stage of Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad.”

देश को आगे ले जाने के लिए युवा शक्ति की जरूरत

पुणे : हमारे देश की असली ताकत युवा है. देश और राज्य को आगे ले जाने की जिम्मेदारी इन युवाओं पर है और इसके लिए देश को युवा शक्ति की जरूरत है. ऐसे विचार राज्य के क्रीडा एवं युवा कल्याण मंत्री दत्तात्रेय भरणे ने व्यक्त किए. भरणे ने युवाओं से अपील की कि जीवन में कंजूस मत बनो, आत्मविश्वास रखो, इच्छाशक्ति के बल पर आप सब कुछ हासिल कर सकते हैं.

‘SM has become battleground for political discourse, misinformation’

STAFF REPORTER

Policy consultant and researcher Sharda Rastogi highlighted India's role in shaping global standards and promoting robust artificial intelligence (AI) during her speech at the 13th edition of Bharatia Chintan Sanad in Delhi.

Speaking at the annual Democracy 2.0 - How AI and social media are changing the world, concrete information, and participate in the democratic process. She discussed the use of powerful technologies and algorithms for micro-targeting specific populations and creating echo chambers, contrary to democratic dialogue.

She reiterated concerns from the ongoing Israel-Hamas war, highlighting the potential malicious use of artificial AI to produce false

10,000 students to gather for Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
PUNE, DECEMBER 13

TO PROMOTE political participation and faith in democracy, around 10,000 politically and socially active students from almost 450 universities will gather for an Indian Student Parliament (Bharatiya Chhatra Sansad/BCS) to be hosted in Pune in January.

The three-day youth conclave from January 10 to 12 will see participation of students, policy makers, politicians and leaders deliberate over various topics like youth leadership, democracy and social media, caste census, women's safety, folklore and culture among other topics.

"These leaders will play a pivotal role in shaping our policies, revitalising our democracy, and bridging the gap between the current state of governance and the way we aspire to be governed," said executive president of MIT World Peace University, Rahul Karad.

पुणे : आमदारांनी संसदारालोक मानसिकता ठेवून मतदारांच्या प्रश्नांवर चर्चा, वाद विवाद आणि निर्णय घ्यावेत. विरोधक आंदोलन करू शकतात आणि सरकारला जबाबदार धरू शकतात. मात्र, त्यांनी हे काम लोकशाहीच्या चौकटीत राहून करणे आवश्यक आहे. सर्वसामान्य नागरिकांचे हित होऊनच असो ठेवून आमदारांनी जनतेसाठी आदर्श ठरवे, असे प्रतिपादन माजी उपराष्ट्रपती एम. वेंकय्या नायडू यांनी मांडले.

PUNE: Venkaiah Naidu, former vice-president of India, advised legislatures to remain loyal to their respective political parties and come together under one party of our "nation" and one group which is "Bharat".

एमआयटी स्कूल ऑफ गव्हर्नमेंट आणि एमआयटी विश्वशास्त्र विद्यापीठातर्फे आयोजित 'नॅशनल लेजिस्लेटर्स कॉन्फरन्स'च्या उद्घाटनावेळी नायडू बोलत होते. कर्नाटक विधान परिषदेचे सभापती बसवराज होराट्टी, उत्तर प्रदेश विधानसभेचे अध्यक्ष सुवीर म्हाणा, एमआयटी विश्वशास्त्र विद्यापीठाचे कार्यकारी अध्यक्ष राहुल कराड या वेळी उपस्थित होते. परिषदत विविध राज्यांच्या विधानसभा आणि विधान परिषदेचे सुमारे २०० सदस्य सहभागी झाले.

PUNE: Former President Pratibha Patil on Sunday urged the youth of the country to join politics and help the sector emerge as an 'honest profession'. Patil said this at the valedictory function of the Indian Student Parliament organised by MIT World Peace University, Students need to see the bright side of politics. We have the youth power that has the potential to script the future of India. Active participation of youth is needed for purification of today's politics," Patil said.

Odisha chief minister Naveen Patnaik was honoured with the ideal chief minister award during the function. "Good governance and selfless public service are pillars of the government. Politics is not complicated. It's the most powerful tool to create a bright future. The youth is always enthusiastic because they have the ability to change a situation. Anyone who keeps the ability to see forward never grows old," he said.

ABOUT MIT SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

“Not all politicians are corrupt. There are more clean politicians. The youth should enter mainstream politics to serve the nation.”

- Dr. Rahul V. Karad

- First of its kind institute in India & Asia for a career in Politics
- 20 years, 450+ alumni in public life
- Two-year Post Graduate degree program in Political Leadership & Government
- Teaching about various aspects of “Government” and “Governance”
- First-year on-campus learning and second-year off-campus training

The School of Government was initiated in 2005, a time when politics was not considered to be a good career option. We strongly believe that educated youth with professional training can make an impact at the societal level by joining politics. Today after engagement of youth in various movements and political issues of the country, we at MIT-SOG have been proven right.

Bringing youth representation into the mainstream of political and social democracy and imparting practical leadership training to prepare them for future leadership, was the commitment behind establishing this unique school in 2005, known as MAEER's MIT School of Government (now MIT-WPU School of Government, MIT-SOG). Apart from Electoral politics, it provides attractive roles in functional politics, as Political Analyst, Political Strategist, Campaign Manager, Election Consultant, Constituency Manager, Policy and Research Associate, PRO, Social media analyst, etc.

This being our 20th year of operation, we are glad to share that we have trained hundreds of youth and are proud to see many of our alumni, holding important positions in public life. We rededicate ourselves to the cause of building a strong political leadership, across levels and political parties. When we at MIT-SOG grow from strength to strength, we know that our political system too benefits, by getting an excellent pool of talent. We wish to strengthen our contribution to our country, in this unique and value-adding fashion each moment.

Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad and Dr. Rahul V. Karad, the moving force and initiators of MIT School of Government, the first school in India & Asia for a career in politics.

ABOUT WORLD PEACE CENTRE (ALANDI)

Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad is the Founder and President of the World Peace Centre. WPC was established on 1st December 1996 as a nongovernmental, voluntary, and non-profit organization. In the year 1998, WPC was awarded the UNESCO Chair for Human Rights, Democracy, Tolerance, and Peace, in recognition of its outstanding work in the area of establishing a Culture of Peace in the world. This is the first such Chair in Asia and only the second in the Asia-Pacific region.

To give shape to his vision, Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad has initiated several national and international level conferences and seminars that carry out humanitarian activities, and encourage physical fitness and sports activities. He facilitates many other programs that foster universal brotherhood and inter-religious and inter-faith dialogue.

Under the aegis of WPC activities like the First Parliament of Science, Religion, and Philosophy were organized in 1996. There are several annual events too such as the Saint Shree Dnyaneshwara and Saint Shree Tukaram Endowment Lecture Series. Projects such as the Environmental Improvement and Pollution Control Project at Alandi and Dehu are aimed at bettering the environment. Transforming Pilgrim Centres into Divine Knowledge Centres, and establishment of Vishwa Shanti Sangh, a citizens' organization involve people wishing to work for establishing a culture of peace. Further organizing the National Conferences on Communal Harmony and constitution of Philosopher Saint Shri Dnyaneshwara World Peace Prize on the lines of the Nobel Peace Prize emphasize WPC's commitment towards establishing a culture of peace.

ABOUT PHILOSOPHER SAINT SHREE DNYANESHWARA WORLD PEACE LIBRARY & WORLD PEACE PRAYER HALL

The brainchild of Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad, the Philosopher Saint Shree Dnyaneshwara World Peace Library & World Peace Prayer Hall is an epitome of architectural magnificence and is a contribution towards the knowledge divine. Conceptualized, designed, planned, and accomplished under the headship of Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad, the monument is sure to make a lasting impression on the world landscape and become a global marvel.

Presently, known to be the largest dome in the world, the remarkable monument has a diameter of 160 feet. With only 24 pillars as the foundation, the structure can accommodate more than 3000 people at any given time.

The dome houses a library that expands across an area of 62500 feet, with a prayer hall above it with 54 statues of revered scholars, saints, scientists, philosophers, and gurus.

The superlative monument envisioned by Prof. Dr. Vishwanath D. Karad conveys to the world the message of peace, divinity, and integrity and depicts the Vedic principle of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' (The world is one family).

ABOUT THE NATIONAL LEGISLATORS' CONFERENCE BHARAT

The National Legislators' Conference Bharat is an avenue for Members of Legislative Assemblies and Members of Legislative Councils across Bharat to gather in one place and exchange ideas. Honorable former Speakers of Lok Sabha and the incumbent Speakers of State Legislative Assemblies came together to institute this conference, the first chapter of which, took place in Mumbai from 15th to 17th June 2023.

In the 3-days conference, the MLAs and MLCs got a unique opportunity to interact with a diverse group of legislators from all States and Union Territories. The first chapter of this conference was conducted keeping cross-learning and enhancement of legislative effectiveness at its core. The legislators acquired experiential learning through thematic discussions along with a mix of thoughtfully curated large-format plenary sessions, parallel brainstorming breakout sessions, a showcase of their state pavilions and best practices, and various other sessions with acclaimed global and national leaders.

NLC Bharat stands as a genuine celebration and mirror of Bharat's dynamic democracy, representing a monumental stride in fortifying our national fabric. This conference marked a historic movement embodying the collective spirit of our elected leaders. NLC Bharat encapsulates the essence of a nation embracing its democratic ethos, reflecting a shared vision for a future where democratic principles thrive, and citizens actively participate in shaping the destiny of Bharat.
